During the month of August, 1960, the department collected $138.30, which represents refunds by former beneficiaries of veterans' benefits who were found to have drawn aid under circumstances which warranted its return to the City of Boston.

PURCHASE AND PAYROLL PROCEDURES TIGHTENED BY DEPUTY MAYOR

The Director of Administrative Services, on September 30, sent the following communication to all department heads:

¶ All requisitions must be processed by the Supervisor of Budgets, Room 50, City Hall, prior to their being processed by the Purchasing Division.

¶ In each case requisitions will be carefully checked by the budget staff to make certain that:

- (a) the purchase is essential
- (b) that it was requested in the budget, and
- (c) that sufficient funds are available in the departmental appropriation.

¶ All unnecessary or unessential purchases or services must be deferred.

¶ Because of the permanent employee appropriation retrenchment at the beginning of the year, it is very important that each department head become cognizant of how much money he will require for the balance of the year for this purpose. If his payroll projection indicates a deficit he should earmark funds in other items within his budget for subsequent reallocation or transfer to cover his deficit. THIS IS ABSOLUTELY IMPERATIVE SINCE THERE WILL BE NO "AVAILABLE SOURCES" FOR TRANSFER THIS YEAR.

¶ For the balance of the year only those vacancies which are vital to the operation of your department will be considered for approval.

¶ Inform me of any anticipated surpluses you will have in your department in order that they may be available for special or other appropriations.

¶ Monday, October 3, 1960, is the final day for submission of the 1961 Budget Estimates.

DR. FRECKLETON ATTENDS NEW MEXICO SYMPOSIUM

Dr. F. Robert Freckleton, Boston's Health Commissioner, was one of the officers attending the Armed Forces Medical Symposium held October 3-7 at Sandia Air Force Base, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

The symposium was especially designed to acquaint selected officers of the Uniformed Services and certain civilian personnel with the medical problems associated with the handling, use, and effects of nuclear weapons. Future medical problems which will arise, due to special weapons, manned space flight, and nuclear accidents with radioactive contamination were also considered. Since Dr. Freckleton is active in local civil defense medical planning, this seminar provided up-to-date information of great value.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

General Order No. 781.

Sergeant John J. Nolan and Patrolmen Myles H. Walsh and Dewey Ricci, Division 15, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 12:05 Thursday, September 22, 1960, while Sergeant Nolan, Patrol Supervisor, with Patrolmen Walsh and Ricci were patrolling in the Sector Car in Main street, Charlestown, they observed the glass smashed in the front door of an ice cream parlor at 85 Main street. The officers jumped from the car, Sergeant Nolan going to the rear of the premises and Patrolmen Walsh and Ricci entering the store through the broken window. On entering the store, the officers were jumped upon by one Thomas Hegarty, 18 years, single, 137 Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, who had been standing on a table partly concealed by a telephone booth. In the ensuing struggle, Hegarty broke free and ran from the store with both officers in pursuit. On hearing the commotion, Sergeant Nolan ran to the front of the store and joined in pursuing Hegarty. The subject ran down Main street to the intersection of Harvard street, where Patrolman Walsh fired one round from his service revolver into the air and Patrolman Ricci fired two shots into the air in order to try to prevent the escape of Hegarty. On hearing the shots, Hegarty slowed up and was seized by the officers, with a struggle ensuing. He was finally subdued by the officers, placed under arrest and taken to Station 15 where he was booked on suspicion of breaking and entering a building in the nighttime.

The store owner was notified and on responding reported 38 cartons of assorted cigarettes taken at a value of $102.50. About 7:30 P.M., Thursday, September 22, 1960, as the result of an anonymous telephone call to Station 15, 218 packages of assorted brands of cigarettes and a peanut vending machine were recovered in a vacant lot in Concord street, Charlestown. The store owner identified the machine, valued at $50, as his and stated he had overlooked it when reporting what had been stolen.

Thomas Hegarty was charged with breaking and entering a building in the nighttime, in Charlestown Court on Friday, September 23, 1960. Judge Mellen continued the case until October 7, 1960.

The subject Hegarty has a long record of juvenile offenses, including larceny and two cases of assault and battery on police officers and in March of 1960 was released from the Industrial Home for Boys in Manchester, New Hampshire, where he had served nine months for breaking and entering and larceny in the nighttime in Derry, New Hampshire.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation and devotion to duty displayed by the arresting officers in this case who, as the result of their alertness, took into custody a young criminal thereby preventing for the time being a continuance of his life of crime.

September 30.

General Order No. 786.

Sergeant George A. Bausch, Detective Edward L. Twohig, Jr., and Patrolmen Patrick R. Hamilton, Thomas E. Carney, and Francis J. Coleman, Division 4, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police service, and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

On Saturday, September 24, 1960, at about 12.50 A.M., Edward Marino, 22 years, married, of 221 Everett street, East Boston, while in the Famous Cafe, 1187 Washington street, Division 4, was shot and killed by an unknown assailant. At the same time Philip Spataro, 35 years, married, of 460 Hanover street, Boston, manager of the cafe, was shot and seriously injured by the same assailant.

Investigation disclosed that the person firing the shots had entered the cafe and producing a small black gun had fired two shots at Edward Marino, both bullets striking him in the abdomen, and when Spataro attempted to halt him from fleeing the cafe, the assailant had shot him in the abdomen. Then, firing another shot in the air and waving the gun in a threatening manner at the patrons, causing them to take cover, the bandit then fled from the cafe in an unknown direction.

Edward Marino was removed to the Boston City Hospital, where upon examination he was pronounced dead on arrival at 1.05 A.M., September 24, 1960. Philip Spataro was also removed to Boston City Hospital, where he is still confined in serious condition.

Sergeant Bausch, Detective Twohig, and Patrolmen Hamilton, Carney, and Coleman responded to the Famous Cafe and conducted an investigation. At the time, the only description of the assailant which the officers had to work on was a partial one furnished by the bartender who was the only witness left at the scene when the officers arrived. They then questioned the waitress, who had been in the rear of the cafe at the time of the shooting and was not an eye witness. When given the description, she recognized him as a former patron of the cafe and was able to furnish the officers with a detailed description. She did not know this man by name, nor where he lived, but remembered seeing him in the cafe previously in the company of another man. The officers, investigating further, located this other man, who, on being questioned, stated he knew the above assailant as Johnny and thought his last name was Johnson. He accompanied the officers to Cobb street where he stated Johnson lived in an apartment, but did not know which one. Investigating several apartments on Cobb street and on Middlesex street, the officers finally located a woman who recognized Johnson from the description given and directed them to a first floor apartment at No. 46 Middlesex street.

The occupant of this apartment refused to open the door to the police, who finally forced it open and at gun point seized one John Johnson, 32 years, married, who steadfastly maintained his innocence of the above crime. A search of the apartment was made and disclosed, found hidden in a closet, a long-sleeved blue shirt with gold stripes down the front, later identified by witnesses as that worn by the assailant. Sergeant Bausch, Detective Twohig, and Patrolmen Hamilton, Carney, and Coleman arrested Johnson without a warrant on suspicion of murder.

Johnson was taken to City Hospital, where Philip Spataro positively identified him as the man who shot both him and Edward Marino. The officers succeeded in locating six other witnesses who had been present in the cafe at the time of the shooting and had witnessed the crime and all made positive identification of Johnson as the man who had committed the shooting in the Famous Cafe. John Johnson's only explanation was that he had been drinking and could not remember what had taken place.

On Monday, September 26, 1960, the officers, on warrants obtained, arraigned John Johnson in Boston Municipal Court on the following charges: murder, in that he did assault by means of firearm with intent to murder, and did murder, one Edward Marino; assault and battery by means of a dangerous weapon, a firearm, on Philip Spataro; having in his possession a firearm without a permit. Judge Roberts continued the above cases until Monday, October 10, 1960, and ordered the defendant John Johnson held without bail.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and perseverance displayed by Sergeant Bausch, Detective Twohig, and Patrolmen Hamilton, Carney, and Coleman in this case. Starting with only a meager description of the criminal, they conducted a prompt and thorough investigation which resulted in the arrest of a man who had shot two men, one fatally.

BIG VALUATION DROP IN MILWAUKEE

Real estate values in the downtown areas and the "inner core" of Milwaukee have dropped 20 million dollars in one year. Thirteen millions of this drop were in downtown area.

That was reported by Thomas A. Byrne, city tax commissioner, who gave figures for the two downtown tax assessment districts and seven other districts on the near north side.

Despite this large decline, Mr. Byrne predicted that total assessed values for the city as a whole would be higher than a year ago.

Mr. Byrne said that the figures for downtown and the inner core, which showed a total decline of $20,008,100, included new construction.

LAUNCH NEW DELINQUENCY PREVENTION BUREAU

Mayor John F. Collins, on October 7, announced that the city's Delinquency Prevention Bureau has completed staff arrangements and is ready for full operation at Pinebank in Jamaica Plain (Telephone MA 4-6400).

The bureau's director, James A. Travers, reported to the Mayor the results of a city-wide survey of police, clergy, youth workers, educators, and civic leaders conducted by personnel loaned to the bureau by the Youth Service Board and the Boston Police Department.

Based on these findings, areas of Roxbury, Jamaica Plain, and South Boston have been selected for intensive work by the newly organized bureau staff.

Working in close cooperation with existing public and private agencies, Director Travers has placed his staff in areas where there will be no overlapping or duplicating of existing programs.

Chief Group Worker

Henry R. Previte of Somerville, a life-long resident of East Boston, has been named as the Chief Group Worker.

Mr. Previte is a graduate of East Boston High, Boston University where he received both a Bachelor's and Master's Degree in Education, and of Boston College where he received a Master's in Social Work. He is a Navy veteran of World War II, married, and the father of two children, and has worked both for Youth Service Board's prevention bureau and for the former Roxbury project, the forerunner of detached work among youths in Boston.

Hired as detached workers, those who will actually be out among the youth the program hopes to reach, are four men and a woman. These are as follows:

Detached Workers

Mrs. Virginia Rivard, of Dorchester, married, and the mother of five children, has been a girls' worker for Dorchester House for three years and for over one year has been director of the Columbia Point Center. A registered nurse by profession, Mrs. Rivard is a Dorchester High School for Girls graduate and has studied at Boston University and Boston College Schools of Social Work. Active on United Community Services Committees.

Clarence J. Jones, of Roxbury, graduate of Brandeis Vocational High School, scholarship graduate of Winston-Salem Teachers College in North Carolina, did graduate work at Boston State Teachers College. Teacher in Boston schools for three years. Worked with youth both at YMCA Clubs and Norfolk House in Roxbury. Army veteran, married, one child.

Jeremiah Sheehan, of Dorchester, graduate of Boston College High School and Holy Cross College. Social worker for year and a half at Concord Reformatory. Marine Corps veteran, married, with two children. Active both as a participant and as a referee in Park Department baseball, football, and basketball leagues.

John F. M. Walsh, of South Boston, graduate of Gate of Heaven High School, attended Boston University, and graduated from Suffolk University. Single, Marine Corps Korean veteran, he has been a physical education instructor for both the Marines and the City Park Department.

Kenneth C. Williams, of Roxbury, graduate of Boston English High School, Boston University, B.S. in Education (Cum Laude), and is currently working on his Master's Degree. Honor graduate of Psychiatric Social Work course in Army. Has been trained in physical education, guidance, and counseling. Previous employment included St. Mark's Social Center, Roxbury. Married.

"Reaching Out"

In addition to the detached workers who will be actually "reaching out" to the teenagers, a part-time social work program designed to give special attention to the chronic problem family will also be instituted by the bureau.

Eugene J. Ryan, of Boston, graduate of Harvard and presently attending Boston College School of Social Work for his Master's, a professional social worker employed by the Catholic Charities of Somerville, has been hired for this position. REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY HAD ITS OWN REORGANIZATION PLAN

The Boston Redevelopment Authority, on October 6, issued the following statement:

¶ The Boston Redevelopment Authority has approved and forwarded to Mayor John F. Collins a proposed reorganization plan designed to carry out an expanded redevelopment and rehabilitation program.

¶ The plan was approved after lengthy study and deliberation and prolonged discussion. It was adopted by a unanimous vote.

¶ Members of the Redevelopment Authority believe that the reorganization plan approved is the only legal and feasible one which can be adopted.

¶ The reorganization plan provides for the creation of four separate divisions under the Redevelopment Authority. The head of each division would be responsible directly to the Authority.

¶ An organization table is attached showing the four divisions and the duties assigned to each division.

¶ Edward J. Logue would be appointed as Director of Project Development. His functions are listed in the attached organization table.

¶ The four Redevelopment Authority members who voted approval of this reorganization plan are: Joseph W. Lund, Chairman; James G. Colbert, Treasurer; Stephen E. McCloskey and Melvin J. Massucco. A fifth member of the Authority, the Rt. Rev. Mgrs. Francis J. Lally, is away from Boston and was not present at the meeting.

¶ Members of the Redevelopment Authority are prepared to put the reorganization into effect as speedily as possible, and a special meeting has been called for next Monday for that purpose.

¶ As an alternative to the four-division reorganization plan, the Redevelopment Authority voted to inform the Mayor of their readiness to work with the proposed new Office of Development to be set up under the Mayor's office "with the objective of carrying forward as expeditiously as possible the program proposed by the Mayor."

The head of each division is to submit a proposed organization table to the Redevelopment Authority as promptly as possible and not later than Wednesday, November 2, 1960. The Executive Director shall include in his table a comptroller who will handle fiscal matters, payrolls, supplies, etc., for all four divisions.

Mayor Deplores Recess Study of Sanatorium Bill

Mayor Collins, on October 7, stated as follows:

¶ I deplore the action of the State Senate in referring the bill to transfer the Boston Sanatorium to the State to a Recess Commission study.

¶ This bill would have saved the City of Boston approximately $700,000 and would have saved the Commonwealth nearly the same amount and eliminated the antiquated facilities at North Reading Hospital.

¶ There was no basis in logic for the defeat of this bill.

¶ The need for a study can be genuinely doubted when Dr. Frechette, the State Commissioner of Public Health, has indicated that he has completed his plan for the Commonwealth's tuberculosis program and strongly recommended the passage of this legislation which the Senate defeated by an overwhelming majority.

¶ The North Reading Hospital has 246 beds and only 80 patients costing the Commonwealth $940,000 a year. These children could be better taken care of at a cost of approximately $200,000 at the Boston Sanatorium. The bill adequately protected the jobs and retirement rights of the Boston Sanatorium and the State employees at North Reading.

¶ The bill ought to have been enacted this year and there is no justifiable need for the postponement.

City Council Votes Extension of Towing Ordinances to Back Bay-Kenmore Area

The Boston City Council, on October 10, voted extension of the towing ordinances to include Beacon Hill, Back Bay, and Kenmore square.

Extension roughly doubles the geographical area covered by two laws. It was passed by the Council on voice vote.

Signed the following day by Mayor Collins the extended towing ordinance calls for the marking of new streets by "Towing Area" signs.

The extended area is bounded on one side by the Charles River and from B. U. Bridge, the towing boundaries will follow the Boston & Albany Railroad line to Massachusetts avenue, Back Bay. From there it will include both sides of the avenue to the New Haven Railroad line near Boston Arena. The area will follow the railroad to the Fort Point Channel-South Station area.

South End, North End, and West End residential districts will remain outside the new towing areas.

Delinquency . . .

A general program of action stresses work in geographic areas of potential delinquency rather than with individuals or gangs. Preliminary studies have been underway for several months.

The Delinquency Prevention Bureau is financed 50 per cent by the state and 50 per cent by the city. The state's participation is through the Youth Service Board.

Briefing Sessions

A three-day briefing session for the new workers was held October 6, 7, 8 at the bureau's headquarters. Among those participating in the briefing session were Dr. Ray Johns, General Secretary, Boston YMCA, and Chairman of the Bureau's Advisory Committee; Campbell Murphy, Director of U.C.S. Duncan Russel Fund-Delinquency Prevention Program; Capt. Paul Sullivan of the Police Crime Prevention Bureau's Juvenile Unit, and Dr. John D. Coughlan, Chairman of the Youth Service Board.

Edward Logue Talks On Urban Renewal In Nationwide Panel

Edward J. Logue, Boston's consultant on urban renewal, said in Pittsburgh, on October 10, that urban affairs are a major issue in the presidential campaign.

"This is the first time in any campaign that the city and its problems have become an important issue," Mr. Logue said.

Mr. Logue was a participant in the Senator John F. Kennedy Conference on Urban Affairs. Some 600 experts from all parts of the country attended.

As a workshop panelist on "Rebuilding Cities—Challenges of the '60's," Mr. Logue listed four important points in the national urban renewal picture:

"Cities need a seat at the presidential cabinet table.

"Unless we establish in cities the same housing mobility for Negroes as for Italians, Jews, and other minority groups, urban renewal will fail and should fail.

"Public housing is a must. It was one of the largest failures of the New Deal, and the public housing program must be reorganized.

"Redevelopment planning is too important to be left to city planning boards. For too long, city planning has been considered a branch of the fine arts and not as a practical municipal necessity."

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

October 6.

General Order No. 52.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

Fire Prevention Week will be observed in the City of Boston from October 9 to 15, 1960, inclusive. Mayor John F. Collins has issued the following statement in connection with the observance of this week.

"Sunday, October 9, marks the start of Fire Prevention Week. At this time of year it is important that the entire citizenry of our city pay particular attention to fire hazards, especially those resulting from heating equipment.

"Servicing and necessary repairs of such equipment should be accomplished without delay in order to assure your own safety, and the safety of your loved ones from the ravages of fire. Fire is not a respecter of persons, but it can and does visit all of our people, whether rich or poor.

"During the past year there were 550,000 home fires in our nation, and as a result 5,500 persons were killed by fire in their own homes. Many of these fires could have been avoided by the exercise of carefulness and good judgment relative to conditions around the home likely to cause fire.

"As your Mayor, it is my earnest plea to you, our citizens, to keep your homes in good order. Be careful of fire hazards and call the Fire Department immediately in the event of fire."

The Boston Fire Department will again emphasize the Fire Prevention Week with a series of activities as follows:

(a) Fire stations shall be open to the public between the hours of 12 noon and 8 P.M. for inspection of the premises and for the conveyance of information concerning the Fire Department functions and fire prevention matters. When citizens come to a station during Fire Prevention Week, the man on house patrol shall summon the commanding officer who should be available and ready to either show the visitors around the station and to answer questions regarding the department, or to have a suitable person assigned to this duty.

(b) Fire prevention literature will be passed out to children by the house patrol, but children will not be allowed to remain in quarters unless accompanied by a responsible adult.

(c) Canvas signs giving notice that Fire Prevention Week is in progress should be displayed from fire stations. Most stations have these signs in their possession from exhibitions of previous years, and it is the responsibility of company officers to see to it that these signs are kept in good condition from year to year. Signs should be displayed from Sunday to Saturday. Signs shall be checked daily by the officer in charge of quarters to assure that they are firmly affixed to the building in a proper manner.

District fire chiefs are directed to take an active interest in fire prevention programs in the following manner:

(a) By making arrangements with the various plants and industrial enterprises within the district to hold fire drills during the week. By grading these drills, as "Good," "Fair," or "Poor," and making a report of same to the Fire Prevention Division, indicating the name of the enterprise, the date of the drill and the grade. Same should be forwarded promptly. These drills should be conducted by a company officer after arrangements are made. At plants where there are special or company fire brigades, particular attention should be given to assignments and/or response procedures. It is requested that the name of the company officer conducting the drill be furnished. It is anticipated that not less than three drills be furnished from each district.

(b) All public and private schools within each district shall be visited by a district fire chief or duly delegated company officer. School fire drills shall be held during Fire Prevention Week in all schools, both public and private. Permission should be obtained for the presentation of a five-minute talk on the subject of fire prevention—such addresses should be free and not read from a printed manuscript. Every effort should be made to speak effectively and emphatically.

The School Department, in cooperation with the Fire Department, is going to distribute "Home Inspection Blanks." Distribution of these blanks shall be by company officers within whose sub-districts the schools are located, and they shall be distributed during Fire Prevention Week. The teachers shall collect the completed blanks from the pupils, and in turn the company officers will collect from the various schools and return these blanks to the Fire Prevention Division with a summary of schools and total numbers collected on or before November 1. Coloring sheets are also being distributed to district fire chiefs and are to be used for children of grades 1 through 4 only.

An essay contest is being conducted in all parochial and public schools in the city for the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades of the grammar schools. The topic is "What Fire Prevention Means to Me," and the essay is to be of one hundred words or less. All officers and members are requested to show an interest in this essay contest and to answer questions concerning it to any student who may request information relative to fire prevention in order to complete his essay.

The district fire chief should compile a list of fraternal, social, civic, and professional organizations within the district and advertise to them the willingness of the Fire Department to provide company officers for the purpose of lecturing on fire prevention at any time. District fire chiefs should make a concerted effort to bring the activities of the department before these organizations and arrange for lectures to be given. The name of any organization so participating should be reported to Fire Prevention Division—specifically, if the organization can be urged to forward on their own stationery a notation of the event, it would be to the greater advantage of the Fire Department.

Throughout the week, all fire fighters are to wear the department uniform going to and from the fire stations, even though they may be driving in their own cars. The uniforms shall be neat and clean and regulation blue shirts and black ties shall be worn in conjunction therewith. Fire fighters are to pay special attention to the observance of fire hazards and to the duty of observing and locating fire hazards along the route followed by them in their coming to and going from daily work. Dilapidated buildings, rubbish accumulations, and other hazards should be reported to the Fire Prevention Division. The public expects uniformed members of the Fire Department to know something about fire prevention work and to have an interest in this subject since they are public employees engaged in this field. Fire fighters, therefore, during Fire Prevention Week should have this subject uppermost in their minds, and they should not pass by a fire hazard at any time without making a note of it for reference to the Fire Prevention Division. In short, every uniformed man in the Fire Department is a fire prevention inspector at all times.

One hundred thousand pamphlets entitled "Fire Public Enemy Number 1" have been delivered to district headquarters and are to be distributed, if possible, to every business concern in the city where several or more people are employed. Preferably, and where conditions permit, they should be placed in the hands of the individual employees.

This work should be accomplished during in-service inspections and also where companies are not below normal strength, each officer shall detail a man from his company to this work in order to complete it as early in the week as possible.

It is intended that each citizen of the City of Boston receive a pamphlet relating to fire prevention during Fire Prevention Week, and the efforts of the entire fighting force are requested in order to assist in this project.

October 6.

General Order No. 53.

FIRE PREVENTION PARADE.

The annual Fire Prevention Parade will be held Sunday afternoon, October 9, 1960, in downtown Boston. All members of the department, off duty Sunday, fire fighters, and members of the branch divisions, are requested to participate and assemble at Boylston street, between Arlington and Berkeley streets, Boston, at 1.30 P.M. It is earnestly requested that every off-duty member who can possibly do so, volunteer to parade with us and assist the department with its fire prevention program.

One member shall be detailed from each engine, engine squad, and ladder company, except the companies participating in the parade. There shall be a company officer from each district in this contingent. District fire chiefs shall arrange for the detailing of company officers. Regulation uniform with sack coat and white gloves shall be worn.

I. LETTER OF APPRECIATION.

The following letter which was received from his Honor, Mayor John F. Collins, is hereby published for the information of the members of this department:

"COMMISSIONER HENRY A. SCAGNOLI,
 Boston Fire Department, 115 South-ampton Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR COMMISSIONER:

On Tuesday, October 4, 1960, Logan Airport suffered its most tragic disaster in its history.

I have been advised that the instant response of all city departments, particularly Fire, Police, and Hospital, was a vital factor in that eleven persons survived this tragedy.

In reference to the Fire Department, it is my understanding that all your East Boston companies and your chiefs, including the chief of department, were on the scene and actively participating in the rescue within minutes after the alarm was received; also, the fact that the newly-created unit of the Boston Fire Department, its skin divers, were on the scene and diving for survivors within ten minutes of the first alarm.

Please extend my personal thanks and the thanks of all the citizens of Boston to the members of your department for another job well done.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

General Order No. 788.

I wish to express my appreciation to members of the department for their unselfish devotion to duty and for their efficiency in the performance of their assignments on the occasion of the recent disastrous plane crash at Logan International Airport.

Their outstanding performance of duty has reflected great credit on the Boston Police Department and is worthy of the highest commendation.

All loans will be issued in Coupon Bond Certificates of $1,000 each, and will be paid on the dates specified for each loan, all with interest payable semi-annually on the first days of May and November in each year, at the office of the Collector-Treasurer, Boston.

In comparing bids, preference will be given to the bidder whose bid provides for the lowest net interest cost to the city. (Total interest for the duration of the loan from November 1, 1960, less the amount of premium bid.)

The bonds will be dated November 1, 1960, and will be ready for delivery on or about December 8, 1960. Delivery of the bonds will be made either in Boston or in New York City at the option of the purchaser. Interest will begin November 1, 1960, and will cease on the dates on which the bonds are payable.

These bonds are exempt from taxation in Massachusetts and from the present Federal Income Tax.

Proposals must be sealed and addressed to James E. Gildea, Collector-Treasurer, City Hall, Boston 8, Mass., endorsed "Proposals for Loan." Each proposal must be accompanied either by the cashier's check or by a certified check in the amount of $42,000 drawn on a Boston or New York City National Bank or Trust Company, the check made payable to the City of Boston, James E. Gildea, Collector-Treasurer. The check of any bidder to whom an award is made will be retained as part payment for the loans awarded. All other checks will be returned.

Accrued interest from November 1, 1960 to date of delivery, is to be paid by the purchaser.

All proposals will be opened in the office of the Collector-Treasurer, Tuesday, October 25, 1960, at 12 o'clock m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time. The Collector-Treasurer reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to accept such bid or bids as may seem to him to be the most advantageous to the City.

MAYOR SAYS SUBURBS CAN'T SWIM IF BOSTON SINKS

During an informal discussion before the Wayland Open Town Forum, on October 18, Mayor Collins called for an era of better feeling between Boston and its suburbs.

Further, the Mayor called for a more realistic understanding between the core city and all of the outlying communities, pointing out that the economic and financial well-being of the city is essential to the metropolitan area.

"Those planning for a renewed Boston must think of the entire metropolitan Boston as a unit in the economic rather than the political sense," the Mayor said. "It is my firm belief that the city must help the suburb remain a desirable attractive place for homes, gardens, and country life, and one way we expect to do this is to keep moving aggressively to rebuild or refurbish the kinds of space necessary to house the suburban breadwinner economically and efficiently during the day. Much of the $90 million redevelopment plan we are trying to inaugurate is designed with this object in mind," he said.

"Rapid transit extensions," the Mayor said, "may provide the best suburban protection against excessive land-takings required to build new highways. A better way must be found to move men and merchandise in, around and out of the whole metropolitan area effectively, before a beautiful metropolis becomes a smelly gasopolis.

"Your taxes will climb rapidly while Boston's will stabilize at a lower rate," Mayor Collins added. He forecast spiraling suburban tax rates may cause some commuters to look with more favor on living in the city.

The Mayor alluded to previous forecasts of the 1970 picture of Routes 128 and the new "outer belt" (Interstate Route 495) squeezing in on the land between. "This squeeze will unquestionably cause widening of east-west arteries and aggravate the land losses your suburbs will feel as you invite more commerce in and feel its impact.

"The Highland Branch 20-cent ride is not only a splendid bargain—it's a steal. We must end the out-of-Boston antagonism to legislative measures such as a more equitable MTA deficit reapportionment which would help Boston." He called payroll taxes on commuters such as Philadelphia levies "regressive—the worst kind." He pointed out that New York City applies 53 special forms of taxes on commuters and travelers, including a municipal sales tax, taximeter drop tax, and hotel room taxes.

Further points brought out by the Mayor were:

¶ While Boston's population declined by 15 per cent (over 100,000) in the last ten years, Boston's suburbia grew by 280,000. Employment trends appear to be following population trends. While Boston lost 15,000 jobs between 1947 and 1957, suburban Boston gained 83,000. We know that one out of every five jobs in the metropolitan area is still found in Boston. I do not intend to let this ratio change. All this indicates to leaders of the core city, as they look at suburbia, that the facilities, services, and even entertainments of the core city are as vital as they are magnetic. We can only speculate on what magnetism they would have if their cost were not met by all the users.

¶ It is high time we of the city and you of the suburbs recognize and face up to some basic questions which confront all of us and decide if and how they might be answered. If you are as devoted to preserving the green belts, the park lands, the water table and low-density housing that go with country living in the suburbs, as I am in rebuilding and conserving the values that characterize a dynamic

MAYOR ORDERS SUNDAY CREWS ASSIGNED TO RID DOWNTOWN OF WEEK-END LITTER

An all-out campaign to clean up Boston streets has been ordered by Mayor Collins.

"I want the downtown streets cleared of litter and I don't care if we have to work seven days a week to do it," he declared on October 17.

Orders to that effect, including the seven-day work week, were given to Public Works Commissioner James W. Haley after a conference with the Mayor.

The Mayor's decision was reached Sunday afternoon after he took advantage of the light city traffic and cruised the downtown highways for three hours in his official automobile.

"Sunday is the best day for riding around the city," the Mayor explained, "because you can see a whole lot more than you can on weekdays."

"Oddly enough," the Mayor said, "the market area around Faneuil Hall, where one would expect to find the most debris, was clear of litter and sparkling bright." The dirtiest areas, he said, were Tremont and Washington streets where the theater crowds had tossed away their empty cigarette packages and gum wrappers.

"The only way to get around this cleaning matter," the Mayor continued, "is to have men work Sundays."

The Mayor said he had made the week-end work suggestion to Commissioner Haley and the latter is now trying to determine whether it can be put into effect.

The Mayor suggested that the D.P.W. crews be given a 10 per cent incentive bonus for working week ends (as part of their regular five-day work week) and that the assignments be staggered.

One group would be assigned to the task this week, another next week, and a third the following week, under the Mayor's suggested plan.

tion in writing. Deduction authorization cards are available, and upon completion by employees they are to be sent to the Auditing Department Payroll Division. There are no limits to the amount of the deduction. Any authorization may be withdrawn by an employee by giving at least sixty days' written notice to his department head, and all authorizations will be considered to be applicable only to the 1960 campaign.

¶ Deductions for United Fund contributions will be made only four times a year, in those weeks in which there will be no Blue Cross-Blue Shield deduction, and will appear in the payroll column for this deduction. The United Fund deductions will be applied on the payrolls for the weeks ending—

November 29, 1960
January 31, 1961
May 30, 1961
October 31, 1961

Payroll supervisors will be furnished a list of those employees who have signed authorization cards together with the amount of the deduction, and payroll changes will be made in these designated weeks.

¶ Because of payroll space limits, United Fund deductions cannot be applied on monthly payrolls.

city, then I think we must agree to work together and plan the resolution of some of our problems. What can both the city and suburbs do for each other which will help each to retain the characteristics they are supposed to have? There is a real danger that failure to address this question vigorously now will lead to economic smallpox locally and increased comparative economic disadvantage nationally.

VETERAN'S WIDOW ALLOWANCE

The Mayor has approved a veteran's widow allowance for Ann M. Pattison, 122 East Side Parkway, Newton, whose husband, Samuel J. Pattison, died August 5, 1960.

At the time of his death Mr. Pattison was employed as senior civil engineer in the Highway Division of the Public Works Department of the City of Boston.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 791.

Detectives Leland J. Miranda and Edward T. Patterson, Special Service Squad, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty, and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 12.09 A.M., September 22, 1960, Detectives Miranda and Patterson answered a radio call reporting a holdup at the Metropolitan Transit Authority Symphony Subway Station, Massachusetts and Huntington avenues.

Obtaining a description of the holdup man, they immediately began to cruise the adjacent streets and alleys in search of him. When at the Carter Playground, Columbus avenue and Camden street, they observed, running from the playground, a man answering the description of the wanted subject. Immediately giving chase, the detectives apprehended one Charles W. Bell, 19 years, single, of 16 Moreland street, Roxbury, and after a brief struggle, found on his person a .32 caliber automatic pistol and $64 in Metropolitan Transit Authority tokens in a money bag. Bell was disarmed by the officers and admitted having just robbed Margaret A. Jesso, cashier at the Symphony Station, of the Metropolitan Transit Authority tokens at gunpoint, after threatening to shoot her if she did not hand over the bag containing the tokens. Bell had also threatened to shoot Joseph Couture, the starter on duty there, if he did not get out of his way.

Charles W. Bell was taken to Police Headquarters where he was positively identified as the holdup man by Margaret Jesso and Joseph Couture. He was fingerprinted, photographed, and held for the line-up.

On September 22, 1960, Bell was arraigned in the Roxbury District Court before Judge Phillip Tracey on the following charges: armed robbery of Margaret A. Jesso; assault with dangerous weapon on Joseph Couture; carrying a firearm without a license. After hearing the evidence, Judge Tracey found probable cause and held Charles W. Bell for the grand jury and set bail at $10,000.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the effective and prompt police work of Detectives Miranda and Patterson in their apprehension and disarming of this bandit moments after he had committed an armed robbery.

DEAR COMMISSIONER SULLIVAN:

Receiving your contributions totaling $6,818.80 resulting from the efforts of the members of the Boston Police Department has given all of us who are deeply concerned with research for helping children afflicted with cancer, new inspiration.

I assure you every member of our staff and parents of our children share my feelings of gratitude. I know of your visit with Superintendent Francis Hennessy at the Jimmy Fund Hospital and also your interest expressed at the first meeting of this year's Jimmy Fund Drive. I also know the efforts put forth by individual members of your department. Because I am aware of this, I am all the more grateful.

Please let me express officially and personally to you and Superintendent Hennessy and through you to the officers and members of your staff our deepest appreciation and heartfelt thanks.

With kindest regards, I am

Gratefully,

About 1.30 A.M., September 23, 1960, Detectives Moar and Cunningham, as the result of information received that a man had been beaten and robbed in the Public Garden near Arlington street, went to that location. When in front of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel they were met by one Richard W. Godin, 22 years, resident of Rhode Island, who stated that a short time earlier, after visiting friends, he entered the Public Garden from Beacon street on his way to the Greyhound Bus Terminal, St. James avenue. When in the Public Garden, opposite the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, he was approached by a man whom he described as 25 years, 5 feet 11 inches, 160 pounds, dark hair, glasses, dark coat and pants, white shirt and dark tie, who stated to him that he was taking a chance, walking through the Public Garden at that time of night. While Godin was engaged in conversation with this unknown man, a second man approached Godin from the rear, grabbed him around the neck and threw him to the ground, then both men beat him about the body, searched his pockets and took from him $23 in U. S. currency. After taking his money, they kicked him in the face and then fled from the Public Garden with three other men.

The victim was taken in the police vehicle by Detectives Cunningham and Moar and a search was made of the area. When on Charles street near Chestnut, Godin pointed out four men as those who had assaulted and robbed him. The detectives arrested the four men, Richard P. Arnold, 21 years, single, 38 Grove street; Timothy J. Lush, 22 years, single, 63 Marlboro street; Donald F. Finnigan, 27 years, married, 47 Louis street; and Robert O. Finnigan, 21 years, married, 47 Louis street, all of Chelsea, Mass. The prisoners were identified by the victim.

On September 23, 1960, the defendants were arraigned in Boston Municipal Court before Justice Francis Morrissey and held for the grand jury in bail of $5,000 each. A warrant was procured for the arrest of one Anthony Stec, the fifth member of the gang. Justice Morrissey lauded the officers in open court for their effective police work in the above case.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the effective and timely police work of Detectives Cunningham and Moar in apprehending these four criminals moments after they had committed a vicious assault and robbery.

General Order No. 794.

Patrolmen William P. Fenerty and Francis Sheehan, Division 4, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty, and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 1.20 A.M., on Sunday, September 25, 1960, at the corner of Massachusetts and Columbus avenues, James J. Karalekas, 22 years, of Watertown.

Mass., reported to members of the Special Service Squad that about five minutes earlier, while in the vicinity of Rutland and Tremont streets, a man had struck him in the face and knocked him to the ground, then kicked him and demanded his money, threatening to kill him, at which time the victim turned over his wallet containing ten $10 bills. The man then fled the scene in a 1946-1948 green Plymouth sedan, Mass. Reg. U49....., last part of number unknown. The victim described his assailant and stated that he was armed with a knife. The officers notified Headquarters by radio and teletype was issued at 1.34 A.M.

At about 3.40 A.M., cruising their sector in radio car, Patrolmen Fenerty and Sheehan suddenly observed the above-described sedan operating in Washington street. They attempted to stop and question the driver who, on observing them, drove off at a high rate of speed. Pursuing the vehicle, the officers finally overtook it at the corner of Tremont and Upton streets, where they forced it to a stop. Arrested at gun point were the drivers, one Philip D. Vokey, 28 years, married, of 168 West Canton street, city, and a passenger, one Howard Arnold, on suspicion of armed robbery. The prisoners were brought to Station 4, where Philip D. Vokey was identified by Karalekas as the man who had assaulted and robbed him, after which the victim was taken to Boston City Hospital where he was treated for question of a fractured nose and released.

In further investigation, a thorough search was made at the home of Philip D. Vokey in an attempt to find the stolen money and finally found in a clothes closet, hidden under an over-night bag, was the hundred dollars in ten-dollar bills.

Subsequent investigation disclosed that Howard Arnold, the passenger in the Plymouth sedan, was a victim of circumstances, having accepted a ride offer from Vokey, and was not involved in any way with the robbery. He was released from custody after signing the usual waiver.

On Monday, September 26, 1960, Philip D. Vokey was arraigned on a warrant in Boston Municipal Court, charged with the armed robbery of James J. Karalekas, and was held for the grand jury in $25,000 bail.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and keen observation of Patrolmen Fenerty and Sheehan, which resulted in the prompt apprehension of a dangerous felon a short time after the commission of an armed robbery.

General Order No. 795.

Patrolmen Henry M. Chapman, Jr., and Clifford R. Stronach, Division 13, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty, and each is granted three days additional vacation.

At about 4.04 A.M. on Friday, October 7, 1960, one Alexander J. Nolan, a taxicab driver, reported at Station 9 that he had been held up and robbed by two men twenty minutes earlier, in Ray street. He stated that he had taken them as fares at Guild Row and Washington street and they requested to be taken to Circuit street. On arrival there, he was told to take a right into Ray street and drive to the last house on the street. When he stopped one man put a knife against his neck and said, "Give me all your money." He handed over all his money, about $15, mostly in silver, with one silver dollar, and he was then ordered out of his cab. The two bandits then ran up Ray street in the direction of Washington street. The descriptions which he gave were telephoned to Central Complaints and teletype was issued at 4.17 A.M.

Patrolmen Chapman and Stronach, cruising in a Division 13 wagon in Morton street, near Forest Hills, at about 4.15 A.M., heard a radio message being despatched for a car on Division 9 to investigate two men answering the above radioed descriptions, who were standing at the corner of Washington and Dale streets trying to hail a cab. The patrolmen immediately proceeded in the wagon along Washington street toward Eggleston square, for the purpose of intercepting any cab coming from that direction. When approaching Ernie's Diner, 3615 Washington street, Jamaica Plain, they observed a cab pulling away from the curb and the two men described heading for the diner. The cab driver informed the officers that he had just picked them up at the location indicated in the radio message.

Arrested by Patrolmen Chapman and Stronach, without warrants, on suspicion of robbery of a taxi driver on Ray street, were John J. Manning, 23 years, 12 Oakland street, Roxbury, and Frederick Boyd, 38 years, 5 Corliss street, Roxbury. The officers notified the dispatcher of the arrests and took the prisoners to Station 9. Here they were identified as his assailants by Alexander Nolan, still at the station making his report. At the time of arrest Frederick Boyd had in his possession one silver dollar, five one-dollar bills, and $3.02 in change. John J. Manning had three one-dollar bills and $1.55 in change. The switch blade knife used in the holdup was later found by Patrolman Stronach about twenty-five feet from the front door of Ernie's Diner, where it had been thrown before the arrest. The second cab driver identified the two prisoners as the men he picked up at Dale and Washington streets and drove to the vicinity of Ernie's Diner.

In Roxbury Court, on Monday, October 10, 1960, John J. Manning was arraigned on three counts of assault and armed robbery and illegal possession of a switch blade knife. Frederick Boyd was also arraigned on charges of assault and armed robbery. Judge Charles I. Taylor, presiding, found probable cause on all counts and held both defendants for the grand jury in the sum of $20,000 surety.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty of Patrolmen Henry M. Chapman, Jr., and Clifford R. Stronach who, by their alertness and initiative, effected the prompt arrest of two felons.

October 14.

General Order No. 796.

Detectives Alan J. Crisp, Charles W. Miller, Jr., and John T. Carter, Robbery Squad, Superintendent's Office, and Patrolmen Edward W. O'Connor and Robert G. Malley, Division 16, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days additional vacation.

Shortly before nine o'clock on the morning of Friday, September 9, 1960, on her way to a nearby bank with a $1,500 deposit being carried in a paper bag and when in front of 364 Massachusetts avenue, Miss Gertrude Cassell, employee of the Uptown Spa, was accosted by two men, later identified as Raymond Barton, 20 years, married, of 14 Yarmouth street, city, and Edward R. Griffin, 34 years, married, 23 Regent street, Roxbury. Barton snatched the paper bag, causing it to drop from the woman's hands, then taking part of the money which had spilled from the bag, fled down Massachusetts avenue toward St. Botolph street. Griffin grabbed the bag and remainder of the money and fled in the same direction.

At about 9.03 A.M., responding to a radio alarm covering the above larceny on Division 16, Detectives Crisp, Miller, and Carter, in a Robbery Squad car, proceeded to the footbridge at Rutland square to head off the wanted men. They observed coming over the footbridge a man whom they had previously arrested and who answered one of the radioed descriptions. The subject, Barton, upon seeing the detectives, ran back over the bridge to Durham street. Detective Carter called the dispatcher by car radio and notified him of the direction taken by the thief and Detectives Crisp and Miller pursued him over the footbridge. Detective Crisp discharging his service revolver and calling to the felon to stop, thus alerting other officers who might be in the area. Pursued by the three detectives, the suspect turned left into St. Botolph street and here he was boxed in by the approach of Patrolmen O'Connor and Malley in the 16-A car. Patrolman O'Connor at this time fired a warning shot from his service revolver.

When arrested, Barton named the above Edward R. Griffin as his accomplice, and he was taken into custody by officers of Division 16 at one o'clock the

East Boston Zone Change Denied

The Board of Zoning Adjustment, on October 14, issued the following notice of decision:

Notice is hereby given that an ORDER has been filed by the Board of Zoning Adjustment in the office of the Building Commissioner of the City of Boston DENYING the petition of James A. Doherty (No. 458).

To change the existing R-40 (Residential, 40 feet in height) zone on the northerly side of Saratoga street, between Shawsheen road and the boundary line of the City of Boston and the Town of Winthrop in East Boston in a northerly direction, so as to include property now zoned as R-40 (Residential, 40 feet in height) to a L-40 (Local Business to a height of 40 feet) zone and bounded as follows:

On the north by the existing I-80 (Industrial 80 feet in height) zone boundary which is a line 430 feet north of and parallel to the north sideline of Saratoga street; on the east by the boundary line between the City of Boston and the Town of Winthrop; on the southeast by the existing L-40 (Local Business 40 feet in height) zone boundary which is a line 140 feet northwest and parallel to the north sideline of Saratoga street; on the south by the sideline of Saratoga street; on the southwest by the existing L-40 (Local Business 40 feet in height) zone boundary which is a line 150 feet north of and parallel to the north sideline of Saratoga street and a line which is 150 feet east of and parallel to the east sideline of Shawsheen road; on the west by the center line of Shawsheen road; with regard to which a public hearing was held on September 14, 1960, following advertisement and notice as prescribed in section 20, chapter 488 of the Acts of 1924 and amendments thereto, the Board being of the opinion after hearing all the evidence in the case that the petitioner did not advance sufficient reasons within the principles laid down by the statute for changing the zoning lines in this particular locality.

A complete record of proceedings has been filed in the office of the Building Commissioner and is open for public inspection.

MARY T. DOWNEY, Secretary.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT. Purchasing Division.

Fire Alarm Equipment

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of requisitions from the Fire Department for Gamewell fire alarm equipment. Informal written quotations have been received from the Gamewell Company who is the manufacturer of the equipment requested.

Inasmuch as the Gamewell Company is the manufacturer and only source of supply of the equipment requested, authority is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for prices and award a contract, without public advertisement, to the Gamewell Company. In this way, it is my opinion that the best interests of the city will be served.

Approximate total amount of contract will be $5,475, net, thirty days.

Respectfully yours,

MICHAEL A. DESIMONE,
Purchasing Agent.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT. Space Rental

DEAR SIR:

Since 1949 this department has rented space in the golf building at the Franklin Park Golf Course to Mr. John P. Burke, 22 Myrtle street, Jamaica Plain, for a tonic vending machine. Mr. Burke pays an annual rental of $100 for the space allotted to him for the machine.

This refreshment service is greatly appreciated by golfers at the Franklin Park course. It has always been conducted in a satisfactory manner by Mr. Burke, who also conducts the refreshment dispensing business in the Rectory Building at Franklin Park.

I believe nothing would be gained by publicly advertising for bids on this small concession and I therefore respectfully request your permission to award another lease, without publicly advertising for bids, to Mr. John P. Burke, 22 Myrtle street, Jamaica Plain, for space in the golf building at Franklin Park for a tonic vending machine, for a period of five years, from October 1, 1960, to September 30, 1965, at an annual rental of $100 during the term of the lease.

Respectfully yours,

MARTIN F. WALSH, Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT. Street Repairs

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Contracts for street construction and reconstruction in this department include a maintenance guarantee by the contractor to keep the pavement in good repair for a period of five years.

One of the provisions of this guarantee stipulates that all openings made in the roadway or sidewalk by the city or private permittees shall be repaired by the contractor holding the guarantee. This guarantee also stipulates that payment for these repairs shall be made on the basis of rates established by the Commissioner of Public Works in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of chapter 27 of the Revised Ordinances of 1947.

The cost of this work in some instances will be more than $1,000, necessitating, under the provisions of the City Charter, written contracts with the firms that hold these guarantees.

In accordance with outstanding contracts, the John J. Amara & Sons Company is now obliged to repair openings in streets under their guarantee at a total cost not to exceed $3,446, and I respectfully request the authority of your Honor to dispense with advertising and award a contract to the John J. Amara & Sons Company for this amount.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Contracts for street construction and reconstruction in this department include a maintenance guarantee by the contractor to keep the pavement in good repair for a period of five (5) years.

One of the provisions of this guarantee stipulates that all openings made in the roadway or sidewalk by the city or private permittees shall be repaired by the contractor holding the guarantee. This guarantee also stipulates that payment for these repairs shall be made on the basis of rates established by the Commissioner of Public Works in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of chapter 27 of the Revised Ordinances of 1947.

In accordance with outstanding contracts, the S. J. Tomasello Company is now obliged to repair openings in streets under their guarantee at a total estimated cost of $12,855, and I respectfully request the authority of your Honor to dispense with advertising and award a contract to the S. J. Tomasello Company for this amount.

Respectfully,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT. Elevator Repairs

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On July 7, 1960, at approximately 5.03 P.M., an elevator on the Beacon Street side of the old, so-called Houghton & Dutton Building, loaded with employees of the federal agencies occupying the building, fell one floor to the bottom and caused injuries to many of the occupants. One employee is known to have been hospitalized, others injured, but no further detailed reports of the injuries incurred are on file at this time.

As a result of this and other complaints and after discussion with the chief elevator inspector of the city, I initiated a complete elevator inspection which involved twenty elevators. Consolidated Elevator Company, Inc., a highly reputable concern engaged in this type of work, was retained and, as a result, submitted to us general recommendations for more efficient elevator service. This inspection was made in the company of the chief elevator inspector.

In regard to elevator No. 17, an emergency situation exists and this department has been served with a formal complaint in accordance with elevator and escalator regulations, General Laws, chapter 143, for forthwith removal. The elevator, in question is hanging at the top of the shaft and there is immediate danger of its falling. This car is very unsafe and dangerous and must be removed immediately. Government maintenance employees are required to enter the shaft in order to make wiring and electrical repairs. If the elevator were to give way at such a time it would cause fatal injuries to the employee or employees in the shaft at such a time. Existing regulations governing such matters require employment of an accredited elevator company for removal of the elevator and its controls.

In view of the above, I recommend that the services of the Consolidated Elevator Company, Inc., of 49 Melcher street, Boston, Mass., be retained to remove passenger elevator No. 17, remove car, counterweights, cables, compensating chains, traveling cable, and all wiring and piping, for the sum of four thousand, nine hundred and sixty dollars ($4,960).

I believe that the best interests of the city will be served by awarding a contract to the Consolidated Elevator Company, Inc., and to dispense with public advertising because of the emergencies involved. Funds are available in Item 7, Structures & Improvements, to cover this expenditure.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES J. SULLIVAN, JR.,
Commissioner of Real Property.

REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY CONSIDERS 10 AREA PLANNING APPLICATIONS PRELIMINARY TO REQUEST FOR FEDERAL FUNDS

Edward J. Logue, on October 26, formally accepted the invitation of the Boston Redevelopment Authority to become administrative head of its staff organization for a trial period of 90 days. In that connection, Mr. Logue stated as follows:

Mr. Logue's Acceptance

"This morning I informed the Boston Redevelopment Authority that I would accept with enthusiasm the office which they extended me last week.

"I am deeply grateful to them for their confidence and their spirit of cooperation. I am confident that in the next 90 days we will work together well and that our relationship will be an enduring one.

"The Mayor, the Authority, and the people of this city have demonstrated that they are indeed serious and determined to begin the restoration of this wonderful old city. I am prepared to help in whatever way I can and I am eager to get on with the job."

First Official Act

As his first official act, Mr. Logue presented to the Redevelopment Authority applications for federal funds to cover surveys and plans for 10 separate areas of Boston. These areas were labeled:

Charlestown, East Boston, South Boston, Roxbury North, Dorchester, Jamaica Plain, Parker Hill-Fenway, South End, Back Bay, downtown Boston and downtown North End.

These applications were taken under consideration by the Authority and, if approved, they will be submitted to the Mayor and City Council before being sent to Washington for federal approval.

Mayor's Comment

Mr. Logue's acceptance of the post as administrative head of his $90 million development program for Boston brought the following comment from Mayor Collins:

"The way is now cleared for an early start on the revitalization of Boston and the rehabilitation of its residential areas. I am pleased that the reorganization problems have been resolved. I look forward to the full cooperation of all officials and the citizens of Boston to make our city one of the most vibrant and exciting municipalities in the world."

Planning and survey costs for the 10 areas involved in the federal applications are estimated to total $4.6 million. General renewal or rehabilitation requirements of all the 10 areas involved are outlined in the Mayor's $90 million development program announced on September 22. (See City Record issue of September 24, 1960.)

City Council President Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr., endorsed the program as outlined and pledged that there will be "no undue delay" when it comes before that Body.

Councillor William J. Foley, chairman of the Council's committee on urban renewal, stated that if the matter is referred to his committee he will schedule public hearings so that the people in the various districts involved may have the opportunity to express their feelings on the proposals as they affect local neighborhoods.

MAYOR ORDERS ALL-OUT FALL CLEANUP DRIVE

Mayor John F. Collins, on October 24, ordered his Citizen Relations Division to direct the city's fall cleanup drive. The Mayor said this unit of his own office will have the responsibility of coordinating the cleanup drive between all city departments as well as community organizations in Boston.

Drive Already Started

The fall cleanup started that same day with a concentrated street-sweeping drive by the Public Works Department.

"A successful campaign," the Mayor said, "will depend largely on the cooperation of every citizen in Boston. Streets cannot be effectively swept unless the people obey the 'no parking' signs which will be posted by Public Works."

Community organizations throughout the city will join the drive by alerting all residents in their communities of the days when their streets are to be swept. Community leaders have indicated that leaflets, posters, telephone calls, and house-to-house visits will be made in an all-out effort to get maximum citizen cooperation.

Departments Cooperate

The Police Department has also assured the Mayor of its cooperation by towing illegally parked cars. In areas where towing laws do not apply police sound cars will be used to keep drivers from parking on streets scheduled to be swept.

Sweeping Schedules

Public Works Commissioner James Haley announced the following street sweeping schedule:

October 24-29, South End and the Fenway.

October 31-November 4, North End, Parker Hill and Mission Hill, West End and Beacon Hill.

November 7-11, Roxbury and Back Bay.

November 14-18, Charlestown and Roxbury.

November 21-23, Roxbury and East Boston.

Commissioner Haley added that concurrent street sweeping will be done in all other sections of the city.

FAME COMES, POSTHUMOUSLY, TO AN L STREET BROWNIE

Currently, in Boston, Maurice Prendergast is the most talked about artist although he has been dead for 36 years. The Boston Museum of Fine Arts opened a five-week exhibition of his works October 27.

Among Prendergast's paintings and water colors are many scenes of Boston in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. This exhibit enriched the city's historical records permitting many familiar landmarks of a bygone era, as colorfully depicted by Prendergast, to be reproduced from private collections and preserved for future public reference and use.

For example, "South Boston Pier (1898)" depicts a popular municipal facility familiar to all Bostonians at the turn of the century and still remembered by older generation Bostonians by the thousands. By taking position at the end of the pier, Prendergast caught the sweeping curve of the structures and the picturesque South Boston shoreline beyond. He enlivened the foreground with men, women, and children dressed in the style of the period. (See cover.)

The artist himself is the object of interest and discussion in the best informed circles of the present-day art world.

In the foreword to the catalogue of Prendergast's works, Perry T. Rathbone, director of the Museum of Fine Arts, has this to say: "In the historical development of modern art this lonely citizen of Boston has a significance which has yet to be recognized. He was the harbinger for America of the revolutionary course of painting in the twentieth century."

Boston was the home of Maurice Prendergast for all but twelve years of his life.

Born in St. John's, Newfoundland, of an Irish father and a Boston-born mother of French Huguenot descent, Maurice Prendergast moved here with his entire family when he was twelve years of age. They lived in the South End. With his brother, Charles, Maurice attended the Rice School, but the formal education of both boys ended when they reached 14 years of age.

The Prendergast brothers, during most of their lifetimes, supported themselves by carving picture frames to set off the work of more fortunate artists who were then basking in public favor.

Maurice Prendergast was a serious artist. The critics of his time scorned his particular style, although many Bostonians purchased his pictures and encouraged him in his work.

In 1886 Prendergast, at the age of 20, worked his way over to England on a cattle boat. He spent a short time in Paris. On five subsequent journeys to Europe he studied and worked for various periods in Rome, Naples, Venice, St. Malo, Dieppe and other art centers. The current exhibit of his works clearly indicates prodigious application to his art during his European sojourns.

Back home in Boston he continued to support himself mainly by operating a picture frame carving shop with his brother.

Prendergast was an L Street Brownie. Here is what Hedley Howell Rhys, a biographer, says in this regard:

"Without consulting a doctor, he undertook a self-devised program of physical conditioning in the hope that better general health would improve his hearing. It involved sun bathing and swimming at L Street beach in South Boston, no matter what the weather. In 1905, when he was forty-six, he swam there as early as March and as late as November. His hearing did not improve."

In 1914 he moved to New York and came back to New England to paint every summer until 1922. He died in New York February 1, 1924, at the age of 65.

SEPTEMBER WELFARE COSTS UP 5.3 PER CENT

Following is a summary of the September, 1960, report of the Welfare Department:

¶ An increase in expenditures for medical care, combined with winter fuel allowances, resulted in an increase of Public Assistance payments for September. Actually, the cost climbed to $3,314,512, an increase of $167,151 or 5.3 per cent. There were 21,495 medical payments processed as compared to an average of 18,000 monthly. Fuel allowances became effective for more than 5,100 cases which received an additional $17.70 in most instances.

¶ The caseload dropped 88 cases with 897 approved and 985 closed. The caseload as of the end of the month was 25,210. The number of requests for assistance totaled 1,156 of which 640 or 55 per cent were new and the balance of 516 reapplications. There were 260 rejections reported during the month.

¶ Old Age Assistance: Expenditures amounted to $1,881,338 compared to $1,771,640 for the previous month. The major portion of the increase represents higher medical payments for hospitalization and nursing home care. The average cost per case per month increased from $109.36 to $118.73, a difference of $9.37 or 8.6 per cent. The number of applications approved totaled 187 with loss of employment due to illness being the primary cause for the need of assistance. Death of the client was responsible for two thirds of the 231 cases closed during the month.

¶ Aid to Dependent Children: The cost for this category was $41,737 higher than that of the previous month. Direct grants were affected by the addition of the fuel allowance. Indirect, or vendor payments, primarily for medical care, also reflected greater costs. The caseload level remained constant with 118 approvals and the identical number closed. During the month there were 12,036 children and 4,268 "parents" receiving assistance.

¶ Disability Assistance: A slight increase in the caseload occurred as the result of 97 approvals as against 92 closings. Also, 54 applications were rejected, most of which could not meet medical eligibility as determined by the State Medical Review Team. The average grant amounted to $144.70 for September. On a cost per person basis, this is the most expensive category of assistance as would be expected from the nature of the program.

¶ General Relief: On a percentage basis, this category showed the greatest change. Expenditures decreased $20,084 or 12.5 per cent; caseload went down 49 cases or 3.1 per cent. The turnover for this category still remained high with 495 approvals and 544 closings. There were 1,998 cases which received an average of $69.93 during the month. Noticeable was the fact that 90 cases were transferred to more permanent assistance programs.

into the back seat of the Dodge. At this time, another man approached from the opposite side of Centre street, entered the driver's side of the car, demanded the keys and drove directly to the Supreme Market. Here Smith, threatened at gun point, shut off the outside burglar alarm, entered the store with the gunmen, went to a closet and obtained a key to the market office and, still threatened with the firearm, opened the two safes and assisted the holdup men in loading the money into a box, which was carried out of the market and placed in Smith's sedan. The second gunman, still masked, drove the automobile about eight blocks from the store, during which time Smith was forced to sit on the floor with his head down. The money was then transferred from the Dodge to another automobile in which the gunmen drove away with the Dodge keys, leaving Smith in his car. Taking his duplicate set of keys from the glove compartment, Smith drove to Station 19. Reporting this kidnapping and armed robbery, he stated that he had been followed earlier from the Supreme Market to Valli's Doughnut Shop by occupants of a grayish Studebaker sedan which he thought he had eluded until accosted by the hold-up men.

Sergeant Dwyer and Patrolmen Fallon and Sweeney were assigned to investigate this case and obtained from employees of the Supreme Market information that they had seen, prior to the robbery, three men in the area operating a car which they described, with partial description of the registration plate. These employees, together with Almus Smith, were unable to identify the criminals from police identification file photographs, but did furnish descriptions of the men they had observed.

With the information at hand, the officers cruised the area throughout the day, in a department car, and right through the night in their own vehicle and on their own time, in an effort to locate the automobile used by the suspects. When in Kingsdale street, Dorchester, they noticed a car which they kept under surveillance while they sent for one of the store employees, who stated it appeared to be the same automobile observed the night of the robbery. Obtaining a listing on the number, they ascertained that the car was registered to one Robert F. Brunaccini, 78 Kingsdale street, Dorchester. On being questioned as to whether he knew this man, Smith stated that Brunaccini was a former neighbor and that he had last seen him shopping in the Supreme Market on the previous evening. He failed, however, to identify the Studebaker.

Brunaccini was confronted with the evidence so far disclosed and denied knowledge of the armed robbery of the Supreme Market, and refused to cooperate in an inspection of his vehicle. Patrolman Fallon, with a lug wrench, then opened the trunk of the car disclosing therein a large carton which contained five bags of silver coins. The glove compartment was then forced open and in it was found a large amount of money in bills of various denominations. Brunaccini disclaimed any knowledge of how the money came to be in his car. Sergeant Dwyer, with Patrolmen Fallon and Sweeney, then went to Brunaccini's home and there seized in the kitchen closet two blue canvas bags containing five bags of silver coins. The total found in his car and at his home was $5,978.

Brunaccini continued to disclaim any knowledge in the matter but finally, at Station 19 where he was being questioned, admitted to Captain Mannix his

October 25

General Order No. 803.

Effective at 12:01 A.M., Wednesday, October 26, 1960, the Central Complaint and Records Bureau's Statistics for "Selective Enforcement," based on Operators' Vehicular Accident Reports to the Registry of Motor Vehicles as required by chapter 90, will be put into use by all divisions listed.

Divisions: 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, and Traffic Division.

The Central Complaint and Records Bureau will distribute these Vehicular Accident Statistics covering each preceding quarter.

OBJECTIVES:

The selective enforcement program is designed to provide each division commander with the most accurate data of past vehicular accidents that have occurred on his division during each three-month period. With this processed data it will be possible for commanding officers to forecast the type of police enforcement action that will be needed on his division, to prevent recurrence of those vehicular accidents, in order to reduce deaths, personal injuries, and property damage.

This data reveals the date, time by hour and minute, alphabetical locations, type of accident, district, day of week, night or day, road condition, point of impact, jurisdiction, number of vehicles involved, fatalities, personal injuries, and total number of accidents in Boston, within and outside of the Boston police jurisdiction.

Within thirty (30) days after receipt of these quarterly statistics, follow-up reports and analysis relating to this program will be forwarded by commanding officers to the Superintendent's Office, with a copy retained in the division file. Divisions 1, 2, 3, 4, and 16 shall also forward a copy of each follow-up report to the Traffic Division.

The follow-up reports will be completed by division automobile officers and approved by the commanding officer.

Selective Enforcement Forms to be used in connection with the follow-up program:

(a) Vehicular Accident Intersectional Analysis Report.

(b) Selective Enforcement Action Report.

(c) Quarterly Analysis and Comparison Report.

The 1960 statistics for each division will be recorded as soon as analyzed on both the Quarterly Analysis and Comparison Report and the Vehicular Accident Intersectional Analysis Report. Comparison entries for 1961 will be recorded upon receipt and analysis of the 1961 statistics.

During each quarter, the record of selective enforcement action taken at the five highest accident street locations listed on the Quarterly Analysis and Comparison Report, will be recorded on the Selective Enforcement Action Report.

Thirty (30) days after the receipt of the quarterly statistics, the three (3) follow-up reports should be completed and submitted as indicated.

1. An original of the Quarterly Analysis and Comparison Report to the Superintendent's Office. A copy of same retained in the division file.

2. An original of the Vehicular Accident Intersectional Analysis Report of the five (5) highest accident streets by divisions, to the Superintendent's Office. A copy of each retained in the division file. The intersection streets shall be recorded in alphabetical sequence.

3. An original of the Selective Enforcement Action Report for each quarter, to the Superintendent's Office. A copy retained in the division file.

4. Divisions 1, 2, 3, 4, and 16 shall make an extra copy of each of the three (3) completed forms and forward to the Traffic Division at the time the originals are forwarded to the Superintendent's Office.

5. The Traffic Division will analyze these completed forms and within thirty (30) days of receipt shall complete only the Selective Enforcement Action Report for all twenty-five (25) high accident streets listed, and forward the original for each five (5) streets on each of the five (5) divisions concerned, to the Superintendent's Office. A copy of each shall be retained in the Traffic Division file. Another copy of the Traffic Division's Enforcement Action Report will also be forwarded to each of the divisions concerned.

Commanding officers shall be required to be thoroughly familiar with the new "Selective Enforcement Statistics," and their importance in redeployment of police personnel for effective prevention of loss of life and loss or damage to personal property. Commanding officers shall direct the officers assigned to activate this program in their respective divisions, to use considerable thought and care in analyzing this data and in submitting the follow-up forms in order to secure the degree of accuracy which is necessary for successful operation of the "Selective Enforcement" program.

PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF URBAN REDEVELOPMENT AREAS

The Boston Redevelopment Authority, on November 2, announced the adoption of 12 resolutions by which it approved applications for the General Neighborhood Renewal Plan in 10 sections of Boston, and, in addition, survey and planning applications for two of those sections involved, namely Charlestown and the South End. This action was based on proposals submitted by Mayor Collins and Redevelopment Administrator Edward J. Logue. The 12 applications were thereupon submitted to the Mayor for transmittal to the Boston City Council. The areas specified are:

Charlestown, South End, East Boston, Roxbury, Dorchester North, Jamaica Plain, South Boston, Downtown-North, Downtown and Parker Hill-Fenway. These planning applications, if approved by the City Council and by the federal officials in Washington, will result in a total federal grant of $2.4 million to provide the necessary funds for preliminary surveys and plans for the 10 renewal areas involved.

President Edward F. McLaughlin, on November 3, called a special meeting of the City Council to convene Friday morning, November 4, to consider the applications. Upon approval by the Council, they would be immediately sent to the regional office of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency in New York, which agency would undertake a thorough study and investigation before sending the application on to Washington for final action. At the City Council meeting of October 31, Councillor William J. Foley, Jr., chairman of the Council's committee on urban renewal matters, offered a resolution to dispense with public hearings before his committee in the interest of speeding up action on the applications. This resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mayor Collins, on November 2, stated he is pleased that the Redevelopment Authority has prepared and approved the twelve applications. He said federal regulations require that these applications be authorized by resolution of the local governing body, therefore he forwarded to the City Council the appropriate resolutions in a form suggested by and acceptable to the Housing and Home Finance Agency. He urged early consideration and adoption by the City Council.

The Redevelopment Authority has compiled preliminary cost estimates, maps and other supporting information which is available to the City Council in its deliberations.

Inasmuch as the adoption of these resolutions is a procedural matter, the council was respectfully requested to give it immediate consideration because of the great importance of this program to the City of Boston.

Two types of applications are submitted — the General Neighborhood Renewal Plan application and the Survey and Planning application.

The General Neighborhood Renewal Plan applications will make funds available for the preparation of General Neighborhood Renewal Plans leading to a staged program of urban renewal activities in the General Neighborhood Renewal Plan Area.

The Survey and Planning applications will make funds available for the preparation of Urban Renewal Plans leading directly to urban renewal activities upon the execution of loan and grant contracts.

Under federal and state law when the planning period has been completed and the General Neighborhood Renewal Plans and the Urban Renewal Plans have been prepared they must be submitted to the Council for consideration and approval.

The Mayor said that for Charlestown and for the South End both General Neighborhood Re-

NEW RECORDS FOR PORT AUTHORITY

During the last fiscal year a total of 20.7 million vehicles passed over the Mystic River Bridge.

Massachusetts Port Authority bonds are at the top of the revenue bond list, selling at approximately 106.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, the total revenue of the Authority was $7.6 million and net revenue was $4.7 million. Net revenue covered interest requirements by 200 per cent.

Air cargo at Logan International Airport during the fiscal year reached a new high of 57.6 million pounds. During the same period another record was established when 2.96 million passengers used the airport.

LOAN OF $10 MILLION SOUGHT BY SCHOOL COMMITTEE FOR NEW BUILDINGS

The Boston School Committee on October 31, voted unanimously to request Mayor Collins and the City Council to approve a $10 million bond issue for new school buildings and additions to some present schools.

Chairman John J. Tierney, who presented the motion, said the construction program would replace a long-range program under which the school department has been operating for 12 years. The latter, Tierney stated, is now "inadequate for the new Boston."

Chairman Tierney criticized Boston's large number of what he termed overcrowded, obsolete and archaic schools.

"If Boston is to attract new industry," he said, "we must provide modern educational facilities for the children of these potential citizens."

List of Projects

The bond issue would encompass eight structures including a $2,438,000 addition to the Paul A. Dever School at Columbia Point, Dorchester, and a $1,660,000 addition to English High School. Earmarked for a new school at the West End redevelopment area is $1,032,000.

Other sums would be $1,356,000 for a new school in the Edmund P. Tileston district, Mattapan, and $1,480,000 for a new school in the Dillaway district, Roxbury. Also anticipated are additions at Grover Cleveland Junior School, $718,000; Beethoven district, West Roxbury, $368,000; and the J. P. Manning School, Jamaica Plain, $748,000.

Chairman Tierney said that while the ideal solution would be a complete and immediate overhaul to the entire system, "the financial plight of our overly-taxed property owners could not bear such a burden."

The proposed bond issue would spread the cost over 20 years.

"I am certain," he said "that with the cooperation of the School Committee, Council, Mayor and Legislature, the redevelopment of our physical plants in the Boston Public Schools could at least keep pace with the ambitious program of redevelopment upon which our city planners are presently embarked."

Redevelopment . . .

newal Plan and Survey and Planning applications are submitted.

"By this approach we will be able to begin general planning in these two priority areas and shift to the more detailed project planning as soon as the full amount of federal capital grant funds can be reserved. In this manner we can proceed on a broad front immediately.

"I would like to state for the record at this time my own appreciation of the Council's interest in urban renewal in the past and my own pledge of cooperation with the Council in carrying this vital program forward," the Mayor said.

Mayor Collins, on October 31, sent the following communication to the City Council:

Text of Message

¶ Gentlemen:

¶ I submit herewith an order providing for a loan authorization for departmental equipment in the amount of $3,000,000.

¶ There will be no additional appropriation necessary for a down payment under clause 9 of section 7 of chapter 44 of the General Laws. This requirement has been satisfied by an appropriation for equipment in excess of $500,000 in the 1960 annual budget approved by your Honorable Body this year.

¶ The last equipment loan for all city departments was authorized in 1956, in the amount of $2,000,000, and in 1958 an equipment loan was authorized for the Hospital Department in the amount of $1,000,000. The proceeds of this proposed loan authorization will be expended mainly for automotive, fire-fighting, traffic, police, and public works equipment, which will consist chiefly of major items of rolling stock.

¶ All items for the purchase of heavy equipment will be eliminated from the 1961 budget estimates and will be purchased under the provisions of this proposed loan. Earlier this year, we deleted most items of major equipment from the budget requests in order to reduce the appropriations. I now feel we can no longer justify deferring the replacement of our present obsolete heavy equipment without seriously curtailing essential public services.

¶ I respectfully request the adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body:

Text of the Order

¶ Ordered, that under the provisions of clause 9 of section 7 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, the sum of three million dollars ($3,000,000) be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended for additional departmental equipment and that to meet said appropriation the Collector-Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

The Mayor's communication was referred to the Council's Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

VI. UNITED FUND CAMPAIGN FOR 1961.

Hon. John F. Collins, Mayor of Boston, has called our attention to the fact that this year again the annual United Fund Campaign is being conducted and will eliminate any separate Red Cross or Salvation Army Campaign, as they are now served by the United Fund. His Honor the Mayor, hopes that this year the customary generosity of Fire Department employees will be repeated.

Pledge cards and literature concerning the United Fund are being distributed to the department today. Company commanders and heads of branch divisions are requested to personally interview each member of their commands, including employees on sick and injured leave, and ask them to make a contribution. All pledge cards are to be made out and returned to Headquarters on or before November 4, 1960. However, completed cards, with initial donations, should be sent to Headquarters as soon as possible before the above date. Company commanders are requested not to hold a number of completed cards while awaiting the receipt of one or two others.

Also issued with this order is a white envelope for listing employee group pledges. Company commanders are requested to list on this envelope the names of those contributing, giving the total number of pledges, the payment on account, and the balance due. All money donated, together with pledge cards, is to be placed in this envelope by the company commander and the front of the envelope is to be filled out as directed. The sealed currency envelope and pledge cards are to be forwarded to Headquarters as soon as possible. It is desired that company commanders return as many pledge cards as possible on or before October 31, 1960.

Envelopes containing pledge cards and currency will be received at Headquarters by Principal Clerk and Stenographer Ruth P. McDonald on or before November 4, 1960. Delivery of envelopes can be made on any weekday, except Saturday, and should be made between the hours of 9 A.M. and 3 P.M.

Also being issued to the department are payroll deduction cards to be used in the event that an employee desires to have his contribution deducted on the payroll. This is done in accordance with the provisions of chapter 180, section 17B of the General Laws. Deductions will be made on the payroll four times a year, during those weeks in which there will be no Blue Cross-Blue Shield deduction, as follows: November 29, 1960, January 31, 1961, May 30, 1961, October 31, 1961.

The payroll deduction cards are not to be put in the report envelope. They are to be returned separately and company numbers are to be marked at the top of the cards beside the employee's name.

On the payroll deduction cards the quarterly deductions are shown, and only deductions in these amounts will be made from the payroll, so that each employee desiring to use this method should be very careful in checking the amount. The following letter from Eastern Air Lines to Chief Martin is hereby published for the information of the department:

"October 26, 1960.

Dear Chief Martin:

Please accept my sincere thanks for the outstanding service rendered by members of your organization following our recent accident.

The results obtained through the performance of your "SCUBA" team was most significant as without their aid such rapid recovery of the deceased and plane parts would have been unlikely.

Your divers operating from the boat of James Walton of the North Shore Aqua School displayed much skill in this comparatively new rescue-salvage technique.

Your foresightedness in the development of this underwater team is most commendable.

Very truly yours,

F. C. HANSEN,
Customer Services Manager."

October 26.

General Order No. 805.

The resignation of Detective (Third-Grade) Leland J. Miranda, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Wednesday, October 26, 1960, at 10.30 o'clock A.M., seven days' notice waived.

October 26.

General Order No. 806.

Acting under provisions of chapter 32, section 7 as amended (State-Boston Retirement System) the Boston Retirement Board has approved for retirement the following-named police officer, effective at the close of business, Monday, October 31, 1960.

In view of this operation of law, after October 31, 1960, the said police officer shall no longer be an active member of this department, and it is hereby ordered that its records be so amended.

Maurice J. Foley, patrolman, Division 9.

October 31.

General Order No. 807.

Sergeant Thomas J. P. Gavin and Patrolmen Erwin L. Hainline, Jr., and John J. Madden of Division 19 are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 1.14 A.M., October 19, 1960, Sergeant Gavin with Patrolmen Hainline and Madden in the 19-T sector car responded to a radio call to Whitfield and Park streets, Dorchester, on the message that a man had been reported calling for help. Upon arrival at the scene, the officers were unable to locate any person who was in need of police assistance.

While making a search of the vicinity, the officers observed a man wandering on Spencer street who appeared to be in a confused condition. Upon questioning him, he identified himself as Herbert Kenny, 52 years of age, married, of 91 Spencer street, Dorchester. He stated that a short time before, he was walking down Park street from Washington street and when at the corner of Whitfield street, he was attacked from the rear by a man whom he described as about 21 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches, 150 pounds, wearing a white or light grey jacket, who pulled Kenny's coat up over his head, held him in a headlock, removed his black leather wallet from his back-trouser pocket and threw him to the ground. He further stated the wallet contained $51 in U. S. currency in denominations of 4 $10 bills, 1 $5 bill and 6 $1 bills.

Sergeant Gavin and Patrolmen Hainline and Madden continued their search of the vicinity and when at the corner of Washington and Algonquin streets, they observed a man answering the description given of the assailant. Upon seeing the officers, the subject ran from the scene. The above officers gave chase and when they arrived at the corner of Washington and Bowdoin streets, the suspect was observed hiding under a parked automobile.

He was taken into custody as a suspicious person and upon questioning, he identified himself as Eugene Franklin, 21 years, single, of 57 Copeland street, Roxbury. Upon searching the prisoner, the officers found $51 on his person in the exact denominations the victim stated had been stolen from him.

At 3.00 A.M., October 19, 1960, at the Station House, the victim, Herbert Kenny, positively identified Eugene Franklin as his assailant. Franklin maintained his innocence until about 6.40 A.M. that same morning when he admitted his guilt and led the officers to a vacant lot where they recovered the black leather wallet Franklin had disposed of in his flight.

Eugene Franklin was arraigned before Judge Sadie Shulman in the Dorchester District Court on October 19, 1960, on charge of unarmed robbery, who held him for the Grand Jury in $25,000 bail.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the fine police work performed by these officers in this case which resulted in the removal from society, for a time at least, of a felon who if not apprehended would have continued to assault and rob persons who were on the street in the early morning hours.

October 31.

General Order No. 808.

Patrolman Robert L. Gibson, Division 13, is hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

On Monday, October 17, 1960, at about 2 A.M., Patrolman Gibson while trying doors on his route observed two men forcing the rear window in a trailer used as an office for the 110 Motors, 241 Hyde Park avenue, Jamaica Plain. These men were later identified as Richard Allman, 26 years, single, 311 Huntington avenue, Roxbury, and James C. Burns, 25 years, single, of 2 Brookside avenue, Jamaica Plain.

Patrolman Gibson drew his service revolver and ordered both men to put up their hands. Allman started to run in an attempt to get away. Patrolman Gibson ordered him to stop or he would shoot and when Allman failed to stop the Patrolman fired one shot, which hit Allman in the buttocks and knocked him to the ground. Allman was removed to Boston City Hospital, held for treatment and placed under guard.

On Tuesday morning, October 18, 1960, James C. Burns was arraigned in West Roxbury Court on charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime with intent to commit a felony; and possession of a burglarious implement, a three-foot pry bar. Judge Andrew J. MacDonnell continued the case to October 27, 1960 and held Burns in $10,000.

On Thursday, October 27, 1960, Richard Allman was arraigned in the same Court on the same charges, before Judge Daniel Casey. Both defendants were held for the Grand Jury, Burns in the sum of $10,000, and Allman in $5,000.

The Commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty displayed by Patrolman Gibson who, by his alertness and diligence, apprehended these two felons, both of whom have criminal records dating from juvenile days and one of whom, Burns, had only been released on October 15, 1960, from the Federal Penitentiary, Danbury, Connecticut.

October 31.

Statement of Mayor Collins on the National and State Election of 1960

Commenting on the national and state election of November 8, 1960, Mayor Collins stated as follows:

"I am sure I speak for every Bostonian when I say that President-Elect Kennedy's victory has gladdened the heart of each of us in a very extraordinary fashion.

"A great leader and one whom I have always been privileged to honor as our most distinguished citizen, President-Elect Kennedy will carry with him to the White House the prayers and best wishes of all of us, his fellow residents of the City of Boston, for a wise and successful administration. Today is certainly one of the greatest days in Boston's history. May God continue to bless our new President with great wisdom and understanding as he prepares to assume his new and awesome responsibilities.

"The people of Massachusetts have selected a new Governor, Mr. John A. Volpe. To Governor-Elect Volpe, Lieutenant Governor-Elect McLaughlin, and all other victorious candidates in this election, I pledge my utmost cooperation in the years ahead. If our capital city is to survive, all city and state officials must work in close harmony. It is imperative that Boston's extremely serious problems receive fair and understanding treatment from all of our newly chosen constitutional officers.

"Boston's economy is and will continue to be the most important element in the Commonwealth's over-all economy, and I feel sure that with all of us working together we can insure the success of Operation Revival to the mutual advantage of the Commonwealth and this great city.

City Council President Now Lieut. Governor

City Council President Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr., was elected to the office of Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts on November 9. He is the second member of Boston's nine-man City Council (established since 1952) to be elected to a constitutional office in the Commonwealth.

Former City Council President Edward J. McCormack, Jr., was on Tuesday elected to his second term as Attorney General.

Kevin White, son of City Councilor Joseph C. White, was elected Secretary of State on Tuesday.

Discussions Open On Location of State Junior College

The state-supported Boston Junior College will probably find its first home in the building now occupied by B. U. Junior College in Copley square or in the old William Blackstone School on Blossom street, West End.

At a joint meeting of the Massachusetts Board of Regional Community Colleges and the Boston School Committee this week, the college group decided to study the matter further before the next meeting.

The B. U. Junior College building at 688 Boylston street is also being sought by the Boston Public Library.

According to Dr. Frederick J. Gillis, superintendent of Boston schools, the regional college board will ask to rent the Blackstone School if they cannot get the B. U. building.

(4) To eliminate obsolete practices in operations.

(5) To bring about a more businesslike atmosphere within all city departments and agencies.

(6) To keep the key departmental employee informed as to administration plans and policy.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

Office Machinery

Dear Mr. Mayor:

The approval of your Honor is requested in order to make possible the award of a contract without advertising to Remington Rand, Division of Sperry Rand Corporation, substantially as follows as per contract attached:

To pay the sum of $9,652.20 during the period from April 1, 1960 to March 31, 1961, for the maintenance of Remington Rand punched card equipment, as particularly detailed, in the best interests of the city as there is no other agency other than the Remington Rand that can provide maintenance service on the machines purchased from them.

Your approval is respectfully requested.

Very truly yours,

EARLE R. BARNAED, Assessor.

BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS.

Voting Machine Transportation

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On May 9, 1960, the City of Boston entered into a publicly advertised contract with P. A. Milan Co., Inc., of Malden, Massachusetts, in the amount of $12,000 to provide for the transportation of voting machines within the City of Boston during the calendar year 1960. This firm was the only bidder who responded to that published invitation for bids.

At the time of the execution of the existing contract, the best estimate of our needs for transportation service, at the contract unit price of $19.75 per machine, was that the service could be carried out for $12,000.

As a matter of fact, as a result of the heavy expenditure for voting machine transportation which was required in connection with the Presidential Primary in April and the more recent State Primary, the available contract balance of $1,365 will nowise meet the needs for the approaching national election. It becomes increasingly evident, day by day, that the vote to be cast will be unusually large and particularly in this city and state, with the inescapable result that an additional cost will be incurred for voting machine transportation services of approximately $5,000, over and above the original contract price of $12,000.

The P. A. Milan Co., Inc., has performed its duties as efficiently and expeditiously as the character of such an operation will allow, and, therefore, on behalf of the Board of Election Commissioners, I hereby respectfully request your authorization to amend, without advertising, the existing contract in the sum of $5,000, to cover the cost of the prospective added volume of these services, to be performed at the existing contract unit price of $19.75 for the moving of each machine.

In light of the fact that the subject contractor was, as aforementioned, the only bidder at the outset and as the time remaining is inadequate for advertising procedures, such a course would not appear to be the better one to pursue in the instant case.

Respectfully yours,

DAVID LASKER,
Chairman.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Completion of Alterations

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On December 9, 1959, the United States Construction Corporation, with a place of business at 240 River street, Dedham, Massachusetts, contracted with the City of Boston for furnishing and installing a new elevator and performing certain alterations at Long Island Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts, within two hundred calendar days from that date. The United States Construction Corporation bid of $32,999 was the lowest filed, from among the five (5) bidders who submitted bids in response to the public invitation for general bids for that project which was published in the "City Record" on September 19, 1959.

The United States Construction Corporation went into receivership on May 2, 1960; a second receiver was appointed on June 27, 1960. By letter dated September 2, 1960, a copy of which was forwarded to your Honor, the Board of Trustees, acting under the terms of Article XXI of the said contract, notified the United States Construction Corporation to discontinue all work.

At the present time, only a comparatively small part of the entire work has been performed, and it has now become essential that the specified roof alterations, the roof itself now being opened except for some purely temporary cover, be completed and the roof permanently closed in and the elevator furnished and installed just as soon as feasible. In order to accomplish this objective, the Board of Trustees propose, subject to the approval of your Honor, as follows:

(a) That the city itself not enter into another construction contract for completing the project because in this case approximately sixty days' time would be lost before the work could even be resumed due to the necessity of having the architect redraft plans and specifications and thereafter conduct formal public advertising for general and subbids; and

(b) That instead, the city enter into a suitable written agreement with the surety company on the $32,999 performance and payment bonds attached to the original construction contract, namely, The Home Indemnity Company, under the provisions of which agreement the project would be completed at no cost to the city in excess of the unpaid balance of the said construction contract sum, which balance now is $28,208.53. It is to be understood that in the event extra work is later ordered by the awarding authority, the same then being authorized by your Honor, the agreement would be amended to include and cover the cost thereof.

In the absence of such agreement as hereunder proposed, the bonding company declines to go forward and, although the city having subsequently completed the whole work, would have a right of action on the performance bond to recover its inevitable excess construction costs, all this would protract completion of the project by about 210 days which is highly undesirable and impractical.

Under the prevailing conditions, therefore, and on behalf of the Board of Trustees, I respectfully request your written authorization to dispense with the customary invitation for proposals by advertisement in the "City Record" and to enter into a contract with The Home Indemnity Company, with local offices at 470 Atlantic avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, in the sum of not to exceed $28,208.53, requiring this company to accomplish the completion of the project in accordance with the record plans and specifications, by means of a competent general contractor within 150 days.

In addition, I should like to point out that completion of construction of the work will, of course, be supervised by Associated Architects and Engineers, the original architect under its existing contract with the city. This will insure that the work is carried out in accordance with the working drawings and detailed specifications and safeguard the city against defects and deficiencies in the performance and execution of the work.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR.,
Chairman, Board of Trustees.

FIN. COM. WOULD CENTRALIZE LICENSE AND PERMIT AGENCIES

November 16, 1960.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

The Finance Commission believes it is timely to consider: centralizing the issuance of licenses and permits, the coordinating of inspections, and centralizing the data which is thereby developed.

This encouragement of centralizing these related activities is timely because:

(a) Centralizing the issuance of licenses and permits and coordinating inspections means greater administrative efficiency and economy and public convenience.

(b) The new and evolving urban renewal program will thereby be expedited.

Centralization

The City's more than 250 types of licenses, permits, and certifications are issued from more than 20 different locations.

The answer to this complex licensing and permit situation lies in consolidating the responsibility for the issuance of licenses and permits, and the collection of fees, into as few agencies as possible.

Moving in the direction of centralizing the issuing of licenses and coordinating inspections promises obvious advantages. Chief among the benefits flowing from such consolidation would be the following:

1. Inconvenience to the public would be reduced.
2. Paper work involved would be lessened.
3. Staff requirements involved would be reduced.

4. More substantial and effective enforcement policies would be possible.

5. Inspectional data would be coordinated and pooled.

6. Standardization of forms and the adaptation of issuance to modern tabulating equipment and automatic processing could be undertaken with all the increased efficiency and economy which mechanical equipment implies.

The preparation of specifications for a consolidated department of licenses and permits and inspection should also be considered in planning space requirements and locations in the new City Hall. The interval of time before the new building is designed will be useful as a testing period for developing the most effective system of centralized operation.

Philadelphia System

A striking example of how one large city has met this problem is the system set up in Philadelphia, which has established a Department of Licenses and Inspections. The bulk of licenses and permits issued in the City is handled by this department, which is organized in 3 units:

1. An issuance and enforcement section.
2. An inspection section.
3. A tabulating equipment section.

Top officials of the Philadelphia Department make the following claims for that department:

Except for a relatively few licenses, an applicant can secure all the necessary approvals in one office.

Prior to the reorganization of the Department of Licenses and Inspections, 11 different types of inspectors checked for licenses and permits.

Today every inspector is trained to check for all types of licenses when he goes into a property.

The department also works on an area inspectional basis, the inspectors moving from building to building within the area.

To even out work flow, annual operational dates are established for different licenses on a 12-month basis.

One form has been designed to accommodate 80 per cent of the licenses issued, requiring 60 per cent less filing space.

Use of tabulating equipment which prepares both licenses and master cards in one operation saves thousands of man-hours a year.

The department is on a more-than-self-supporting basis.

The department's newest unit is the Urban Renewal Planning Section, which does an important job in gathering data to aid toward redevelopment.

A study of Philadelphia's operation may show how Boston may centralize the issuance of permits and licenses, provide for the coordination of inspections, and for the utilization of tabulating and punch-card equipment. The results that may be expected are:

1. Reduction of time required to issue licenses.

Committee of Citizens Seeks Funds To Restore Old Corner Bookstore Building

At the corner of School and Washington Streets, diagonally across from the Old South Meeting House, stands an ancient brick house with gambrel roof, built soon after the great fire of 2 October 1711 by Thomas Crease, an apothecary, on land owned in the sixteen thirties by Anne Hutchinson's husband William. Occupied as a dwelling house for more than a hundred years, it acquired literary connotations during the nineteenth century as the place of business of the publishers Ticknor and Fields, and as the Old Corner Book Store. With the exception of the Athenaeum, no other surviving building in Boston was more frequented by New England literary figures of the nineteenth century. Here James T. Fields, the friend and publisher of Holmes, Longfellow, Lowell, Whitier, Hawthorne, of Dickens, Thackeray, Tennyson and De Quincey, and editor of The Atlantic Monthly, held genial court; here for three quarters of a century Bostonians bought their books. When the Old Corner Book Store moved to Bromfield Street in 1903, the Thomas Crease house fell to less distinguished use. Although a unique example of early eighteenth-century domestic architecture in this area, it has been for years almost hidden from view by billboards and signs. Having survived for nearly two hundred and fifty years, it deserves a better fate than neglect and the threat of demolition.

Ninety years ago Mayor Nathaniel B. Shurtleff expressed the hope that this ancient landmark "will be allowed to remain, for many years to come, standing in its present form." Today, thanks to Mayor John F. Collins's belief that "a City's future is but a logical extension of its past," his predecessor's hope is strengthened. During the past summer Mr. John Codman, Chairman of the Beacon Hill Architectural Commission, organized an Old Corner Committee, which has evolved a specific plan. This plan is feasible, provided prompt and generous action is taken by every one who shares Mayor Collins's belief.

Committee Formed

The Old Corner Committee has secured an option until 1 December 1960 from the owner, Mr. Elliott Henderson, for the purchase of the property, requiring an equity payment of $50,000. Mayor Collins has promised an abatement of taxes to a figure that is calculated to allow the present rents to cover all running expenses, mortgage requirements and taxes, and leave a margin for ordinary repairs and contingencies, thus allowing all funds collected by the Committee to go to the purchase of the equity and for restoration. The conditions imposed by the Mayor are that title be taken by a nonprofit organization; that deed restrictions be placed on the property designed to insure its preservation and gradual restoration to its 1850 exterior appearance; that the Committee demonstrate real effort to improve the property as rapidly as possible; and that realistic rents be charged all tenants to whom space in the building may be rented.

Historic Boston, Inc.

To meet the first requirement, Historic Boston, Inc., was organized on 25 October 1960 by the following incorporators: Walter Muir Whitehill, President, William B. Osgood, Treasurer, Roger A. Moore, Clerk, Bertram K. Little, John Codman, David McCord, and Edward A. Taft, with Messrs. Lovell Thompson, Richard A. Ehrlich, and John C. Kiley, Jr., who were unable to attend the organization meeting, as additional corporate members. Historic Boston, Inc., which was established at the suggestion of the Boston Planning Board and the Mayor, has as its purposes "to preserve and protect the ancient buildings of Boston and thus perpetuate for the education of posterity the architectural, historical, and general cultural heritage of this city." It will in no way conflict with other societies that preserve historic sites, nor will it attempt to establish a series of tax-exempt museums. It will endeavor, as in the case of the Old Corner, to preserve significant buildings, find appropriate uses for them, commercial or otherwise, and if possible keep them on the tax roll so that they may continue to be tangible as well as intangible assets to the City of Boston. Similar corporations in Charleston, South Carolina, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, Richmond and Alexandria, Virginia and Georgetown, D. C., have already had marked success in preserving and turning to practical use architectural landmarks of those southern cities.

$50,000 Needed Now

The Bostonian Society has agreed to be the recipient of contributions for the purchase and restoration of the Old Corner Book Store so that these gifts may be tax deductible, and will turn them over to Historic Boston, Inc., for this purpose.

A minimum of fifty thousand dollars is needed before the end of December 1960. Time is short and the sum is large, but this is the last opportunity to save a unique landmark. Checks payable to "Bostonian Society (Old Corner Fund)" should be sent to William B. Osgood, Treasurer, State Street Bank and Trust Company, Boston 1. Offers of assistance in interesting other organizations, soliciting friends, and otherwise passing the word will be gratefully received by John Codman, Secretary, Old Corner Committee, 30 Charles Street, Boston 14 [LA 3-2460].

CITY RECEIVES $540,813 FROM HOUSING AUTHORITY

Chairman Edward D. Hassan of the Boston Housing Authority, on November 16, turned over to City Treasurer James E. Gildea an in lieu of taxes payment of $540,813. He noted that the sum was $31,149 more than the Authority paid the city last year. The increase, he said, was made possible by increased rentals in housing developments.

2. Reduction of personnel needed in the operation.

3. Closer liaison between all the sections of these activities.

4. Greater convenience to the public.

5. Assistance to the Urban Renewal Program.

The possibilities of this setup should be fully explored for whatever promise it may hold for Boston.

Relation to Urban Renewal

A related step which could be either a by-product of this centralization, or set up independently, is a central file of data on property.

Centralized data on properties in Boston has an important relation to the extensive urban renewal program on which Boston is embarking.

Valuable data on the use and condition of much of the property in the City may be found in the files of the Building Department, Fire Department, Health Department, and other municipal agencies, stemming from the inspectional, licensing, and other activities of these departments. These departments have for some time been enforcing a housing code, a building code, and a fire code.

A central file and clearinghouse of such data is clearly called for. This would resemble the kind of centralized depository of data also found in the City of Detroit.

Such centralized data would have many uses in an urban renewal program; for example:

(a) Application for survey and planning funds has already been made to the federal government for 2 sections of the City. When such funds are available and the actual work of making a survey of all the properties in the areas involved is undertaken, it will be important to have as much available data as possible. A great variety of information on the condition of buildings, and various economic and social data, must be elicited and classified as part of the survey before actual planning is undertaken. The availability of as much of such data as possible could mean substantial savings in time and money in the survey work.

(b) Whenever it becomes necessary to clear areas and make acquisition appraisals of the property in clearance areas, records of property deficiencies will be on record in a central file. This should be of great assistance in the computation of the value of the property. Evidence that the property has not been maintained in compliance with Housing, Building, and other codes should reduce the value of property for condemnation purposes, thus saving money for the City.

Such a depository of information is part and parcel of the "centralization" thinking advocated in this memorandum. This accumulated and coordinated data should be adapted to the maximum use of mechanical tabulating equipment, of which there is a wide choice in today's automatic data processing market.

In brief, it is time to promote thinking along the lines of "centralization and coordination." It is necessary:

(a) as a basis for realignment of regular administrative machinery in the promotion of economy and efficiency, and

(b) as a necessary part of the Urban Renewal Program.

Sets Price For Site Of Federal Bldg.

The Boston Redevelopment Authority, on November 16, unanimously adopted a resolution approving as a location for the proposed new federal building a site in the Government Center Project area bounded by Cambridge street, new Sudbury street, new Congress street, and Hanover street. The area to be sold to the federal government will include approximately 136,500 square feet of land.

In a second resolution, the Redevelopment Authority established a price of $1,200,000 as the fair market value for the proposed site for the federal building to be built by the General Services Administration.

In a third resolution, the Redevelopment Authority authorized and instructed Development Administrator Edward J. Logue to seek approval of the Urban Renewal Administration and the Housing and Home Finance Agency for $1,200,000 as the fair market value for this site and for its disposition to the General Services Administration.

Mayor Collins notified the Redevelopment Authority that David M. Walker, Urban Renewal Commissioner, has orally approved the preliminary agreement between the Boston Redevelopment Authority and the General Services Administration for the sale of the site of the proposed federal building.

Plans Completed For Christmas Festival

Boston's Christmas Festival Committee will save "several thousands of dollars" this year by dispensing with services of a private electrical contractor hired in former years, Col. Paul H. Hines, festival director, stated on November 16.

He said the work will be done by members of the Boston Electrical Union, already engaged in setting up lights for the festival opening on Boston Common, Friday, November 25, the night after Thanksgiving.

Colonel Hines said a reduction of the city subsidy from $10,000 to $7,500 this year, and plans to purchase 40,000 new bulbs and other electrical equipment dictated the change. "We couldn't afford the luxury of a contractor this year," he said, denying a report that the displays would not be set up by the festival opening. He declared this year's opening will be "the most spectacular yet."

Fire Department Establishes New Underwater Unit

A special underwater rescue unit of firefighters trained as skin divers has been set up within the Boston Fire Department, Commissioner Henry A. Scagnoli announced on November 16.

Creation of the unit, with divers to be on duty around the clock, was precipitated by the October 4 Eastern Airlines plane crash into Boston Harbor.

Many lives were lost in the accident because of inability to get divers to the scene in the first few minutes.

Commissioner Scagnoli said establishment of the 11-man unit is believed the first step of its kind by any major fire department in the east. He said at least two divers will be on duty at all times, and be ready this winter to respond when children fall through thin ice at ponds in Boston or nearby communities.

Chief John A. Martin has offered services of the rescue unit on a mutual aid basis to fire departments of communities surrounding Boston.

The Fire Commissioner said the men have completed extensive tests and have been down to 60-foot depths in training. He said they can remain underwater at least 30 minutes using air tanks.

The unit has fitted up a Civil Defense rescue truck as its equipment vehicle. The rescue wagon, on emergency, will proceed to the scene, and the diver will be rushed from his regularly-assigned station house.

Members of the unit will perform regular firefighting duties except when summoned for underwater emergencies.

Credit Union Elects Directors

Results of the election for new directors of the Boston City Employees' Credit Union, held November 16, gave the top vote to Martin A. Fulton of the Auditing Department, the current president of the organization.

Others elected directors included: Joseph W. Fellows, School Department; Paul Carty, Boston Retirement Board; Michael A. Donovan, Boston Sanatorium; George R. Byrne, Administrative Services, Budget Division; James S. Kiernan, Public Welfare; Patrick Loftus, Real Property Department; and Richard J. Moulton, Police.

GETS TOUGH

Shocked into action by a vast number of fire code violations resulting in a death toll of 45 persons in three months, Philadelphia announced a plan for forcible elimination of fire hazards.

Under the city plan violators will no longer be able to delay making their properties safe by paying fines but the city will install the proper equipment, at a cost of $150 per building, and bill the property owner for the cost.

If the owner fails to pay the charges after the installation, the city will file a lien against the property, obtain a judgment and attach the rents until the charges are paid in full.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Demolition of Buildings

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The houses numbered 106, 108, 110, and 112 Marcella street, Ward 11, have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. The buildings are now open to trespass; they have been vandalized and they are a menace to the neighborhood. While these houses, are numbered under four separate addresses, nevertheless these houses compose essentially one building, built at one time, with party wall separating adjacent houses, each house affording support to its neighbors.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1924, as amended, particularly section 116d thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structures.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Bay State Wrecking.—106 Marcella street, $1,200; 108 Marcella street, $1,500; 110 Marcella street, $1,000; 112 Marcella street, $1,200; total, $4,900.

U. S. Wrecking.—106 Marcella street, $1,000; 108 Marcella street, $1,400; 110 Marcella street, $1,000; 112 Marcella street, $1,000; total, $4,400.

Lyons Wrecking.—106 Marcella street, $1,400; 108 Marcella street, $1,400; 110 Marcella street, $1,400; 112 Marcella street, $1,400; total, $5,600.

E. Polcari & Son.—106 Marcella street, $970; 108 Marcella street, $875; 110 Marcella street, $875; 112 Marcella street, $970; total, $3,690.

Central Wrecking.—106 Marcella street, $1,095; 108 Marcella street, $1,095; 110 Marcella street, $1,095; 112 Marcella street, $1,095; total, $4,380.

E. Polcari & Son have submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling four separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price higher than the $2,000 statutory limitation upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety requiring immediate action, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding of a contract to the E. Polcari & Son in the sum of $3,690, without advertising as required in the city charter.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The houses numbered 106, 108, 110, 112, 114, 116, 118, 120, and 122 Camden street, Ward 9, have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. The buildings are now open to trespass; they have been vandalized and they are a menace to the neighborhood. While these houses are numbered under nine separate addresses, nevertheless these houses compose essentially one building, built at one time, with party walls separating adjacent houses, each house affording support to its neighbors.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1924, as amended, particularly section 116d thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structures.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Bay State Wrecking.—106 Camden street, $900; 108 Camden street, $700; 110 Camden street, $700; 112 Camden street, $700; 114 Camden street, $700; 116 Camden street, $700; 118 Camden street, $700; 120 Camden street, $700; 122 Camden street, $900; total, $6,700.

U. S. Wrecking.—106 Camden street, $700; 108 Camden street, $700; 110 Camden street, $700; 112 Camden street, $700; 114 Camden street, $700; 116 Camden street, $700; 118 Camden street, $700; 120 Camden street, $700; 122 Camden street, $700; total, $6,300.

Lyons Wrecking.—106 Camden street, $599; 108 Camden street, $599; 110 Camden street, $599; 112 Camden street, $599; 114 Camden street, $599; 116 Camden street, $599; 118 Camden street, $599; 120 Camden street, $599; 122 Camden street, $599; total, $5,391.

E. Polcari & Son.—106 Camden street, $720; 108 Camden street, $585; 110 Camden street, $585; 112 Camden street, $585; 114 Camden street, $585; 116 Camden street, $585; 118 Camden street, $585; 120 Camden street, $585; 122 Camden street, $720; total, $5,535.

Central Wrecking.—106 Camden street, $800; 108 Camden street, $575; 110 Camden street, $575; 112 Camden street, $575; 114 Camden street, $575; 116 Camden street, $575; 118 Camden street, $575; 120 Camden street, $575; 122 Camden street, $800; total, $5,625.

The Lyons Building Wrecking Company has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to show their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This has been a necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house. It is to be noted that the low bidder simply divided his price by nine in order to break his bid down, and that the cost of each building is less than $2,000.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct separate wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much less than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that awarding the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling nine separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price higher than the $2,000 statutory limitation

Trucking Services

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Under date of May 10, 1960, an advertised contract was approved by your Honor with the lowest of three bidders, C. S. Walsh Transportation, Inc., 736 Dudley street, Dorchester, for trucking services for a twelve-month period terminating March 31, 1961, total expenditures not to exceed $20,000.

Due to the actual volume of trucking occasioned by the scheduled closing of Old Boston Technical High School and transferring of furniture and furnishings to the New Boston Technical High School (formerly the Roxbury Memorial High School) as contrasted with our estimates for the same, but more particularly, and in addition thereto, the removal of furniture and fixtures caused by the previously unscheduled closing of the F. A. Whitney, Winchell, and William Blackstone Schools, the cost will exceed the original contract sum of $20,000 by an estimated $6,000, which contract sum was predicated on our anticipated expenditures for this kind of work.

When this contract was publicly advertised the rates submitted by C. S. Walsh Transportation, Inc., were approximately 20 per cent lower for the unit price per hour for trucking and 25 per cent lower per hour for the extra man, than the second bidder. In view of the fact that the contractor agrees to perform the added service at the existing rates and as this contractor's services have been entirely satisfactory, I feel there would be no financial advantage to be gained by the city in advertising for this additional work.

Your approval therefore is requested to dispense with advertising and amend the advertised contract for trucking executed with C. S. Walsh Transportation, Inc., by substituting for the words and figures: "total estimated expenditures under this contract not to exceed $20,000," the words and figures: "total estimated expenditures under this contract not to exceed $26,000."

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES A. CALLANAN,
Superintendent of Construction.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS

The Mayor has approved extension of the time limit on completion of the following contracts:

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Approval has been given for the extension of the time of completion of the contract with T. Mickle & Sons for interior and exterior painting at the South Boston High School from November 1, 1960 to January 30, 1961, for the reason that school classes are in session, also cafeteria cannot be done until Christmas vacation period.

Contract with John J. Hourihan for roofing and sheet metal work at the Clarence R. Edwards School, extended from October 31, 1960 to November 30, 1960, because of difficulty in obtaining skilled workmen.

Contract with D. Antonellis, Inc., for additions and alterations to the Roxbury Memorial High School to house the New Boston Technical High School, extended from November 1, 1960, to December 30, 1960, because of a delay in installation of the cafeteria construction and equipment materials.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.

Cascieri & DiBicari, Inc., has been granted an extension of time until November 30, 1960, for the completion of its contract for sculpture and other artistic work in connection with fountain and flagpoles in new plaza on Boston Common, opposite West street.

REDUCED POLICE QUOTA PROVIDES 2,400 PATROLMEN

An exchange of correspondence this week between Mayor John F. Collins and Police Commissioner Leo J. Sullivan resulted in two far-reaching decisions with respect to the operation of the Boston Police Department. These were:

1. Signing of Articles of Concurrence reducing the established quota of patrolmen in the department from 2,501 to 2,400; and

2. Agreement that discussions between the Mayor and Police Commissioner should begin immediately on a practical program of station house construction and consolidation in order to streamline the facilities of the department.

Letter of Police Commissioner

CITY OF BOSTON,
POLICE DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER,
BOSTON, November 17, 1960.
HON. JOHN F. COLLINS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Throughout the current year, the undersigned has pursued the policy not to appoint patrolmen to fill vacancies occurring by promotion and separation from that rank. With the forthcoming promotion of twenty men to the rank of sergeant, the accumulated vacancies will exceed one hundred under the present quota of twenty-five hundred and one patrolmen, established December 1, 1950.

To adjust the personnel authorization of this department to present conditions the determination has been made to reduce the quota of patrolmen to the number of twenty-four hundred. Your concurrence in this determination is requested by the execution of the document for its accomplishment which is forwarded herewith.

With the objective of effecting the most advantageous utilization of personnel and to consider every practical measure to permit further reduction in authorized strength, there has been initiated a continuing program of review and reappraisal of organizational, administrative, and procedural policies and practices. The proposal embodied herein constitutes the initial product of that program.

To the same end, you are earnestly requested to reconsider previous requests of this office for the inclusion in the capital outlay program of provision for the construction of modern if modest police buildings in the outlying areas of the city, each to provide facilities for two or more divisions. In the locations where consolidation is considered feasible, the existing police buildings are obsolete and expensive to maintain. None are adequate from the standpoint of location or physical characteristics for utilization in a program of consolidation designed to accomplish substantial economies by the elimination of duplication in administrative, clerical, and maintenance services.

Your early consideration of the enclosed "Articles of Concurrence" will permit a significant reduction in budgetary allocation for police personnel for the year 1961.

Very truly yours,

LEO J. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

Letter of the Mayor

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
November 18, 1960.

DEAR COMMISSIONER:

I have signed and am returning to you herewith the "Articles of Concurrence" which reduces the authorized complement of patrolmen in the Police Department of the City of Boston from 2,501 to 2,400.

I shall be pleased to meet with you, at your convenience, to discuss the implementation of a practical program of station consolidations and other measures which will result in further substantial savings to the City of Boston without reducing service and effectiveness.

It would appear that consolidation of downtown stations as a first step should be considered in the near future.

I am grateful to you for your cooperation.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Housing for Aged Contract Let for Roxbury

The Boston Housing Authority, on November 22, signed a contract with M. S. Kelliher Construction Company of Boston for the erection of a 6-story, 86-unit federal housing project for the aged to be located at the corner of Seaver street and Elm Hill avenue, Roxbury. Completion of the project is expected within a year.

Housing Authority Chairman Edward D. Hassen announced that six other federally aided projects to provide adequate living accommodations for several hundred of Boston's senior citizens are in final planning stages and will soon be ready for contract bids. These will be located on Annapolis street, Dorchester; Florida street, Dorchester; Bay View, South Boston; Pond street, Jamaica Plain, and Bickford street, Jamaica Plain.

A state aided project is also being planned for Franklin Park.

REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY COMMENTS ON WEST END

¶ Mr. Kane Simonian, Executive Director of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, said that a routine check is being made to determine whether the work in the Charles River Park development in the West End is on schedule. Under the terms of the lease agreement, Charles River Park, Inc., is required to complete foundation piling and pile cappings or caissons for the two high-rise buildings by March 8 of 1961.

¶ The Redevelopment Authority has no reason to believe that the work is not up to schedule, since previous checks made by the Authority have indicated that work is ahead of schedule.

¶ However, as a result of a published report in a Boston newspaper, the Redevelopment Authority on Wednesday ordered that a check be made by members of its staff and that a report be submitted at next Wednesday's meeting.

¶ Mr. Simonian reported that the chief engineer for the Authority, Mr. Wallace Orpin, had inspected the work area this morning and had found that the construction is far ahead of schedule and further, that in his opinion, everything required to be completed by next March would be completed by the end of this month, which indicates that the construction is at least three months ahead of schedule at this point.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

November 18.

General Order No. 817.

Sergeant-Detective Thomas P. Gavin, Sergeant Salvatore J. Ingener, Detectives Leo V. Devlin, Arthur O'Shea, John F. Abraham, Patrolmen William J. Keane and Luciano L. Bellanti of Division 9 are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

The work performed by these officers concerns the investigation of a series of unarmed robberies which occurred between September 26 and October 7, 1960. These crimes had been called to the attention of Division 9 by a teacher-coach at Boston Technical High School who reported that certain athletes on their way from the school to White Stadium were held up by two youths in the vicinity of Humboldt avenue, Seaver street, and Deckard street.

As a result of this complaint, Sergeant-Detective Gavin and Detectives O'Shea and Devlin were assigned to investigate. On September 30, in front of 126 Humboldt avenue, they arrested Curtis L. Washington, 17, of 111 Waumbeck street, Roxbury, and James Mason, 17, of 224 Harold street, Roxbury. A total of twelve complaints for unarmed robbery was made. These offenses included threats of violence and the stealing from the persons of a number of juveniles money in sums varying from six cents to one dollar. The defendants were arraigned before Judge Charles I. Taylor in Roxbury Court. Probable cause was found and both were held for the grand jury in the sum of $10,000. On October 23, the Suffolk County grand jury returned indictments against these defendants on all complaints of robbery mentioned above together with three additional indictments, one for attempted unarmed robbery and two for unarmed robbery. These crimes were of the same nature as those referred to previously. Pending their trial, bail was increased to $25,000. Identification was made by the victim in each instance and in some instances there are corroborative witnesses.

The other phase of the excellent police work performed by the officers referred to above concerns the action taken on the complaint of a man who, while in a restaurant on Tremont street, Roxbury, on the morning of October 7, met two men and a blonde woman. After eating with them they requested a ride home. He agreed and all four got into his car with the woman in the front seat. When in Howard avenue, near Dudley street, Roxbury, one of the men placed his arm around the victim's neck, the other man struck the victim in the mouth with his fist, one of the men took his wallet and then both men and the woman ran away.

With a complete description of the blonde woman and continuing his investigation, although on a day of relief, Sergeant Ingener with Patrolman Bellanti on October 8 observed a woman answering the description in a package goods store on Blue Hill avenue. Assuming that her male companions might be nearby, the sergeant obtained the services of Detectives Devlin, O'Shea, and Abraham. They observed the woman enter a dwelling on Blue Hill avenue and covered these premises front and back. About one-half hour later the officers arrested Charles F. Barker, 29, single, of 148 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, on suspicion of unarmed robbery. He had in his possession money which he stated was part of the proceeds obtained from passing a check which had been taken from the victim. The other man involved in the robbery, Charles Reid, 30, of 72 Kingsdale street, Dorchester, has not as yet been located. On October 10, Sergeant Ingener obtained complaints in Roxbury Court for unarmed robbery against Charles F. Barker and Rose M. McGinn, "the blonde woman." The defendants were arraigned before Judge Thomas Spring and held for the November sitting of the grand jury in the sum of $10,000 each. On October 23 the Suffolk county grand jury returned indictments against both defendants and their trial is now pending.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty and spirit of cooperation, so necessary for the accomplishment of police work, as it was displayed by these officers in the speedy solution of these crimes.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Building Demolitions

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The houses numbered 2, 4, 6, and 9 Short Street court, 4 Bellows place, 4 Kelly's Block, Ward 2, have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. The buildings are now open to trespass and they are a menace to the neighborhood.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1924, as amended, particularly section 116d thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structures.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

U. S. Wrecking.—2 Short Street court, $800; 4 Short Street court, $800; 6 Short Street court, $800; 9 Short Street court, $1,200; 4 Bellows place, $1,200; 4 Kelly's Block, $1,200; total, $6,000.

Central Wrecking.—2 Short Street court, $985; 4 Short Street court, $985; 6 Short Street court, $985; 9 Short Street court, $1,740; 4 Bellows place, $1,890; 4 Kelly's Block, $1,080; total, $7,665.

E. Polcari & Son.—2 Short Street court, $1,090; 4 Short Street court, $1,090; 6 Short Street court, $1,090; 9 Short Street court, $1,650; 4 Bellows place, $1,650; 4 Kelly's Block, $1,650; total, $8,220.

Lyons Wrecking.—2 Short Street court, $1,100; 4 Short Street court, $1,100; 6 Short Street court, $1,100; 9 Short Street court, $1,100; 4 Bellows place, $1,100; 4 Kelly's Block, $1,100; total, $6,600.

John A. Berardi.—2 Short Street court, $700; 4 Short Street court, $700; 6 Short Street court, $760; 9 Short Street court, $760; 4 Bellows place, $760; 4 Kelly's Block, $1,200; total, $4,880.

John A. Berardi Wrecking Company has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, is a contract price higher than the $2,000 statutory limitation upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety requiring immediate action, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding of a contract to the John A. Berardi Wrecking Company in the sum of $4,880, without advertising, as required in the city charter.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Water Cost Study

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

A recent preliminary study which has been conducted of water revenue by the city indicates that the costs of purchasing and distributing water are considerably in excess of the water revenue of the city.

In the past, reported water expenses have been limited to the cost of operating the Public Works Department, Water Division, a portion of the Collector's Office expenses, and a small portion of the Public Works Department automotive maintenance costs. Our studies indicate that additional direct water expenses of this department are at least 10 per cent greater than heretofore reported.

In addition, there are many indirect city costs, such as general administration, space, lighting, heating costs, legal services, depreciation and obsolescence of our water distribution system which have never been recorded in connection with establishing water rates.

In 1961 this situation will be further aggravated by an anticipated 25 per cent to 50 per cent increase in MDC water assessments. An increase in water charges is unavoidable. Before revising rates, an accurate and thorough study of our water costs should be made for the purposes of establishing equitable higher rates.

Camp Dresser & McKee, Consulting Engineers, 14 Court street, Boston, a nationally recognized firm with considerable experience in water works engineering, have proposed to make the necessary survey on a force account basis not to exceed $5,000. Since the work involved in a water works rate survey is of a professional engineering character and the charges proposed are not excessive, your permission is requested to dispense with the public advertising of bids and to award a contract to Camp Dresser & McKee for the study at a cost not to exceed $5,000.

Respectfully,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

N. Y. AUDIENCE OF MUNICIPAL EXPERTS HEARS BOSTON STORY MAYOR COLLINS ON NATION-WIDE PANEL AT ANNUAL AMA CONFERENCE

Following are the remarks of Mayor John F. Collins before the Annual Conference of the American Municipal Association at Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, on November 28:

November, 1960, is a very good time for municipal officials to be considering the conservation and renewal of cities.

The decade of the fifties saw a gradual awakening to the seriousness of the urban crisis. Throughout the last ten years slums and blight have continued to spread swiftly through our cities, particularly the larger ones. The cost of providing health, welfare, police, fire, and other services to slum areas has skyrocketed. The city's tax base has been jeopardized and private capital has shown a preference for suburban locations for new investments in industrial and commercial facilities.

Awareness of Urban Crisis

Every one of us in this room is painfully familiar with this story. Fortunately for us, and for the cities we represent, the concern we feel in city hall is spreading to other levels of government, to industry and business, to the universities, and most important to the city dwellers themselves.

Where once there was a spirit of resignation or timidity, in city hall and elsewhere, there is now a spirit of boldness, of enterprise, a willingness to face up to the problems and do something about them.

Happily for all of us, during the decade of the fifties there were a few enterprising cities and mayors who had the courage and the imagination to launch comprehensive urban renewal programs and to push them through. All of us will benefit from their pioneering.

A Wholesale Proposition

I am confident that in the decade of the sixties we will see urban renewal on a comprehensive "wholesale" basis rather than the project-by-project "retail" basis which has been used too much in the past.

Our panel is concerned with the larger cities, the cities of 250,000 and above. These larger cities have all of the problems of the smaller, older cities, and some additional ones which come to them solely because of their size. In the larger cities, for example, we must have a continuing concern with the apparently never-ending crisis of mass transportation. The federal government has been willing enough to spend substantial funds running into the billions of dollars to give us highways to bring the suburban commuters into our cities, but there has never been, and is not now, a federal mass transportation policy or program.

As I have studied urban renewal programs in the various major cities of America, I have been impressed with the variety of approaches which have been taken. For this reason, I think you might be interested in a brief account of how we are approaching urban renewal in Boston. We have a declining tax base; our tax list has shrunk from two billion dollars in 1930 to under a billion and a half in 1960 despite the enormous inflation of that period. Our population has shrunk. We lost over 100,000 people from 1950-1960, the largest percentage drop in any major city in the United States. Our tax rate has increased 56 per cent in the last ten years.

The Boston Program

We began this administration last January with an all-out austerity effort. We accomplished our purpose with a no-hire, no-fire policy, and by cutting out marginal services. The tax rate was reduced by a modest amount for the first time in ten years.

Realizing, however, that austerity alone was not enough, we embarked upon a comprehensive urban renewal program.

As a first step we prepared an over-all development program.

It took in all parts of the city. It assigned different priorities to different areas depending upon the need and the possibilities. It recognized the need for a substantial commitment of city funds and a corresponding commitment of federal funds.

Progress to Date

As the first year of the administration comes to a close, here is where we stand in Boston:

1. A development program has been prepared and approved, not

FIN. COM. "DEPLORES" NEW ASST. SCHOOL SUPT. PLAN

November 30, 1960.

DR. FREDERICK J. GILLIS, Supt.
Boston Public Schools.

DEAR SIR:

The Finance Commission deplores the recent discarding of the system of functional assignment of assistant superintendents in favor of a system of geographical assignment. The effect of this action is to abolish an educational administrative achievement which was a long time coming.

According to the new plan of assignments of assistant superintendents effective December 1, 1960, each assistant superintendent is assigned a certain number of high schools, a certain number of junior highs and a certain number of elementary districts (on a geographical basis), and a miscellany of other school activities. The only exception to this plan is the case of the assistant superintendent in charge of personnel. This change appears to be a return to the situation which the Finance Commission Survey of 1944 (called the Strayer Survey) deplored and on which it made the following observations:

That report recommended, "That the duties of the individual assistant superintendents be assigned, not as at present, partly on a geographical and partly on a functional basis, but entirely on a functional basis."

The report found that, "The greatest weakness (of the central administrative organization) is to be found in the assignments of the several assistant superintendents. Each of them has a regional assignment which involves responsibility for the supervision of elementary, intermediate, and high schools. In addition, they each are given a number of miscellaneous assignments. This precludes the possibility of specialization and the development of high competence in any phase of the school program."

History of This Subject

The interest of the Finance Commission in this matter stems from the fact that for many years the Commission had endeavored to do away with the geographical system of assignments.

As far back as 1931, the Finance Commission, in a report on the methods of administration in the Boston Public Schools, made by professional educators, expressed opposition to the then prevailing geographical system of assignment of assistant superintendents in the following words:

"The purpose of providing Assistant Superintendents is to assist the Superintendent in his great task of unifying and impelling the system towards its main end. He cannot alone keep in touch with all the schools and all the departments. He needs assistants that can keep him in touch. He should expect each of them to know more than he himself can know about certain phases of the work. If each of his assistants undertakes to know about all phases they will be unable to supplement his own knowledge in any effective way. To assign them to sections of the City accentuates instead of counteracting the divisive tendencies of the districts.

"The masters of the districts afford locally a general supervision. The system of departments affords a considerable degree of special supervision. The position of Assistant Superintendent is established to coordinate both and to promote their consistent progress. This again will hardly be brought about by handing all kinds of schools and departments to the several assistants in equal shares. The Masters and Directors, like the Superintendents, would turn for help with more confidence to the Assistant Superintendent who was more familiar than themselves with the particular department in which help was needed.

"The one who looks after high schools both sympathetically and intelligently may not be the one who can do the same for the elementary schools. The one who is qualified to oversee vocational training may not be equally entitled to the confidence of the primary school teacher when he pays a visit that determines her rating. Even if the professional training of each of the six justifies him in assuming oversight of every kind of school activity, he will be unable to develop his efficiency very far along one line as long as he undertakes to spread himself over them all. It seems to us that the Assistant Superintendents should be assigned to limited fields of work over the whole City rather than to all fields in sections of the City."

About twelve years ago, this objective was finally achieved, in substance, and a pattern of assignment was adopted which followed the Finance Commission's 1944 recommendations rather closely.

The Finance Commission's report of 1944 had stated that each of the six suggested basic units of school administrative organization should be headed up by an assistant superintendent. These were listed as:

1. Personnel;
2. Curriculum development and improvement of instruction;
3. Elementary schools;
4. Secondary schools;
5. Adult education and special subjects; and
6. Business affairs.

Finally, in 1948, a system was set up under which elementary education became the primary function of one assistant superintendent; another was assigned to secondary education throughout the system; another to junior high school education throughout the system; another to curriculum development and improvement of instruction as primary assignment; another to personnel; another to adult education and special services.

The Finance Commission's Report of 1944 (Strayer Report) the only comprehensive professional survey of the Boston School System made in the past thirty years, offered a blueprint of sound organization and administration for the Boston schools. It has taken many years to achieve many of the objectives set forth in the recommendations of that survey. Many basic recommended objectives have finally been achieved: modern business management, accounting and budgeting were installed; the superintendent was made chief executive officer of the School Committee in fact as well as name; assistant superintendents were placed on functional assignments and relieved of their geographical responsibilities; and many other basic changes were made eventually.

Accordingly, the Finance Commission views with alarm the scrapping of any of these improvements which took so long to achieve. The Commission considers that this new plan of assignment of assistant superintendents represents a radical departure from a principal recommendation of the Strayer Survey, viz., the basic principle of functional assignment rather than geographical assignment. The functional basis, moreover, is the general pattern found elsewhere in the country.

A principal reason offered for the change to the geographical basis is that it would provide a greater familiarity with all levels of education; and that such knowledge would be helpful, for example, in rating teachers for promotion.

Notwithstanding such alleged benefits, the fact remains that the larger benefits of educational policy which derive from the functional assignment plan, and are calculated to benefit the whole system, appear to be lost in the geographical assignment plan. Such is the position of the Finance Commission's "Strayer Report"; therefore, it is the position of the Finance Commission today.

Accordingly, the Finance Commission respectfully requests that you reconsider this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

ANTHONY J. YOUNG, Chairman,

Mayor In Plea For State Purchase Of Old Colony Roadbed

Mayor John F. Collins, on December 1, called upon the incoming and outgoing state administration, legislative leaders, the Massachusetts Transportation Committee, and civic-minded business leaders to do all in their power to pass legislation calling for the purchase of the Old Colony roadbed.

Mayor Collins said "Now is the time for unified action and the time to cast aside all political differences in order that the whole state may profit by a purchase which is wise and imperative by any standard."

The Mayor said the continuance of commuter rapid transit facilities is vitally needed for the preservation of not only Boston's economic well-being but for the entire Commonwealth.

Mayor Collins said he will personally appear before a special session of the Legislature to urge favorable action in the taking of the Old Colony option which expires December 16.

Boston Looks For State Grant Of $3 Million On Urban Renewal

The Boston Redevelopment Authority, at its meeting on November 30, voted to apply to the State Housing Board for reimbursement of half the city's share of the cost of the New York Streets and West End Redevelopment projects.

The Authority expects to receive approximately $800,000 on the New York Streets development and close to $2,500,000 on the Charles River development in the West End.

The application for this reimbursement is made possible under Chapter 776 of the Acts of 1960, which was enacted into law on November 23, 1960.

TRAFFIC RULINGS

Temporary

The Traffic Commission has voted as follows:

That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, for a trial period of sixty (60) days, the Traffic Rules and Regulations of the City of Boston are amended as follows, effective December 1, 1960:

Article IV, Section 15A (All-Night Parking), is amended by adding the following at the end:

"and further provided, that this rule and regulation shall not apply to the parking and standing of a vehicle adjacent to the curb or edge of the roadway on any side of any such street, highway, road or parkway outside said downtown area of the city unless such parking or standing of a vehicle is otherwise prohibited and where the parking or standing of a vehicle is prohibited under the provisions of Article IV, section 3, part 2, of these rules and regulations on the opposite side of such street, highway, road or parkway at all times."

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following:

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing of the streets listed below, vehicles were to be allowed in said streets conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence November 22, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rules and regulations to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following streets when and where official signs are in place:

Chilton Road, West Roxbury.
From Weld street to Maple street.
Concord Street, Charlestown.
From Monument square to Bunker Hill street.
Cross Street, Charlestown.
From High street to Bartlett street.

IMPROVEMENTS VOTED

DANNY ROAD, PRIVATE WAY

Permission is hereby granted to Gerald N. Nuzzolo to open for public travel Danny road, Hyde Park district, from Reynold road approximately 250 feet southeasterly, as constructed in accordance with the direction, width, lines, and grades as shown on a plan by Edmund Corsano, Surveyor, dated December 16, 1959, and on file in the office of the Engineering Division, Public Works Department.

only by the official authorities but by every major civic organization and communication medium in the City of Boston. I have never seen in my adult life such an outpouring of civic and community support for any program as has greeted this development program for Boston.

2. Not only has the over-all program been conceived and approved, it is being implemented. The action steps are the designation by the Redevelopment Authority, city council, and the mayor of ten general neighborhood renewal plan areas for active urban renewal study. The applications have been prepared and submitted to the Urban Renewal Administration. I would like to say here and now that the reception which Boston has had from Urban Renewal Commissioner David Walker and Regional Administrator Lester Eisner has been absolutely wonderful. They have cooperated with us in every respect and given us great encouragement in this ambitious undertaking. I would like to pay particular tribute to Dave Walker for the readiness with which he saw the need for this kind of a program for Boston and the full extent of cooperation which he has given us in starting it on its way.

3. We have reorganized our approach to all phases of the development program. Through special legislation approved by the Massachusetts Legislature we were able to combine redevelopment, renewal, planning, capital improvement, and tax agreement powers in one agency, Boston Redevelopment Authority, subject to the approval of the mayor. To further this integration of authority and responsibility, the Redevelopment Authority and the mayor have separately designated one individual as development administrator to be in charge of the development program for the authority and also in the office of development for the mayor.

Characteristics of Program

At the end of the first year of this new administration we will be on our way with what we proudly believe is the most exciting and comprehensive urban renewal program in the country.

This program has three characteristics which are very important to us:

One, it is comprehensive. Our problems are so serious that we feel we have no choice but to work in ten areas simultaneously.

Two, it is rehabilitation oriented. In Boston we feel we have no choice other than to make rehabilitation work. We must resolve whatever problems or difficulties get in our way because only through effective, large-scale rehabilitation can an old city such as ours be saved.

Three, we propose to take the people of these renewal neighborhoods into our complete confidence. Instead of planning for them we will plan with them. We will get the benefit of their advice and suggestions. I am confident that by putting our trust in them, they in turn will put their trust in us, and that together we will put the program across.

Need More Financial Aid

We have been much heartened recently in Massachusetts by the adoption at the state level of a strong program of financial assistance to the cities and towns for urban renewal projects. I am confident that with this additional financial assistance we shall move ahead even more quickly.

At the federal level, from which most of the funds must come, there is every reason to believe that the cities are coming into their own. We do not ask undue preferment nor do we expect it. All we seek is recognition of our needs. I think we are at last going to have a seat at the cabinet table and the financial support which cities require and which is available from no other source.

The President-Elect's Position

Our President-elect, Massachusetts' own Jack Kennedy, has certainly made his position quite clear. As a Congressman and as a Senator he has repeatedly voted for measures which would give adequate aid to the cities of America. A year ago, at the outset of his campaign for the presidential nomination, he spoke in Denver to the last annual Congress of the American Municipal Association, and set forth in detail his own commitment to a major program of urban renewal and aid and assistance to the cities of America. The platform adopted at Los Angeles gave greater recognition and support to the needs of cities than has any platform ever before.

By calling the Kennedy Conference on Urban Renewal and by the speech he made at that great gathering on October 10, our President-elect further demonstrated his commitment to the cause of the cities.

Some Points of Emphasis

I would like to outline briefly some of the points that I hope will receive major attention in the months immediately ahead:

1. A cabinet post of secretary of urban development and housing.

I hope that the Congress will take early action on this proposal. We do indeed need a seat at the cabinet table. It would be my hope that the first secretary to occupy this high office would be chosen from the ranks of our mayors who know these problems most intimately and thoroughly.

2. Early action on a large-scale urban renewal program.

As you know, no additional funds were provided by the Congress for 1960, and there is therefore an immediate and pressing need for increased urban renewal grants.

3. A big push for rehabilitation.

To date, Section 220 and Section 221 rehabilitation programs have had very limited success indeed. I would urge that the Congress and the new Administration take whatever steps are necessary to make large-scale rehabilitation as attractive as possible not only to cities but to property owners, private investors, and lending institutions.

4. Public housing: A more versatile and flexible public housing program.

I know of no way to meet the housing needs of low-income families without subsidy. However, I would hope that we could avoid the large-scale projects of the past and for the future concentrate on rehabilitation and on small-scale projects which will blend into existing neighborhoods.

Mass Transportation Problem

5. A balanced transportation program.

We are already far along the way toward the final commitments on location and design of the interstate and urban highway program. With a few striking exceptions here and there this program has been designed as if mass transportation were entirely on its way out. Boston as you may know is geographically a small place, and we simply cannot find room downtown for the highways and the parking lots which will be necessary if mass transportation is not recognized as a full partner with the highway program in the allocation of federal funds. I would urge action on this problem at the earliest possible date.

Unified Approach

For the big cities particularly, I hope consideration will be given to a unified approach to the various federal aid programs for cities. It seems to me that the responsibility should primarily be local but that we should have one over-all agreement with the federal government and have flexibility within that over-all agreement to schedule and carry out the various projects as our own plans and priorities require.

A Major New Force

Finally, I would urge a recognition at the federal level of the metropolitan area as a major new force in American life. I do not advocate metropolitan government, but I do think it is past time that we engaged in comprehensive, vigorous metropolitan and regional planning. I would hope that in a variety of ways the federal government would indicate its interest in metropolitan problems and offer incentives to the cities and their suburbs to get together and work out a common approach to common problems.

Specific Suggestions

In closing, I have these specific suggestions for our organization, the American Municipal Association, which has done so much to increase understanding and concern about the problems of cities. First, I think we should step up our own contacts with our own congressional delegations about these specific urban measures. Second, I think that we should respond with enthusiasm whenever appropriate committees of the Congress ask for our testimony. Third, I think we should institute AMA quarterly

PERCEPTIBLE DIP IN OCTOBER WELFARE EXPENDITURES

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department's report for October, 1960:

¶ Decreased medical payments brought the total departmental expenditures to $3,128,204 for October compared to $3,314,512 for the previous month. This was primarily due to a drop in costs for acute hospital care. There were 851 approvals and 910 closings, resulting in a decrease of 59 cases. The departmental caseload was 25,151 as of October 31.

¶ District office boundaries were changed as of October 1. This was done to bring about a more equal distribution of the caseload. Approximately 2,000 cases were involved in this administrative adjustment.

¶ Old Age Assistance: There were 15,812 clients who received an average of $110.66 during October. Actually, total expenditures amounted to $1,749,763 which was $131,575 less than those for September. Of the 192 applications approved, 155, or 80 per cent, received Social Security benefits of varying amounts with supplementary Old Age Assistance grants approved to meet budgeted needs. The death of the client was responsible for two thirds of the closings in this category.

¶ Aid to Dependent Children: With 12,116 children and 4,290 "grantee-relatives" receiving assistance, this category provided help to 16,406 persons. The total cost for this category was $800,411 and averaged $165 per case for the month of October. This figure is exclusive of personal resources and income. There were 140 applications approved and 127 cases closed, a net increase of 13 cases. This was the only category reporting a larger caseload for October.

¶ Disability Assistance: The cost for this program amounted to $430,958, a decrease of $36,851 or 7.9 per cent compared to the previous month. Even though there were 151 formal requests processed during October, only 60 per cent (90) were approved. Of the 61 applications rejected, most of these lacked medical eligibility. With 112 cases closed, the caseload was 3,182 as of the end of the month.

¶ General Relief: This category showed the greatest turnover with 429 applications approved, 447 cases closed and 50 applications rejected. The total activity represented more than that for all the other categories combined. The net result was that the caseload went down 18 cases but payments increased by $7,342. The average cost per case was $77.90 for the month. There were 108 cases transferred from this category to the other more permanent types of assistance.

meetings of the mayors interested in urban renewal and related programs. Fourth, I think the AMA should request an early meeting with President-elect Kennedy to express to him again our appreciation for his interest in the problems of cities and to promise him our support in carrying out his urban program.

As we move into a new era of federal assistance in the solution of urban problems I am confident that we will all demonstrate in our own cities that we have the initiative, the courage, the imagination to do our part of the job. I am confident that we will never let urban renewal become a series of real estate transactions and that we will always remember that we are dealing with the lives and homes of people who have placed their confidence most directly in us.

DUMP FIRE CALLS FOR RECORD NUMBER OF UNITS

The largest force ever to combat a nonstructural fire in Boston was assembled on November 29 to extinguish a 30-foot deep smouldering inferno at the Hallet Street dump in Dorchester.

The underground fire had been raging since Thanksgiving at the Hallet Street dump when it was touched off by youngsters, police said.

Fire Commissioner Henry A. Scagnoli marshaled a formidable force of men and equipment to extinguish this source of great clouds of acrid smoke over parts of Dorchester, Quincy, and Milton. Units assembled were two complete fire companies, four amphibious ducks, three Coast Guard boats, four bulldozers, a crane and a lighting plant.

Tons of water and a round-the-clock operation brought the greater part of the smoke nuisance under control by the following day.

Sergt. Edward J. O'Neil, from Division 6 to Division 18.

General Order No. 822.

Sergeant Herbert C. Rodday, Jr., and Patrolmen Matthew J. Cotugno and Herbert G. Duzan of Division 6 are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 5.40 A.M., October 19, 1960, Sergeant Rodday, Patrol Supervisor, and Patrolmen Cotugno and Duzan in Radio Car 6-A, responded to a radio call to the Mary-Ann Restaurant, 414 West Broadway, South Boston. Upon arrival, the owner, Mr. Hoyle Burke of 74 Germain avenue, Quincy, reported that upon arriving at the restaurant at about 5.30 A.M., he found the premises had been entered and the following property taken: a Smith-Corona portable typewriter in a brown leather case, a half case of Matchless Brand crab meat, eight cans of Matchless Brand tuna fish, two boxes of cigars, four gallon cans of string beans, and assorted cans of fish, clam chowder, and chicken. Upon investigation by the officers with the owner, it was determined that entrance had been made by some person or persons pushing open a loose door at 148 F street, going through the corridor which is located in the rear of the restaurant and then breaking a panel in door leading into the kitchen. The officers also found stacked near the door several dozen canned goods which, in all probability, the culprits had intended to pick up later.

Sergeant Rodday and Patrolmen Cotugno and Duzan recalled observing one Ronald MacDonald and Thomas Mulrey several times during their tour of duty in the vicinity of the Waldorf Restaurant in Perkins square and in the vicinity of West Broadway and E street, both of whom possessed criminal records, and believing them to be likely suspects, an immediate search for them was made but without success.

Patrolman Cotugno recalling that Mulrey resided somewhere on F street, the officers began a canvass of the houses in the vicinity of the restaurant in an effort to locate the name Mulrey on a doorbell. In the hallway of the fourth house investigated, 166 F street, Patrolman Duzan found two El Producto cigar bands and two cellophane wrappers on the floor and on returning to the restaurant learned from the owner that the two boxes of cigars stolen were El Productos. The officers aroused the occupants of Suite 1 of that address and ascertained that the Mulrey family lived in Suite 3. Upon going to that floor, they were admitted by Mary Mulrey, mother of Thomas, who informed the officers her son had not been home since 2 A.M. Upon searching his room, the officers found one large can of Matchless Brand crab meat in a metal cabinet. The officers inquired of Mrs. Mulrey if she knew the address of Ronald MacDonald and she informed them she did not know where he lived, but believed he worked as a longshoreman.

After confirming with the owner of the restaurant that the can of crab meat recovered had been stolen in the break, the officers went to the Army Base, but did not find MacDonald present for the longshoreman pickup. Sergeant Rodday then contacted the Bureau of Records and obtained 167 D street, South Boston, as the last known address of Ronald MacDonald. Upon arrival at that address they found Ronald MacDonald in the front bedroom of Suite 2 and Thomas Mulrey asleep on a sofa in the living room. On a chair in the latter room was the stolen typewriter and in the bedroom the other stolen property.

MacDonald and Mulrey were arrested on suspicion of breaking and entering the Mary-Ann Restaurant and larceny therein. The stolen property was seized as evidence.

On October 20, 1960, in South Boston Court, Thomas Mulrey, 20 years, single, of 166 F street, South Boston, and Ronald MacDonald, 20 years, single, of 167 D street, South Boston, were arraigned for breaking and entering a building in the nighttime and larceny therein and for receiving stolen goods, and disposition was continued until October 27, 1960. On that date, October 27, 1960, Mulrey and MacDonald were held for the grand jury.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the fine police work performed by Sergeant Redday and Patrolmen Cotugno and Duzan in this case, who by their keen observation, knowledge of known criminals and perseverance in their investigation brought about the apprehension, within a short period of time, of the two thieves who had committed the robbery and the recovery of the stolen property.

November 28.

General Order No. 823.

Acting under provisions of chapter 32, section 7, as amended (State-Boston Retirement System), the Boston Retirement Board has approved for retirement the following named officer, effective at the close of business Wednesday, November 30, 1960.

In view of this operation of law, after November 30, 1960, the said police officer shall no longer be an active member of this department, and it is hereby ordered that its records be so amended:

Patrolman Cletus H. DuWors, Traffic Division.

November 29.

General Order No. 824.

Sergeant Detective Joseph M. Jordan and Detectives Joseph G. Cunningham, James W. Moar, Francis D. Powers, and John V. Nee, Special Service Squad, Bureau of Criminal Investigation are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 7:33 A.M., Sunday, September 25, 1960, two officers of Division 4, responded to a radio call to proceed to Steuben's Restaurant, 114 Boylston street, city, to investigate a holdup. On entering the premises they proceeded to the kitchen and there found ten men lying face down on the kitchen floor with their hands tied behind their backs with copper picture wire. The officers immediately released the men who stated they had been tied and held captive by armed bandits who had forced them to lie on the floor during a two-hour period.

At 7:45 A.M., the same date, Max Schneider, owner and manager of Steuben's Restaurant, reported that about twenty minutes earlier he had entered his place of business through the back stairway entrance on Van Rensselaer place and when arriving at the doorway at the top of the stairs leading to the kitchen, observed the chef lying on the kitchen floor with his hands tied behind his back. Realizing that something serious had happened, Schneider ran back down the stairs and into his car, and as he started to drive off in search of a police officer he observed two men running out of the rear exit of the restaurant, carrying revolvers. One of them ran to Schneider's automobile and placed his gun against the window on the driver's side, whereupon Schneider took off in his car down Van Rensselaer place and right on Tremont street, stopping his car at the intersection of La Grange and Washington streets. On looking up La Grange street, he observed the same two armed men running across Tremont street into La Grange and then into Tamworth toward Boylston street, where they disappeared from sight. Schneider then sounded a citizen's alarm and returned to his restaurant, where he notified the police emergency dispatcher by telephone, giving a description of each of the holdup men, both of whom had a flesh-colored nylon stocking over his nose and lower part of the face. He stated one carried a blue steel revolver, the other what appeared to be a Luger-type pistol colored black.

Investigation disclosed that the ten victims, all employees of Steuben's Restaurant, were held up individually as they reported for work, tied and forced to lie on the floor. One of them, a nephew of the owner and employed as steward at the restaurant, was prodded and questioned by the bandits as to whether any "cops" came on the premises in the morning, stating, "We hate cops and if one comes in, we'll shoot him."

Examination of the methods used by the bandits, indicating that the premises and employees had been well screened and the crime well mapped out and timed (their plans being thwarted only by the early arrival and swift action of the owner), showed that dangerous criminals were involved. As a result of intimidating telephone calls, Schneider and his nephew were given police coverage while traveling to and from the restaurant during the nighttime period.

Sergeant Detective Jordan and Detectives Moar, Cunningham, Nee, and Powers, relieved from regular routine duties and assigned to the above case, started an immediate continuing day and night investigation by checking and re-checking on the activities of known criminals and by repeated questioning of the victims and showing them pictures of criminals, including recent parolees. In the course of investigation it was ascertained from the witnesses that one of the holdup men had an impediment in his speech.

About 1 A.M., on October 17, 1960, the officers observed at the corner of Essex and Washington streets two men who were known to them as having been convicted previously of armed robbery and who answered the physical description of the men who attempted the hold-up of Steuben's Restaurant. They stopped the two men, one Arthur T. Benoit, Jr., 20 years, single, 75 Bowdoin street, Medford, and one Lawrence E. Goldman, 19 years, single, 11 McClellan street, Dorchester, and while questioning them noticed that Benoit had a speech impediment. The suspects were brought to Police Headquarters and questioned.

It was learned that the suspects had been unemployed for a long period of time. However, Benoit was attired in expensive new clothing. When interrogated regarding this, he stated that on October 12, 1960, he had spent $300 in stores throughout Boston on wearing apparel with money he won gambling.

Benoit and Goldman were booked on suspicion of attempted armed robbery of Steuben's Restaurant, and in the morning line-up on October 17, 1960, one of the victims picked them as the men who had committed the attempted hold-up at Steuben's on the morning of September 25, 1960. In a special line-up later the same morning, Morris Polonsky, proprietor of the Allston Pharmacy, 177 Allston street, Brighton, positively identified Arthur T. Benoit, Jr., as the man who held him up on October 10, 1960. The following morning Max Schneider picked Lawrence E. Goldman from the line-up as the man who placed the gun against the window of his car on the morning of September 25, 1960.

On November 3, 1960, the defendants Benoit and Goldman were arraigned in Boston Municipal Court before Judge Gillen, charged with attempted armed robbery of Steuben's Restaurant. Probable cause was found and both were held for the grand jury, with bail set at $20,000 for Goldman and $5,000 for Benoit. Each was indicted, on November 7, 1960, for assault with intent to rob Max Schneider and on eight counts of confining and putting in fear for the purpose of stealing from a safe, the employees of Steuben's Restaurant, 114 Boylston street, Boston.

On Friday, November 19, 1960, the defendants were arraigned before Judge Frank J. Donahue in Suffolk Superior Court, trial was continued to December 12, 1960, bail set at $50,000 for Benoit and $20,000 for Goldman.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty displayed by Sergeant Detective Jordan and Detectives Moar, Cunningham, Nee, and Powers in the above case. With only meager facts to work on, these officers diligently carried out an investigation which resulted in bringing to justice two dangerous criminals.

Health Education Activities in Parochial Schools

The Bureau of Health Education has played an active role in the health education program of the parochial schools since 1943, when it was decided to provide consultation service to all elementary parochial schools rather than to the limited group which had been receiving service. A committee made up of representatives from the Archdiocese of Boston and the Health Department prepared an "Outline of a Course of Study in Health" for the elementary grades. The Bureau of Health Education participated in the preparation of the outline and since then has continued assisting with the health education program. The outline was revised in 1953 as an integrated course in Science, Health and Safety with a second revision in 1957.

The health educator assigned to the schools functions as a resource person and a consultant to the administrative office, the school supervisors, and the teaching staff. In addition, each year an in-service education meeting is planned and conducted in each school. Teaching units, information on source materials, visual aids, exhibits, and other reference materials are prepared for the teachers. Charts and models are available from the bureau on a loan basis.

The health education program is carried on in 58 elementary schools with a population of approximately 34,000 students. Science, Health and Safety is on a par with other subjects in the curriculum with time allocated for teaching and term examinations required from grades three through eight.

K. E. FITZGERALD, R.N., M.P.H.,

VETERAN'S RETIREMENT

PROTECTIVE LIGHTS

As a deterrent to burglars, Seattle's light company recommends keeping a porch light on all night on a dark street. The cost, it is related, is only a half cent. Several centuries ago, street lighting in New York was supplied by lamps hung on the house of every seventh householder. Returning to that practice, the New York City Council is considering an ordinance requiring a light on a building front every 50 feet of street frontage.

GAS FITTING PERMITS

The Building Department has issued the following gas fitting permits for installation of appliances for the week ending November 26:

HIGHEST POLICE HONORS GO TO DET. JOSEPH G. CUNNINGHAM

Meritorious Service Awards Made to 19 Others in the Department

POLICE DEPARTMENT

OFFICE OF POLICE
COMMISSIONER

General Order No. 825.

A Board of Merit, consisting of Superintendent Francis J. Hennessy, and Deputy Superintendents James J. Hinchey, John J. Danchy, Andrew Markhard, and Francis M. Tiernan, has brought to the attention of the Police Commissioner the following outstanding cases in which police officers of this department have especially distinguished themselves in the performance of their duty during the year 1960.

The commissioner therefore makes the following awards:

The Walter Scott Medal for Valor, a Department Medal of Honor, and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award to Detective Joseph G. Cunningham, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, Special Service Squad.

Faced Loaded Revolver

Detective Joseph G. Cunningham of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, Special Service Squad, is hereby awarded the Walter Scott Medal for Valor, a Department Medal of Honor, and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on July 13, 1960.

On July 13, 1960, Detective Cunningham, while off duty, observed a man whom he recognized as an escapee from Walpole State Prison and known to be a vicious, dangerous, and most-wanted criminal. This man had evaded capture for more than six months and was the leader of a gang responsible for a wave of armed robberies in this community.

Detective Cunningham carefully shadowed his suspect to a dwelling on Dorchester avenue and then alerted four other members of the Special Service Squad who responded immediately. Investigation revealed that an apartment at that address had been rented to a former associate of the suspect and the detectives kept it under close surveillance. When it was determined that three most dangerous, heavily-armed felons were "hiding out" in this apartment additional assistance was requested from Police Division 11. Upon arrival these officers were deployed around the building as a security measure.

Detective Cunningham, with his brother officers, Detectives Walsh, Moar, Powers, and Nee, employing the element of surprise, crashed through the front and rear of the apartment simultaneously. At the moment of entrance the leader of the gang attempted to draw a fully-loaded revolver from his belt. Detective Cunningham, with his revolver ready, shouted "Try it, and I'll kill you." The gang leader slowly raised his hands and surrendered. His confederates were quickly subdued and disarmed by the detectives.

These hardened criminals were subsequently convicted of a series of armed robberies and other serious offences and are now serving long terms in State Prison.

Department Medals of Honor and Thomas F. Sullivan Awards

The Department Medals of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award are hereby awarded to Detectives Edward J. Walsh, James W. Moar, Francis D. Powers, and John V. Nee of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, Special Service Squad, for meritorious service performed in the case previously cited.

Rescue of Aged Persons

Patrolmen Philip J. O'Neill, Francis X. Malone, and Warren R. Bradley of Division 14 are hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on November 12, 1959.

In the early morning, November 12, 1959, radio car Patrolmen O'Neill and Malone and route officer, Patrolman Bradley, while at Union square, Allston, observed smoke coming from a large wooden dwelling, a licensed lodging house, located at 502 Cambridge street. The officers immediately sounded an alarm of fire and also notified the Central Complaint Room.

Knowing that this building was the dwelling of many aged and infirm persons and fearful of a catastrophe, Patrolmen O'Neill, Malone, and Bradley ran to the house and observed flames shooting from the rear of the building. Unable to arouse the occupants they battered in the front and rear doors, entered the burning building and ran from door to door awakening the residents. In several cases the officers were compelled to break inner doors. With the flames spreading rapidly, the three patrolmen continued their search through the dark and heavy smoke of the three floors of the premises until all the occupants had been assisted to the street.

Capture of Armed Robbers

Patrolmen Vincent J. Mercadante and Joseph J. Mikenas, Jr., of Division 9 are hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on November 2, 1959.

On November 2, 1959, two men, one armed with a nickel-plated revolver, leaving a third man at the wheel of a waiting automobile with the motor running, entered the package goods store at 108 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury. The armed man, pointing the revolver at the clerk shouted "I want the money," and as the clerk opened the cash register, reached in and seized the contents. Both men then ran from the store.

At that moment Patrolmen Mercadante and Mikenas, in cruising wagon of Division 9, were passing the store. Observing men running and the clerk at the doorway waving his arms, the officers immediately sensed that a holdup was in progress.

As the fleeing bandits entered their "getaway car," Patrolman Mercadante drove the cruising wagon at an angle in front of the car, while Patrolman Mikenas approached the vehicle on foot. The driver of the "getaway car" drove over the sidewalk, narrowly missing Patrolman Mikenas, and sped away. The officers took up pursuit and after a furious chase through narrow Roxbury streets forced the bandits' car to the curb.

These armed robbers were placed under arrest and are now serving long prison terms.

Case of Blue Ink Clue

Detectives Joseph F. Denney, William T. Eunson, and Thomas J. McGuire of the Robbery Squad are hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty.

These detectives were assigned in a continuing investigation of armed holdups committed in Cumberland Farms, Inc., dairy stores, First National Stores, and various liquor stores and markets. Working as a three-man team, they spent not only their regular hours of duty but many extra hours staked out in various areas and obtaining and breaking down all available information. Working slowly and carefully they finally produced a so-called facsimile description of a suspect.

Patiently searching the files of the Identification Section, the detectives located a photograph of a hardened criminal who had been recently released from the Massachusetts State Prison.

The photograph was identified by a victim of two separate armed robberies at a First National Store in Eliot square, Roxbury.

As a result of this positive identification, these detectives staked out in the vicinity of Crescent avenue and Raven street, Dorchester, and on November 28, 1959, apprehended their suspect. The prisoner was found to have in his possession twenty-three one dollar bills, covered with blue ink which had spilled on them at the time of the First National Store robbery.

The prisoner confessed to the commission of fifteen armed holdups in this city between August 15, 1959, and November 27, 1959, and has been convicted for his crimes.

The detectives also seized a .45 caliber automatic pistol and recovered a stolen car used in the commission of these robberies.

Quick Switch to "Civies"

Patrolman John F. Chenette of the Traffic Division is hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on January 24, 1960.

On January 24, 1960, Patrolman Chenette who was assigned to a paid detail for the Boston Edison Company near the intersection of Cambridge and Charles streets, was informed that a young lady had been assaulted by a man in the "pedestrian passageway" under Charles street and that she was then on her way to the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Patrolman Chenette made an immediate and diligent search of the area but was unable to locate the attacker and telephoned the information to Division 3.

The officer returned to his assignment and about ten minutes later a young woman who refused to identify herself, came to him and informed him that she had been assaulted in the same "pedestrian passageway" by a young man, about 19 years of age, wearing a tweed jacket which he had thrown over her head while he attempted to wrestle her to the ground.

Patrolman Chenette received permission to absent himself from the detail while he procured civilian attire on his assumption that the wanted man was somewhere in the vicinity and would hesitate to put in an appearance while an officer in uniform was present. He returned to the intersection so attired and began a search for the culprit. His efforts were rewarded when he observed a young man who answered the description of the attacker loitering in front of the Nurses' Home of the Massachusetts General Hospital at a position from which he commanded an unobstructed view of both entrances to the "pedestrian passageway."

Patrolman Chenette approached the man, identified himself as a police officer and questioned him at length regarding these offenses. After close interrogation the suspect admitted to these attacks and also to other cases of molesting young women in this area. He was placed under arrest and subsequently committed as a defective delinquent.

Vicious Assault

Patrolman James R. Bickerton, Identification Section of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, is hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on April 7, 1959.

On April 7, 1959, a 65-year-old widow was the victim of a vicious felonious assault in her own home in the South End district. Questioned at the Boston City Hospital she described her assailant as a young man wearing a U. S. Navy uniform.

With only this meager description, detectives of Division 4 were unable to identify the attacker and requested the services of a fingerprint expert.

Patrolman Bickerton responded and after a lengthy and diligent search discovered four fresh prints on the headboard of the bed. These four latent prints were forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C., for comparison search with prints on file in that Bureau. Sometime later information was received from J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, that these prints were those of a young U. S. Navy seaman and he was apprehended and convicted of this atrocious crime.

When the assailant of this woman fled her home, there were no witnesses or clues to assist in the solution of this crime other than the slight description of the criminal received from the hospitalized victim. The resultant indictment, conviction and sentencing of the offender was solely and directly the result of the diligence and devotion to duty displayed by Patrolman Bickerton.

Patrolman Nicholas M. Clinton, Jr., of Division 11 is hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on March 16, 1960.

About 2.20 A.M., March 16, 1960, Patrolman Clinton, while patrolling his route in the Dorchester district, heard a noise coming from one of the stores in that area. He immediately investigated and upon inspecting the premises at 157 Neponset avenue, occupied by the Bearing Service Company, found that the front door had been forced.

Patrolman Clinton entered the store with drawn revolver and in the office found a man, whom he ordered to walk with his hands up from the office to the front of the store. The subject complied with this command and as he walked toward Patrolman Clinton, the officer observed a knife in his hand. Patrolman Clinton disarmed him and took him to Station 11, where he was identified. He admitted forcing the door and stealing U. S. currency. He was booked on suspicion of breaking and entering a building in the nighttime and larceny.

Taxicab Holdup

Detectives Charles W. Miller, Jr., John T. Carter, and Alan J. Crisp of the Robbery Squad are hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on April 1, 1960.

Since January 6, 1960, the taxicab operators of this city and surrounding cities and towns had been the victims of assault and robbery by a male person who seemed to defy the police in Brookline, Cambridge, Somerville, and Boston. These crimes were committed in the dead of the night and the above-mentioned detectives spend many extra hours of duty on their own time in an attempt to locate and arrest this dangerous felon.

At about 1.30 A.M., April 1, 1960, a man employed by the Checker Taxi Company as an operator, was engaged by a man at Washington and Avery streets who directed him to drive to Brighton by way of Storow Drive. He did as directed and upon arriving at Myrick street, Brighton, he was assaulted and robbed by the fare and the Checker taxicab stolen from him.

At about 1.50 A.M., same date, a radio alarm was received as the result of the driver calling the Central Complaint Bureau stating that the holdup man was operating the cab stolen from him, Mass. Reg. A2745.

These detectives worked out a plan of attack based on the pattern used by the holdup man on previous occasions, went immediately to the vicinity of Cottage Farm Bridge and Commonwealth avenue. The suspect was netted in the trap. The Checker taxicab was spotted on the Boston University Bridge by Detectives Miller and Carter who followed the cab into Mountfort and St. Mary's streets at which point the detectives blocked it from entering Mountfort street in Boston. The operator jumped out of the stolen cab and refused to stop when so ordered by the detectives. He was chased on foot for about 150 yards when Detectives Miller and Carter discharged their service revolvers at the fleeing bandit striking him in the right thigh.

The prisoner was searched by Detective Miller at the time of arrest and a wallet taken from the taxicab driver in the holdup which occurred earlier that morning was found in his possession, together with property of other victims.

Narcotic Ring Broken

Patrolman Gerald R. Bulman, Special Service Squad of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, is hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on April 22, 1960.

On April 22, 1960, Patrolman Bulman, with Detective Edward J. Walsh, were patiently shadowing a known drug addict in the South End district. This addict, a young woman, was observed taking a taxi to Roxbury with a male companion. The officers followed and took both into custody on suspicion of violation of the Narcotic Drug Law. A search of the man at Police Headquarters provided the officers with a key to a locker, the location of which the prisoner refused to disclose. After a search of bus terminals, railroad depots, and subway stations they finally located the locker in the Dudley Street MTA Station. This locker revealed a brown paper bag containing heroin and other narcotic drugs valued at more than $5,000.

On being confronted with this evidence, the prisoner at first refused to talk but after diligent interrogation by the officers he admitted that he was both an addict and a "pusher" of narcotic drugs. He further revealed that he had stolen these drugs in a break into the home of a New York City narcotics peddler and that he came to Boston to sell the drugs to addicts in this city.

As a result of this arrest and investigation New York City police were able to break up a notorious ring of narcotic peddlers who have been operating successfully in that area and have shut off an extensive source of illegally obtained narcotic drugs.

Assailant of Women

Patrolman Thomas M. Lambert of Division 16 is hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on May 19, 1960.

On Thursday, May 19, 1960, an elderly lady, while in the vestibule of St. Cecilia's Church, Belvidere street, was assaulted by a man who grabbed her around the throat, threw her to the floor, then stole her handbag, and ran from the church. A priest heard the screams of this woman and pursued her assailant to the vicinity of Boylston and St. Cecilia streets, where the man disappeared.

Patrolman Lambert, performing traffic duty on Boylston street, was informed by the priest of what had taken place. The officer recalled observing a man answering the description given him entering the premises of a nearby cafe a few moments earlier. Patrolman Lambert searched these premises and found the suspect hiding in the basement. He was placed under arrest on suspicion of the above assault and robbery. From under a parked automobile on St. Cecilia street, the officer later recovered a handbag of the victim, who identified her assailant.

Further investigation revealed that the prisoner was the perpetrator of other attacks on helpless elderly women in this vicinity.

Safe Breakers Caught

Detective John R. Donovan and Patrolman Robert T. Glynn of Division 15 are hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor and the Thomas F. Sullivan Award for meritorious duty performed on March 31, 1960.

In the early morning of March 31, 1960, Patrolman Glynn, while patrolling his assigned sector, observed on the rear seat of a Ford station wagon, parked on Harvard street, Charlestown, a large brown canvas bag with a locked zippered top, marked "Hillcrest Dairy, Worcester, Massachusetts," said bag having been slashed open.

Patrolman Glynn called the officer in charge at the station relative to his suspicions concerning the car and the canvas bag and he was instructed to bring the bag to the station for safekeeping. The Worcester Police Department was then contacted and it was learned that the "Hillcrest Dairy" had been entered during the night of March 20, 1960, the safe ripped open, and about $10,000 in checks and U. S. currency stolen.

Armed with this information all dwellings on Harvard street were checked for the owner or occupants of the station wagon. During this time, Detective Donovan had the suspicious car under surveillance and was rewarded when he observed two men walking down Harvard street, one of whom was carrying a large cardboard box. As they started to raise the upper tail gate of the vehicle, Detective Donovan approached with gun in hand and placed them under arrest.

Investigation revealed these prisoners to be notorious "Safe Breakers" and they were sentenced to the State Prison for long terms.

SNOW REMOVAL CONTRACTS WITHOUT ADVERTISING

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

District 4

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On November 8, 1960, bids were opened in the Public Works Department for snow removal in various districts of the City of Boston.

Only one bid was received in District 4, that from the J. F. Stack & Co., at a price of $1.25 per cubic yard. This price is considerably higher than our engineers' estimate for the work and I therefore do not recommend an award.

Inasmuch as time does not permit re-advertising, I have negotiated with several contractors. Albert J. Welch, 318 North Beacon street, Brighton, has agreed to accept a contract at a unit price of 90 cents per cubic yard which, in my opinion, is a fair price.

Accordingly, it is recommended that the J. F. Stack & Co. bid be rejected, and that a contract for removing snow and furnishing labor and equipment for the purpose of supplementing the department forces and equipment in connection with the work of keeping highways and streets open following snowstorms be awarded in District 4 to Albert J. Welch, 318 North Beacon street, Brighton, without advertising, at the unit price of 90 cents per cubic yard.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

District 5

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On November 8, 1960, bids were opened in the Public Works Department on contracts for snow removal work in various districts of the City of Boston.

Only one bid was received in District 5, that from the Roslindale Contracting Company, at a unit price of $1.20 per cubic yard for snow removal. This price is considerably higher than our engineers' estimate for the work and I therefore do not recommend an award.

Inasmuch as time does not permit re-advertising, I have negotiated with several contractors, including the Roslindale Contracting Company, but have not been successful in arranging for a contract with a satisfactory unit price figure. However, the Roslindale Contracting Company has agreed to perform the contract as advertised provided all work, including during a severe storm, be paid for on a force account basis. It is my opinion that work on a force account basis can be performed at a substantially lower figure than the $1.20 per cubic yard low bid price.

Accordingly, it is recommended that the Roslindale Contracting Company bid of $1.20 per cubic yard be rejected, and that a contract for removing snow and furnishing labor and equipment for the purpose of supplementing the department forces and equipment in connection with the work of keeping highways and streets open following snowstorms be awarded, without advertising, to Roslindale Contracting Company, 4971 Washington street, West Roxbury, in District 5, on a force account basis.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

December 5.

General Order No. 826.

The following reassignments are hereby ordered to take effect Wednesday, December 7, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Patrolman Robert L. Chenette, from Division 4 to Bureau of Criminal Investigation (Special Service Squad).

Patrolman Robert L. Cunningham, from Division 4 to Bureau of Criminal Investigation (Special Service Squad).

December 5.

General Order No. 827.

Patrolmen Robert T. McCreary and George M. LoCascio of Division 4 are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 12.35 A.M., Saturday, November 19, 1960, Patrolman McCreary assigned to Routes 8 and 9 and preparing for his relief, upon completion of his first half tour of duty, while at Box No. 3, 428 Tremont street, observed three men involved in an altercation on the sidewalk at Tremont and Castle streets. Patrolman LoCascio who was off duty having completed a first half in Sector 4-L car, drove by in his own automobile and observing the altercation, joined Patrolman McCreary in the investigation.

As the officers approached the scene, two of the men took to flight leaving the third man on the sidewalk in an injured condition bleeding from wounds of the body. Patrolmen McCreary and LoCascio ordered the two men to halt, which they refused to do. As the men ran along Paul street, Patrolman McCreary pursued them on foot while Patrolman LoCascio proceeded in his automobile along Castle street to head them off. The men ran from Paul street into Village street, then into Castle street where the officers trapped and arrested at gunpoint, John Reardon, 20 years, single, of 82 Albion street, and Samuel Gordon, 28 years, single, of 25 Dwight street, both of the South End, on suspicion of armed robbery.

Meanwhile, the ambulance of Division 4 with Patrolmen Fitzgerald and Ryan responded to the scene and removed one John H. Marks, 42 years, single, of 17 Dover street, South End, to Boston City Hospital where, upon examination by Dr. Joseph Wyrzdzinski, he was found to be suffering from a puncture wound of the right abdomen, puncture wound of the lower back, and his name placed on the Danger List at 12.51 A.M., November 19. The victim made a statement that he had been assaulted and robbed of $52 in U. S. currency.

In Boston Municipal Court on Monday, November 21, 1960, John Reardon and Samuel Gordon were charged with armed robbery and assault and battery by means of a dangerous weapon. They were held in bail of $2,000 each with a continuance to December 1, 1960. On that date, the case was again continued for a period of two weeks.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty displayed by Patrolmen McCreary and LoCascio, the latter being off duty at the time, in this case. By their timely response to the scene of a serious crime, they succeeded in apprehending two vicious felons and the possible prevention of a criminal homicide.

CHANGE N. Y. SAFETY POSTERS

New York City's Traffic Department changed its poster reading to "cross at the start of the green," from "cross at the green, not in between." The department has been criticized by language purists because the poster, bearing the huge picture of "Tweets, the cat," says "Hey! that lights' gonna change . . ." Earlier, critics denounced the department for a poster bearing the cat's pictures, with the words, "I've got nine lives, do you?" The caption should have been "have you?" the critics said.

BOSTON SHIPPING UP 19% IN 1959

Cargo tonnage moving between the Port of Boston and foreign cities in 1959 increased over 1958 at the rate of 19 per cent, it was announced by Executive Director John F. O'Halloran of the Massachusetts Port Authority. New York gain was 12 per cent, Philadelphia, 8 per cent. In Boston's plus column were 108 import, 61 export commodities.

Boston is as near to Chicago as is New York in over-the-road running time, according to truckers. A system of turnpikes, ending only minutes away from Boston truck terminals, has turned the trick.

CITY DEPARTMENT HEADS SEEK THIRTEEN STATUTE CHANGES

A total of thirteen bills have been filed with the 1961 session of the Massachusetts Legislature based on petitions of various city department heads. These are in addition to 11 changes in the statutes proposed in bills filed for Mayor John F. Collins (see City Record issue of December 10, 1960).

Following is the text, together with a comment on each, of the bills filed for the city department heads:

Use of Cemetery Funds

FURTHER REGULATING THE USE OF FUNDS RECEIVED BY THE CITY OF BOSTON THROUGH ITS MAINTENANCE OF CEMETERIES.

(Petition of the City Auditor)

SECTION 1. The city of Boston, acting by its collector-treasurer, shall set up and maintain as a fund separate from all other money and accounts of said city, which shall be placed at interest or invested by said collector-treasurer in conformity with section fifty-four of chapter forty-four of the General Laws notwithstanding the limitation contained in the last sentence thereof, all sums hereafter received by the city in the management of cemeteries owned by it or in its charge excluding deposits for perpetual care but including proceeds from the sales of lots or rights of burial, charges paid for the opening of graves, the construction of monument foundations, and the use of cemetery facilities and devices, and interest and income from the investment of said fund. Said city, acting as aforesaid, shall forthwith transfer to said fund all moneys now held under chapter one hundred and seventeen of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirteen, including all unappropriated income therefrom. Annually or oftener sums may be appropriated out of said fund pursuant to the provisions of section three of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine to defray in whole or in part so much of the current expenses of maintaining, improving and embellishing said cemeteries as is not met by the income of deposits for perpetual care.

SECTION 2. Chapter one hundred and seventeen of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirteen is hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by vote of the city council of said city, subject to the provisions of its charter.

COMMENT

Prior to 1913, moneys received the city from cemeteries owned by it or in its charge, other than deposits for perpetual care, were mingled with other current moneys of the city and used for general municipal purposes. By chapter 117 of the Acts of 1913, the city was required to accumulate such moneys in a separate fund until the income therefrom should be sufficient to meet the current expense of maintaining these cemeteries. The fund thus established, which now exceeds $5,000,000, has reached a point where, if the annual additions thereto were combined with the annual income therefrom, the cemeteries would be self-supporting. The object of the above bill is to modify the 1913 act to permit such combination and thus achieve the real goal of the 1913 act.

State Aid to Repair Courthouse

PROVIDING FOR EXTRAORDINARY REPAIRS TO THE SUFFOLK COURT HOUSE.

(Petition of the City Auditor)

SECTION 1. The commission having the care, custody and control of the Suffolk county court house under chapter three hundred and eighty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine is hereby authorized and empowered to expend not exceeding one million dollars for the purpose of making extraordinary repairs to said court house. Thirty per cent of such expenditure shall be paid by the commonwealth, and seventy per cent by the city of Boston.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the city council of said city, subject to the provisions of its charter.

COMMENT

Consulting engineers have reported that the roof and exterior walls of the Suffolk County Court House are in need of refinishing costing between $900,000 and $1,000,000, including the replacement of the existing windows with new aluminum frames and sashes. The work is essential to prevent water seepage from damaging the structural members of the building. As the work involves more than ordinary maintenance, the above bill is being filed to eliminate doubts

MAYOR REVIEWS STATUS OF URBAN RENEWAL IN BOSTON

Following is a statement issued December 9 by Mayor John F. Collins on the city's progress in urban renewal:

As Mayor of Boston, I am required to submit an annual review of progress to the Urban Renewal Administration. This review was submitted last week to the Federal agency for its approval.

To maintain its eligibility for Federal funds a community must make significant forward progress in each year. We feel confident that Boston's accomplishments in 1960 will insure our continued eligibility.

Boston's urban renewal program is now ten years old. Prior to 1960 action had begun on five major redevelopment projects: New York Streets, Charles River Park, the Government Center, Whitney Street, and Prudential Center.

Housing Code Adopted

In addition, the Housing Code was adopted, a demolition program was instituted and a number of planning studies were undertaken.

In 1960 the major redevelopment projects moved ahead. Construction started at Charles River Park, legislative approvals were given to the Government Center and Prudential Center, demolition commenced on the Whitney Street site.

Boston moved ahead on many other fronts this year. A modern Fire Code was adopted. Improvements to the Building Code were made. Review and revision of a badly needed new Zoning Code continued.

But, far more important, 1960 was the great turning point in the renewal of Boston. This year we abandoned the patchwork approach to renewal and we agreed upon a massive city-wide program of rebuilding.

The $90 Million Program

This is the $90 million development program which calls for the renewal of the South End, Charlestown, South Boston, East Boston, Jamaica Plain, the Parker Hill-Fenway area, the Roxbury-North Dorchester area, Downtown, Downtown North, and the Back Bay.

This new approach to renewal, a more daring attack on blight than previously proposed by any large American city, has already received clear indications of support from the Boston Redevelopment Authority, the Boston City Council, and the Urban Renewal Administration.

To carry out this ambitious program required a unification of our planning and redevelopment facilities, so, we have taken a second bold step by merging the City Planning Board into the Redevelopment Authority. Boston is the first city in the nation to create such a powerful, integrated planning and execution agency for urban renewal.

Then, to complete the unification of all urban renewal efforts, Edward J. Logue was appointed Development Administrator reporting both to the Mayor and the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

It Is a Workable Program

Under the Housing Act of 1954 a community becomes eligible for Federal grants when it adopts a "workable program" for the prevention and elimination of slums and blight. The workable program, as required by the Urban Renewal Administration, is a pledge that the community will mobilize its full resources to combat slums and blight. Specifically the community must:

1. Assure adequate standards of health, sanitation, and safety by adopting and enforcing sound building and housing codes and related ordinances.

2. Prepare comprehensive plans for the development of the community as a whole.

3. Conduct neighborhood analyses to determine the location, intensity, and causes of blight.

4. Establish an efficient administration for the execution of renewal activities.

5. Provide the funds to carry out renewal activities.

6. Provide decent, safe, and sanitary homes for families displaced by governmental action.

7. Provide for citizen participation in the renewal program.

Must Show Progress

Meeting these workable program requirements is a continuous process. To remain eligible for Federal grants a community must show significant year-to-year progress. Boston must retain its eligibility, since we could not seriously expect to execute our new $90 million Development Program without Federal aid.

The first step in the Development Program is the preparation of ten general neighborhood renewal plans at a cost of $2,000,000. Our application for Federal funds in this amount is now pending. Considering the impressive progress which our community has made in 1960, we are fully confident that our eligibility will be continued.

Here is a more detailed summary of the progress we have made on the 7-point requirements of the workable program, during the twelve months ending November 23, 1960.

1. Codes and Ordinances

A modern Fire Code was adopted. Three important sections of the Building Code were revised and are waiting approval of the Law Department and City Council.

Enforcement of the city's new Housing Code was expanded. During the year 85,068 inspections revealed 10,005 violations, of which 9,985 were voluntarily corrected.

A total of 510 buildings were condemned and demolished because of code violations.

2. Comprehensive Planning

The City Planning Board (now the Planning Department, Boston Redevelopment Authority) issued a Capital Improvement Program, and a preliminary plan for the Central Business District.

The initial studies for the Government Center were completed. Then, taking advantage of a 1959 change in the Federal Housing Law, the city was able to secure a commitment of Federal funds for the project. Final studies are now underway.

The Planning Department staff has been preparing new land use, thoroughfare, and community facilities plans. At the end of 1960, they are very close to the completion of a new comprehensive plan to be used as a guide to renewal activity.

The Zoning Commission has continued its review and revision of the proposed modern Zoning Code for Boston. When the revision is completed, the code must be resubmitted to the General Court for approval. Boston is the only municipality in the Commonwealth that must obtain legislative approval for its zoning ordinance.

3. Neighborhood Analyses

In 1959 the Planning Department completed the definition of neighborhood areas and boundaries. In 1960 all neighborhoods were carefully studied to determine housing conditions, environmental problems and traffic problems. The data collected will provide the basis for neighborhood renewal plans.

4. Administrative Organization

The integration of the planning and redevelopment functions have been described above.

5. Financing

Boston is fully capable of financing an extended program of urban renewal, provided that Federal aid is forthcoming. Considering the fact that Boston's assessed valuations have declined $500 million since 1930 and recognizing the clear threat to property values in the shadow of blight falling across much of our city, it is generally accepted that Boston cannot afford not to finance an extended renewal program.

The Development Program for Boston calls for $60 million in Federal investment and $30 million in city investment. The local share is to be contributed in the form of overdue public improvements such as schools, playgrounds, libraries, and fire stations which would be required even if there were no urban renewal program.

In presenting the Development Program we demonstrated that the city's share could be provided without increasing the annual debt service charges beyond their present level. Since then legislation has been enacted to provide state grants for urban renewal, creating the possibility that Boston's share of the cost will be even less than we originally believed.

6. Housing for Displaced Families

In 1960 the Boston Housing Authority issued the contract to construct the first of six low-cost housing projects for the elderly. A total of 400 units will be built.

An application has been submitted by the Housing Authority for 1,000 units of low-rent housing. These will not be built in large isolated projects. Instead, there will be small developments integrated into existing neighborhoods.

Demolition has begun at the Whitney Street site where 800 units of limited dividend housing will be constructed.

In May of this year the city received approval for 500 units of section 221 relocation housing.

7. Citizen Participation

Two new officers of the city, both appointed this year, are responsible for encouraging a more active participation of citizens in urban renewal. They are the Development Administrator, Edward J. Logue, and the Director of Citizens Relations, Elmer C. Foster.

At the present time large numbers of citizens are participating in the urban renewal program as individuals and through such organizations as United Community Services, Parker Hill Commission, South End Planning Council, Self Help Organization for Charlestown, the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, Boston Real Estate Board, the Boston College Seminar Research Bureau, the Greater Boston

Economic Study Committee, Roxbury Community Council, Roxbury Chamber of Commerce, Beacon Hill Civic Association, Back Bay Neighborhood Association, South Boston Neighborhood Council, North End Neighborhood Association, Business Organizations Coordinating Group.

Looking Ahead

The preparation of an annual report is a time for taking stock. It is also a time for looking ahead. This is what we see for Boston in 1961:

Construction of the Whitney Street project will commence and construction of Prudential Center begin again.

Redevelopment planning will continue for the Government Center. A new project, the Downtown Waterfront Redevelopment, will go into planning.

The Redevelopment Authority will begin preparation of ten general neighborhood renewal plans for the South End, Charlestown, South Boston, East Boston, Jamaica Plain, the Parker Hill-Fenway area, the Roxbury-North Dorchester area, Downtown, Downtown North, and the Back Bay.

These studies, to pinpoint the problems of each district and estimate the best future lines of development, will serve as the foundation of urban renewal action programs in each neighborhood.

To carry out its expanded responsibilities, the Redevelopment Authority will add approximately 100 planning and renewal technicians to its present staff. This expansion in technical capacity will add little to the Boston tax rate since nearly all costs will be borne by the Federal Government.

An important decision governing our future progress will be made by the Redevelopment Authority on or about January 26, 1961. Our Development Program calls for Mr. Logue to serve as administrative chief of the Authority. The five board members of the Authority, who have been most cooperative, granted Mr. Logue a position of limited scope for a provisional three-month period. Next month, after reviewing his work, they will decide whether to appoint him administrative chief of the Authority.

In 1961 the code enforcement program will be reorganized and strengthened.

The Planning Department of the Authority will complete important new land use, thoroughfare, and community facilities plans for the city.

Citizen participation programs will be expanded. A special advisory committee to study minority group housing problems will be created.

The year 1960 was the turning point. Now, we must move ahead with a bold, decisive program of city-wide rebuilding. But this is not a job for city officials alone. We need the advice and support of the citizens, social agencies, business firms, universities, and all institutions in our community.

There is ample evidence that this support will be forthcoming, and so there is every reason for looking ahead with optimism and pride in our city.

Bills Filed . . .

Regulating Teacher Salary Increases

CHANGING THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF AN ACT REGULATING THE INCREASING OF SALARIES OF PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS AND VACANT TEACHING POSITIONS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

(Petition of the City Auditor)

SECTION 1. Chapter 346 of the acts of 1957 is hereby amended by striking out section 2 and inserting in place thereof the following section:—Section 2. This act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and sixty-two.

COMMENT

In 1957, legislation was enacted prescribing that neither the salary of a Boston school teacher nor the salary of a vacant teaching position shall be increased unless such increase is specifically designated in an appropriation order; but such legislation has proven ineffectual because by its express terms it was not to take effect until accepted by the School Committee and the School Committee has not accepted it. If the above bill becomes law, the 1957 act will take effect January 1, 1962, irrespective of acceptance by the School Committee.

Lift of Restrictions On Off-Street Parking

RELATIVE TO GARAGES IN THE FIRST FIRE ZONE, SO CALLED, IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

(Petition of the Building Commissioner)

SECTION 1. Section 3 of chapter 577 of the acts of 1913, as most recently amended by chapter 161 of the acts of 1959, is hereby further amended by striking out the words inserted by said chapter 161 and inserting in place thereof the words:—, but nothing in this proviso shall be construed to prohibit granting an application or issuing a permit for the erection, maintenance or use of a structure or building as a garage for more than four cars on premises owned and exclusively occupied for its corporate purposes by such school, hospital or church or on premises within that portion of said city commonly known as the first fire zone and described in section twenty-seven of chapter forty-five of said city's Revised Ordinances of 1898 before the amendment of said section by chapter four of said City's Ordinances of 1913.

COMMENT

A statute passed in 1922 prohibits, in Boston, a garage for more than four cars on the same street as, and within five hundred feet of, any building occupied in whole or in part as a public or private school having more than fifty pupils, or as a public or private hospital having more than twenty-five beds, or as a church. In recent years, this law has been found to stand in the way of the provision of off-street parking facilities in buildings in downtown Boston where schools and churches are often immediately adjacent to business properties. The above bill is being filed to keep the law in step with the times by exempting from the prohibition of the statute the first fire zone consisting of that part of Boston downtown from St. Mary's street, Longwood avenue, St. Alphonsus street and Ruggles street.

Clarification of Employee Removal Procedures

REPEALING PROVISIONS FOR REVIEW UNDER THE CONTRIBUTORY RETIREMENT LAW OF REMOVALS AND DISCHARGES SUBJECT TO CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE CIVIL SERVICE LAW.

(Petition of the Supervisor of Personnel)

SECTION 1. Subdivision (2) of section 16 of chapter 32 of the General Laws, as appearing in section 2 of chapter 784 of the acts of 1951, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "service", in line 6, the words:—, if such removal or discharge is not subject to the provisions of sections forty-three and forty-five of chapter thirty-one.

SECTION 2. Subdivision (3) of said section 16 is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (b) as appearing in section 1 of chapter 658 of the acts of 1945.

COMMENT

The Contributory Retirement Law provides a right of review of the removal or discharge of any contributory retirement system member who has attained age 55 and completed 15 or more years of creditable service or who has not attained that age but has completed 20 or more years of creditable service. The relationship between this right of review and the appeal procedure provided by the Civil Service Law for positions subject to Sections 43 and 45 of the Civil Service Law is foggy. The Civil Service Law has long been recognized as adequate to protect a public employee against an unjustified removal or discharge. The instant bill is being filed to make it plain that in cases in which it applies, it controls and there is no right of review under the Contributory Retirement Law.

State Control of Malden Bridge
RELATIVE TO THE CARE, CONTROL
AND MAINTENANCE OF MALDEN BRIDGE, SO CALLED, IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

(Petition of Commissioner of Public Works)

SECTION 1. The care, control and maintenance of the Malden bridge, so called, carrying Alford street in the Charlestown district of the city of Boston across the Mystic river is hereby transferred to the state department of public works and shall hereafter be a state highway; and the cost of the care, control and maintenance thereof shall hereafter be paid out of the Highway Fund.

SECTION 2. All persons employed in the operation of the draw of said bridge are hereby transferred to and made employees of the state department of public works without impairment of their civil service rights or their retirement, seniority, vacation, holiday or sick leave rights; and in no case shall the salary of any such person be reduced below the amount of his salary on the effective date of this act.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect on July first in the current year.

COMMENT

The Malden Bridge, so called, carries Alford street in the Charlestown district of Boston across the Mystic River. Alford street connects the state highway system at Sullivan square, Charlestown, with Broadway in Everett. It is thus not a local bridge, but an important link connecting Everett and other communities to the north with the capital city of the Commonwealth. There would seem to be little doubt that it ought to be the state highway which the above bill would make it.

State Control of East Boston and Chelsea Bridges

RELATIVE TO THE CARE, CONTROL AND MAINTENANCE OF CERTAIN BRIDGES CONNECTING EAST BOSTON AND CHELSEA.

(Petition of the Commissioner of Public Works)

SECTION 1. The care, control and maintenance of the Andrew P.

McArdle Bridge connecting Meridian street in East Boston with Pearl street in Chelsea and of the Chelsea street bridge, so called, connecting Chelsea street in East Boston with Eastern avenue in Chelsea are hereby transferred to the state department of public works and shall hereafter be state highways; and the cost of the care, control and maintenance thereof shall hereafter be paid out of the Highway Fund.

SECTION 2. All persons employed in the operation of the draw of said bridges are hereby transferred to and made employees of the state department of public works without impairment of their civil service rights or their retirement, seniority, vacation, holiday or sick leave rights; and in no case shall the salary of any such person be reduced below the amount of his salary on the effective date of this act.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect on July first in the current year.

COMMENT

It would seem that if any bridge should be a state highway, a bridge connecting one municipality with another should be. The above bill, therefore, seeks to have the State Department of Public Works take over the care, control and maintenance of the Andrew P. McArdle Bridge connecting Meridian street in East Boston with Pearl street in Chelsea and also the Chelsea Street Bridge connecting Chelsea street in East Boston with Eastern avenue in Chelsea.

Elimination of Draws on Fort Point Channel Bridges

PROVIDING FOR THE ACQUISITION BY THE COMMONWEALTH OF ALL RIGHTS IN CERTAIN TIDE-WATERS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON AND FOR THE MAINTENANCE OF CERTAIN BRIDGES
OVER THE SAME WITHOUT A DRAW.

(Petition of the Commissioner of Public Works)

SECTION 1. The department of public works is hereby authorized to acquire in the name and behalf of the commonwealth, with such conditional limitations, if any, as said department shall deem proper, all rights in the tidewaters between the northeasterly side of the highway bridge over Fort Point channel at Congress street in the city of Boston and the easterly side of the highway bridge over said channel at Dorchester avenue in said city, and to do in the name and behalf of the commonwealth any and all things necessary to have said tidewaters declared to be non-navigable waters within the meaning of the constitution and laws of the United States. After said tidewaters have been so declared, the city of Boston may maintain without a draw its bridges over said tidewaters.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of general or special law, the city of Boston, by its mayor, is hereby authorized and empowered to convey to the commonwealth, without consideration, all rights of said city in the aforesaid tidewaters; provided, that said conveyance is authorized, after two separate readings, by two separate votes of two thirds of all the members of the city council of said city, the second of said readings and votes to be had not less than fourteen days after the first.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

COMMENT

The City of Boston still maintains drawbridges over Fort Point Channel at Summer street and at Congress street even though there has been no substantial water traffic in Fort Point Channel above Congress street since the American Sugar Refining Company removed to its new plant in Charlestown. Fort Point Channel above Dorchester avenue has already been declared non-navigable. The above bill is being filed to enable a start to be made on having Fort Point Channel between Congress street and Dorchester avenue declared non-navigable, so that the two bridges just mentioned may be maintained without a draw.

Filling In of Roxbury Canal

PROVIDING FOR THE FILLING AND IMPROVEMENT OF SOUTH BAY, ROXBURY CANAL AND DORCHESTER BROOK AND CERTAIN TERRITORIES ADJACENT THERETO.

(Petition of the Commissioner of Public Works)

SECTION 1. The state department of public works, hereinafter called the department, is hereby authorized and directed to improve South bay, Roxbury canal, Dorchester brook and that part of Fort Point channel southwesterly of Dover street and land adjacent thereto by providing for the discharge of storm water, surface drainage and sewage overflow therein by means of the construction of a conduit system with suitable connections to existing overflows in Roxbury canal, Dorchester brook, South bay and Fort Point channel from Massachusetts avenue northerly to Dover street.

For the aforesaid purposes, the department shall acquire in the name of the commonwealth, by purchase or otherwise, on such terms and conditions and in such manner as it may deem proper, or by exercise of the power of eminent domain in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws insofar as such provisions may be applicable, such public or private lands or parts thereof or rights therein, and such public or private ways, as it may deem necessary for the substantial carrying out of the intent of this act; provided, that no damages shall be paid to the city of Boston for any lands or parts thereof or rights therein so taken.

The cost of the construction of said conduit system, and of acquisition of such lands or rights therein as may be necessary, including land damages incidental to the carrying out of the provisions of this section, and including also engineering expenses, contingencies and interest during construction, shall not exceed five million dollars and shall be paid by the commonwealth.

SECTION 2. The state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor and council, issue and sell at public or private sale, bonds of the commonwealth, registered or with interest coupons attached, as he may deem best, to an amount to be specified by the governor and council from time to time sufficient to provide means for payment of the cost of the undertaking herein authorized to be carried out by the commonwealth, including land and other damages. All such bonds shall be on the serial payment plan for such maximum term of years as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to section 3 of article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the commonwealth, the maturities thereof to be so arranged that the amounts payable in the several years of the period of amortization other than the final year shall be as nearly equal as in the opinion of the state treasurer it is practicable to make them. Said bonds shall bear interest payable semiannually at such rate as the state treasurer with the approval of the governor shall fix. The initial maturities of such bonds shall be payable not later than one year from the date of issue thereof.

SECTION 3. Upon completion of said conduit system with its connections, the commonwealth, acting through the department, shall convey to the city of Boston without consideration all right, title and interest of the commonwealth in and to said conduit system and its connections, which shall thereafter be operated and maintained by the public works department to said city. Upon such completion, the commonwealth, acting as aforesaid, shall also convey to said city without consideration all right, title and interest of the commonwealth in and to South bay, Roxbury canal, Dorchester brook, and that part of Fort Point channel southwesterly of Dover street; and said city shall thereupon proceed to improve the same by filling.

COMMENT

The waters of South Bay and of Fort Point Channel above Dorchester avenue were declared non-navigable by Act of Congress in 1955. Since then the expressway has been constructed upon a part of these waters above Dover street.

The waters above Dover street, although tidewaters, have for many years been stagnant to some extent. The construction of the expressway has so increased this stagnation that the waters above Dover street now constitute a real nuisance. Before they can be filled, however, a conduit must be built to extend out to the harbor conduits and drains now discharging brooks and storm waters into the area. The above bill would enable the State Department of Public Works, which constructed the expressway, to install such a conduit, and the city thereupon to fill the area.

Employment of "Meter Maids"

RELATIVE TO SPECIAL POLICE OFFICERS APPOINTED ON APPLICATION OF THE TRAFFIC COMMISSIONER OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

(Petition of the Traffic Commissioner)

SECTION 1. Section 3 of chapter 282 of the acts of 1898, as amended by chapter 674 of the acts of 1950, is hereby further amended by inserting after the third sentence the following sentence:— Every special police officer appointed under the provisions of this act upon the written application of the traffic commissioner of said city shall have all the powers and duties of a police officer, including those conferred or imposed by section twenty A of chapter ninety of the General Laws, to enforce all laws, rules and regulations regulating, directing, controlling or restricting the stopping or standing of vehicles at meters in public ways and in off-street parking areas and facilities deemed to be ways under the control of the city.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

COMMENT

In many cities throughout the United States, the "meter maid" has become a familiar figure. The above bill would permit their introduction in Boston. Strictly speaking, they would be employees of the Boston Traffic Department whom the Police Commissioner would appoint special police officers for the limited purpose of enforcing parking meter rules.

Alternate Automobile Parking
CONCERNING PARKING ON ALTERNATE SIDES OF PUBLIC WAYS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

(Petition of Traffic Commissioner)

SECTION 1. The second paragraph of section 2 of chapter 263 of the acts of 1929 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as amended by chapter 267 of the acts of 1960, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—Any rule or regulation, adopted under this section, prohibiting for any period of time between a specified hour of one day and a specified hour of the next day the parking or standing of vehicles on the whole or any part or parts of one or more streets, ways, highways, roads or parkways may provide that it shall apply to the alternate sides thereof on specified days.

COMMENT

Existing statutory authorization for traffic rules governing parking on alternate sides of public ways limits such rules to "alternate days" as well as to the period from midnight to 8 A.M. For ease of administration, one side should be used on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and the other on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays, which, because Sunday follows Saturday, are not strictly alternate days. The above legislation is being sought to permit this as well as to allow the Traffic Commission to fix a period other than midnight to 8 A.M., should that be deemed feasible.

Support of Dependents of Retired Public Employees

TO PROVIDE FOR THE MAINTENANCE AND SUPPORT OF CERTAIN PERSONS OUT OF THE PENSIONS, ANNUITIES OR RETIREMENT ALLOWANCES OF PERSONS LIABLE
BY LAW FOR THEIR SUPPORT.

(Petition of the Director of Public Welfare)

SECTION 1. Section 92 of chapter 32 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the third sentence, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—If a person receiving a pension, annuity or retirement allowance or any person for whose support he is liable by law becomes a charge upon the commonwealth, or any county, city or town thereof, the expense incident thereto incurred by the commonwealth or any such county, city or town, shall, unless otherwise paid, be deducted from such pension, annuity or retirement allowance as it becomes due and payable, and the amount of such deduction shall thereupon be paid to the department, board, commission or officer by whom or under whose authority such expense was incurred.

COMMENT

It has been found that some public employees, upon their retirement, leave the Commonwealth without making adequate provision for the support of their dependents, who thereupon become public charges. The object of the above bill is to permit the use of the pension, annuity or retirement allowance for the maintenance and support of such dependents.

State Reimbursement for General Relief

PROVIDING FOR REIMBURSEMENT BY THE COMMONWEALTH OF PART OF THE COST TO CITIES AND TOWNS OF GENERAL RELIEF.

(Petition of the Director of Public Welfare)

SECTION 1. Chapter 117 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 19 the following new section:—Section 19A. Each town shall be reimbursed by the commonwealth for three fourths of all sums expended or paid by it under this chapter after July first, nineteen hundred and sixty, for the relief or support of persons lawfully settled therein, including the expenses of administering this chapter. All accounts against the commonwealth for allowances to towns on account of moneys paid for which they are entitled to reimbursement by the commonwealth hereunder shall be rendered to the department of public welfare on forms prescribed by said department, and, if rendered as aforesaid, approved by said department and certified by the comptroller, but not otherwise, shall be paid by the commonwealth from such funds as may be appropriated therefor. The approval of accounts by said department under this chapter shall have the effect of a provisional pre-audit of such accounts, and reimbursements based thereon shall be subject to verification and adjustment by said department. Such adjustments shall be made by reducing or increasing any subsequent reimbursements under this chapter by the amount of such adjustment.

COMMENT

In Massachusetts, municipalities bear the entire cost of general relief furnished persons settled therein, but only 25 per cent or less of the cost of Aid to Dependent Children, Old Age Assistance, and Disability Assistance. Enactment of the above bill into law would provide with respect to general relief a state reimbursement comparable to that connected with ADC, OAA and DA. Such reimbursement has in years gone by been recommended repeatedly by special commissions set up to study public welfare laws. Such reimbursement would net more than $1,500,000 annually.

Record Pre-Christmas
Snow Storm Hits Boston

The most severe pre-Christmas snow storm in the history of the local weather bureau hit Boston Sunday evening, December 11, with snowfall lasting approximately 20 hours, leaving in its wake an almost completely crippled city. High winds were recorded at up to 50 miles per hour. Snowfall totaled 10 to 15 inches with high drifts. Near-zero temperatures prevailed throughout the whole time.

Schools were closed for the entire week.

Planes were grounded 48 hours. Jets did not move until Thursday.

A parking ban in downtown Boston remained in effect through Wednesday.

Public transportation was reduced almost to a standstill for 24 hours, although MTA rapid transit lines were kept in operation. Most surface lines were knocked out for 24 hours and longer. Main line railroad service was maintained with greatly reduced schedules. Commuter service was at a near standstill for 24 hours.

A small child died and another was seriously burned in a Brighton fire on Wednesday. Fire officials said the youngsters might have been rescued had it not been for serious difficulty encountered by firefighters in reaching the blaze due to snow-clogged street and parked automobiles. No other serious fires were reported.

The Fire Department remained on double shift through Wednesday.

Expressways were kept open, but driving was extremely difficult and the roadways were choked by stalled cars.

Mayor Collins ordered the Law Department to draft legislation seeking a stiff penalty for owners of illegally parked cars who hamper snow removal operations and upon owners of abandoned automobiles which are found to be improperly equipped for operating on snow-covered roadways.

By Wednesday night all streets were declared passable for emergency vehicles. Scores of funerals had been postponed because of impassable streets. Oil and fuel deliveries were seriously handicapped up to Thursday evening. The city set up emergency filling stations on trucks in various parts of the city so householders could fill their range oil containers.

SNOW REMOVAL CONTRACTS

The Mayor has approved the following communications from the Public Works Commissioner requesting award of snow removal contracts:

District 1-A

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On November 8, 1960 bids were opened in the Public Works Department on contracts for Snow Removal work in various districts of the City of Boston.

Only one bid was received in District 1-A, that from William J. Banfield, at a unit price of $1.85 per cubic yard for snow removal. This price is considerably higher than our engineers' estimate for the work and I, therefore, do not recommend an award.

Inasmuch as time does not permit re-advertising, I have negotiated with several contractors, including William J. Banfield, but have not been successful in arranging for a contract with a satisfactory unit price figure. However, William J. Banfield has agreed to perform the contract as advertised provided all work, including during a severe storm, be paid for on a force account basis. It is my opinion that work on a force account basis can be performed at a substantially lower figure than the $1.85 per cubic yard low bid price.

Accordingly, it is recommended that the William J. Banfield bid of $1.85 per cubic yard be rejected, and that a contract for removing snow and furnishing labor and equipment for the purpose of supplementing the department forces and equipment in connection with the work of keeping highways and streets open following snow storms, be awarded without advertising to William J. Banfield, 263 Rutherford avenue, Charlestown, Mass., in District 1-A, on a force account basis.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

District 8 (New Contract)

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Reference is made to my letter of November 22, 1960, recommending an award of a contract for removing snow and furnishing labor and equipment for the purpose of supplementing the department forces and equipment in connection with the work of keeping highways and streets open following snow storms, in District 8, to Polillio Bros., Inc., 2121 Central street, Stoughton, Mass.

Polillio Bros., Inc., has declined to accept the contract.

Inasmuch as time does not permit re-advertising, I have negotiated with several contractors. J. A. Susi & Sons, Inc., has agreed to accept a contract at a unit price of $0.90 per cubic yard, which in my opinion is a fair price.

Accordingly, it is recommended that the award to Polillio Bros., Inc. be rescinded, and that a contract for removing snow and furnishing labor and equipment for the purpose of supplementing the department forces and equipment in connection with the work of keeping highways and streets open following snow storms, be awarded in District 8, to J. A. Susi & Sons, Inc., 103 Providence street, Hyde Park, Mass., without advertising, at the unit price of $0.90 per cubic yard.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Editor's Note: Contract awards for Districts 1-B, 1-C, 1-D, Districts 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 appear on pages 962 and 963, "City Record" issue of Dec. 10, 1960.

POLICE STATION MYSTERY

Those making a tour of the St. Louis police headquarters are privileged to view a skillful drawing of Christ on the Cross on the end wall of cell No. 8.

This cell has never been occupied since 1931 when one night a drifter was given shelter in it for the night. His name was not obtained because in that depression year many transients were housed overnight to give them protection from the elements.

No one knows who made the drawing or how he did it. Art critics attest that it is a superb work of art, and marvel how it could have been produced in one night by a man who probably had nothing but burnt match stubs to etch his masterpiece. All efforts to learn the identity of the artist have failed, according to the police monthly publication, Police Journal.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

General Order No. 831.

Sergeant John F. Chalpin and Patrolmen Thomas J. Calnan and Robert F. Ryan, Division 10, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 9:10 P.M. on Thursday, December 1, 1960, one Ralph J. Carrigan, a taxi-cab driver, while operating his cab in Columbus avenue and when in the vicinity of Roxbury street, picked up two male passengers. They asked to be taken to No. 14 Lambert street, Roxbury. There was found to be no such number in Lambert street and the men then asked to be taken to a location off Cedar street. On reaching Cedar park, the men told the operator to proceed to the end of the street where on arrival one of the fares put his left arm around the operator's neck, held a knife at the operator's throat and demanded his money. The other passenger then went through Carrigan's pockets and removed about $7.50 in U. S. currency. The ignition key was removed and both left on foot down Cedar park toward Cedar street, where they disappeared. The cab driver immediately notified his dispatcher by radio and he, in turn, notified the police. Carrigan, who had sustained a cut on his chin from the knife used in the holdup, described his assailants to the officers who responded.

Provided with the circumstances of the holdup and a description of the suspects, Sergeant Chalpin and Patrolmen Calnan and Ryan began their investigation. They searched eight buildings on Cedar street, including the first floor of No. 104, without results. Proceeding to the second floor of that address, the officers were admitted to an apartment there, by a woman tenant. On identifying themselves as police officers and stating their reason for being there, they were told by this woman that there was no one else in her apartment but a lady friend from Cambridge. As she was making this statement, the officers heard a noise from the closet and on investigation found there one Clarence Stanley, 27 years, single, 813 Tremont street, Roxbury. Behind a bedroom door the officers found one William Bennamon, 28 years, single, of 20 Concord square, Boston. The overcoats of these two men were found rolled up in a closet and both coats were wet as a result of being washed in an attempt to rid them of stains of blood from the wound on the cab driver's chin. Also found in the apartment were the ignition key to his cab and the knife used in the holdup.

Bennamon and Stanley were brought to Station 10 where they were positively identified by Carrigan as the men who had robbed him. Further investigation and interrogation of the prisoners revealed that on the night of November 4, 1960, Bennamon had robbed at knife-point, at the Cedar park location, one Jack Cohen, a cab driver, and later the same night had held up and robbed cab driver Benjamin Weinberg, at Highland and Millmont streets, Roxbury.

On Monday, December 5, 1960, in Roxbury District Court Bennamon was charged with two counts of armed robbery, one count of unarmed robbery and one count of assault and battery by means of a dangerous weapon. Stanley was charged with one count of unarmed robbery. Probable cause was found and both men were bound over for the Grand Jury with bail set at $10,000.

The Commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty evidenced by the work of Sergeant Chalpin and Patrolmen Calnan and Ryan in this case. Their thorough investigation of the area where the two suspects were thought to be hiding resulted in prompt apprehension of the bandits and subsequent exhaustive interrogation of the prisoners brought about the solving of three serious crimes.

ANTI-SLUM SCHOOL

Efforts to prevent the formation of a second slum as one blighted neighborhood is cleared, has resulted in Baltimore's new school for housing court violators.

Those convicted of violations against sanitary, housing, and building codes may attend a series of lectures on personal hygiene, fire prevention, interior decorating, and repair rather than to pay the fine assessed.

Estimated cost of the courses is $1,000, part of it borne by the Real Estate Board and the Property Owners' Association under direction of the city's Department of Education.

ADDITION TO CONTRACT

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

D. Antonellis, Inc., in connection with work at the new Technical High School, has been directed to furnish and install electrical work and general contractor's work in connection with the new language laboratory, at an additional cost of $2,635.49.

ADDITION TO AND DEDUCTION FROM CONTRACT

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

John R. McCarthy, in connection with work at the new Technical High School, has been directed to make the following changes in his contract:

Additional work: Set up 396 units of pupils' furniture at $1 per unit as specified, $396; furnish and install three new maple cafeteria table tops, $73; total, $469; deduct, for not repairing and refinishing 17 cafeteria tables (transferred to another school), $170; total addition, $299.

DETROIT REDEVELOPMENT

Work will begin soon on a $14 million project in Detroit's Gratiot redevelopment area, once described as the city's worst slum. Privately financed, the project will consist of two 22-story apartment buildings, a shopping center, 350-car garage, playground, and swimming pool. The plan, officials say, is to make this close-in Detroit section one of the city's most desirable residential areas.

LITERARY REVIEW BOARD

A literary review board, made up of magazine distributors and dealers as well as representatives of the police, prosecuting attorney's office and university, will be formed in Milwaukee to try to prevent the sale of obscene material. The board will be an advisory body to publishers, distributors and dealers, but will turn cases over to the prosecuting attorney's office for action when dealers fail to cooperate.

Engine Assembly

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Fire Department for one (1) type "J" complete engine assembly as per specifications. An informal written quotation was submitted to this office from American-LaFrance, Division of Sterling Precision Corporation, who is the only source of supply. Two prices were quoted—one on a new unit at $3,737 and the other on a factory rebuilt unit at $3,245.

The Fire Commissioner has notified this office, in writing, that a reconditioned engine will be acceptable for use by his department. Inasmuch as the above mentioned company is the only source of supply, it is my opinion that no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for prices. Authority is therefore requested to dispense with publicly advertising for prices and award a contract, without public advertisement, to American-LaFrance, Division of Sterling Precision Corporation.

Approximate total amount of contract will be: one (1) factory rebuilt engine, $3,245, less allowance on engine shipped prepaid to Elmira, New York, —$500 —$2,745, net, 30 days, plus approximate shipping charges, $100.

Respectfully yours,

MICHAEL A. DESIMONE,
Purchasing Agent.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Demolition Work on Medford Street

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The houses numbered 340 and 344 and 368, 370, and 372 Medford street, Ward 2, have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. The buildings are now open to trespass and they are a menace to the neighborhood.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1924, as amended, particularly section 116d thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structures.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Bay State Wrecking.—340 Medford street, $700; 344 Medford street, $700; 368 Medford street, $500; 370 Medford street, $900; 372 Medford street, $900; total, $3,700.

U. S. Wrecking.—340 Medford street, $700; 344 Medford street, $700; 368 Medford street, $400; 370 Medford street, $300; 372 Medford street, $600; total, $3,000.

E. Polcari & Son.—340 Medford street, $350; 344 Medford street, $350; 368 Medford street, $250; 370 Medford street, $790; 372 Medford street, $790; total, $2,530.

Lyons Wrecking.—340 Medford street, $1,200; 344 Medford street, $1,200; 368 Medford street, $1,200; 370 Medford street, $1,200; 372 Medford street, $1,200; total, $6,000.

James Scimone.—340 Medford street, $700; 344 Medford street, $700; 368 Medford street, $300; 370 Medford street, $1,350; 372 Medford street, $1,365; total, $4,415.

John J. Duane.—340 Medford street, $495; 344 Medford street, $690; 368 Medford street, $180; 372 Medford street, $1,390; total, $2,755.

E. Polcari & Son have submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price higher than the $2,000 statutory limitation upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety requiring immediate action, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding of a contract to E. Polcari & Son in the sum of $2,530, without advertising, as required in the city charter.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

Demolition Work on Erie St., Michigan Ave.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The houses numbered 101, 101A, and 101B Erie street, 45 and 47 Michigan avenue, and 95-99 Erie street, Ward 14, have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. The buildings are now open to trespass and they are a menace to the neighborhood.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1924, as amended, particularly section 116d thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structures.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Bay State Wrecking, Inc.—101-101A, and 101B Erie street, $1,700; 45 and 47 Michigan avenue and 95-99 Erie street, $1,700; total, $3,400.

E. Polcari & Son.—101-101A, and 101B Erie street, $2,700; 45 and 47 Michigan avenue and 95-99 Erie street, $2,700; total, $5,400.

U. S. Wrecking.—101-101A, and 101B Erie street, $2,000; 45 and 47 Michigan avenue and 95-99 Erie street, $1,420; total, $3,420.

James Scimone.—101-101A, and 101B Erie street, $2,640; 45 and 47 Michigan avenue and 95-99 Erie street, $2,180; total, $4,820.

Hub Wrecking.—101-101A, and 101B Erie street, $1,725; 45 and 47 Michigan avenue and 95-99 Erie street, $1,725; total, $3,450.

Lyons Wrecking.—101-101A, and 101B Erie street, $1,900; 45 and 47 Michigan avenue and 95-99 Erie street, $1,900; total, $3,800.

Bay State Wrecking, Inc., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price higher than the $2,000 statutory limitation upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

Demolition Work on Blaine Street

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The houses numbered 11, 13, 15, and 17 Blaine street, Ward 22, have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. The buildings are now open to trespass and they are a menace to the neighborhood.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1924, as amended, particularly section 116d thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structures.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

U. S. Wrecking Corporation.—11 and 13 Blaine street, $1,080; 15 and 17 Blaine street, $1,000; total, $2,080.

E. Polcari & Son.—11 and 13 Blaine street, $1,275; 15 and 17 Blaine street, $1,275; total, $2,550.

Allstate Wrecking.—11 and 13 Blaine street, $1,065; 15 and 17 Blaine street, $1,065; total, $2,130.

U. S. Wrecking Corporation has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT E. YORK,
Building Commissioner.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Engineering Services

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On September 25, 1956, the Mayor of Boston approved a contract between the City of Boston, acting by the Board of Trustees, Hospital Department and of the Boston City Hospital, and Jackson & Moreland, Inc., as engineer, in connection with the proposed modernization of the sewerage and sewage disposal system for Long Island Hospital, Boston, Mass.

The engineer was to be paid a basic fee equal to the sum of eight (8%) per cent of the cost of construction, up to a construction cost of $150,000, plus five (5%) per cent of that cost in excess of $150,000.

The engineer to date has completed all its services up to the point of actual commencement of construction and has been paid for the regular services thus far rendered.

One of the standard provisions contained in our contract form, covering this type of service, requires that the engineer supervise construction of the project if its construction is begun within three years after the written approval by the Trustees of the working (final) drawings and detailed specifications. In the present case, the working drawings and detailed specifications were approved by the Trustees on June 21, 1957, but because of the delay that has been incident to the procurement of federal funds to defray part of the construction cost, not only has the aforementioned three-year period expired, but actual construction may commence as late as June 21, 1961.

Therefore, your authorization is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising and to execute a contract with Jackson & Moreland, Inc., to cover its full supervisory services in connection with the actual construction of the project, including all other architectural and engineering services in connection therewith.

The engineer's fee for the aforementioned services, under the new contract, will be precisely as it would have been under the contract dated September 25, 1956, namely, the unpaid balance of the above basic fee. However, it is proposed that the allowance per day for a clerk of the works during construction, if the Trustees order the engineer to engage one, be increased from $20 per day to $35 per day because it is exceedingly difficult currently, if indeed not altogether impossible, to obtain a competent clerk of the works at a lower rate.

In view of the professional nature of the services to be rendered here, and in particular because of the aforementioned firm's intimate knowledge of the project, it is not considered that public advertising would be of avail to the city.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS, JR.,
President of the Board of Trustees, Hospital Department and of the Boston City Hospital.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT. Swan Boat License

DEAR SIR:

Since 1877 one of the outstanding features in the City of Boston has been the swan boats on the Public Garden Pond. This unusual type of entertainment is exclusively Boston's own and does not exist in any other city in this country. Robert Paget of Boston was the original designer and operator of these boats and they are still being built and operated by his descendants.

The current license is held by Mr. Paul G. Paget, 5 Driftwood road, Jamaica Plain. The termination date is December 31, 1960. The annual rental is $800, which I believe is a fair amount as the income from the concession depends entirely on the weather, dropping sharply if we have a rainy spring or summer.

As the work of rebuilding and reconditioning the swan boats must be done during the winter season, Mr. Paget requests a renewal of his license starting January 1, 1961. I believe nothing would be gained in publicly advertising for bids as we would be unable to engage anyone else who has the equipment to operate this concession.

I therefore request your permission to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and to award a license to Mr. Paul G. Paget, 5 Driftwood road, Jamaica Plain, for operation of swan boats and row boats on the Public Garden Pond for a period of three years beginning January 1, 1961 and terminating on December 31, 1963, at a rental of $800 per year during the term of the license.

Respectfully yours,

MARTIN F. WALSH,
Commissioner.

Golf Club Concessions

DEAR SIR:

The three-year agreement between the City of Boston Parks and Recreation Department and William E. Taylor of 215 Metropolitan avenue, Roslindale, for the golf professional's concession and sports shop concession at the George Wright Golf Course terminates on December 31, 1960.

It has been the practice for a number of years to grant Mr. Taylor a three-year license for these two concessions. The City of Boston is one of very few cities that do not hire a golf professional and pay him a substantial salary for his services on the public golf course and in addition allow him certain privileges in the sale of sports equipment. Because we are not faced with this salary problem, we have allowed Mr. Taylor to operate the golf instruction and sales concession for the sum of $50 per year.

As this method of operating the concession has worked out very satisfactorily, I do not believe anything would be gained by publicly advertising for bids and I believe the city's best interests would be served by renewing the license held by Mr. Taylor.

Your permission is therefore respectfully requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and to enter into another three-year agreement with Mr. William Taylor of 215 Metropolitan avenue, Roslindale, for the Golf Professional and Sports Shop privilege at the George Wright Golf Course and Clubhouse, for the sum of $50 per year beginning on January 1, 1961 and terminating on December 31, 1963.

Respectfully yours,

MARTIN F. WALSH,
Commissioner.

Use of L Street Bath Space

DEAR SIR:

For the past few years the City of Boston, acting through the Parks and Recreation Commission, has granted the privilege of operating a Men's Massage Business at L Street Bathhouse to William H. Baldwin of 139 N street, South Boston, for which he pays the sum of $100 per year. The present three-year agreement terminates on December 31, 1960.

Under the terms of the agreement the city rents to Mr. Baldwin a small room in the men's L Street Bathhouse, where he conducts his business. He supplies all equipment and furnishings, and he has made necessary interior changes in the room, including all plumbing installations, at his own expense. He also pays for electricity used in connection with the business. The business is operated in full compliance with all rules of health authorities, as required in this type of work.

As this is a unique type of business and requires some years to become established, I believe that nothing would be gained by publicly advertising for bids.

I therefore respectfully request your approval to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and to enter into another three-year agreement with Mr. William H. Baldwin, 139 N street, South Boston, for use of a room in the L Street Bathhouse for operation of a men's massage business, beginning on January 1, 1961, and terminating on December 31, 1963, at rental of $100 per year, during the term of the agreement.

Respectfully yours,

MARTIN F. WALSH,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT. Snow Equipment Repairs

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This department operates twenty-two Walter snowfighters during the winter months for sanding, salting, and snowplowing work.

Minor repairs to these units are made by the Maintenance Branch, but major repairs can only be made by the authorized agents for these units who are the only source for the necessary parts, and who have the required personnel and equipment to do the work. The authorized agent for the Walter snowfighter is the Charles N. Wood Company of 570 Arsenal street, Watertown.

Accordingly, your permission is requested to dispense with public advertising, and to award a contract to the Charles N. Wood Company, 570 Arsenal street, Watertown, in an amount not to exceed $7,500, for major repairs to Walter snowfighters.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT. Traffic Survey

DEAR SIR:

Your permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising, to the Automotive Safety Foundation, 200 Ring Building, Washington, D. C., a nonprofit organization, in a sum not in excess of five thousand ($5,000) dollars, for the purpose of conducting a comprehensive study of street and traffic management in the City of Boston.

The objectives of the study include:

1. Review present responsibilities of the various city departments in street and traffic management, and their interrelationships with nonmunicipal (intergovernmental) highway agencies.
2. Determine the functions performed and required for street and traffic management.
3. Devise means for efficient consolidation of the essential functions.

Modern street and traffic management embraces many functions which include planning, design, construction, operations, public transportation, traffic operations, etc.

One of the most important functions is traffic operations. The objective of traffic operations is to make the best use of all streets by regulation of the streams of vehicles and pedestrians using them. It also must regulate other uses of street space affecting traffic movement. Such uses include on-and-off-street parking, truck and bus loading, street storage of materials and street excavations for sub-surface utilities, driveways, sidewalk stands, poles, posts, and other objects occupying the street area. In addition, the operation of special elements in the traffic stream such as over-dimensional vehicles and loads must be controlled as must such events as parades and street meetings which preempt use of the entire street area.

All these street uses must be so coordinated as the same limited area accommodates them.

Another important contribution of an Automotive Safety Foundation study would be the putting into clear focus two important considerations:

1. Public transportation problems.

2. Intergovernmental coordination.

Boston has been groping for years to formulate a solution to its own transportation problems as related to the metropolitan area. Here would be an opportunity to have clearly outlined the interrelationships of highways and mass transit, as well as the half-dozen agencies involved, by the organization which has done this work for other metropolitan areas.

Certainly, this study will not determine priorities for transit lines versus expressway, but it will define the issue from a management viewpoint, as well as future planning.

The Automotive Safety Foundation has made studies of almost all of the large cities in the country except New York and Boston. Most recent studies include Cleveland, Dade County, Florida, Detroit, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington, D. C., and Houston. It is estimated that if a study of this type were conducted by a profit-making organization, it would cost approximately $75,000.

The services of this organization are highly sought and I have been advised that if we avail ourselves of this opportunity to secure their services immediately, they can commence the study

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS J. GRIFFIN,
Commissioner.

PAPER HOSPITAL SHEETS FORECAST

Patients in hospitals may sleep in paper gowns on paper sheets and be treated by doctors and nurses wearing paper uniforms, if tests at Brooke Army Medical Center at San Antonio prove successful.

Maj. Gen. William E. Shambora, medical center commander, said the Army Quartermaster Corps is conducting the tests on the theory that paper items would be useful when laundry facilities were scarce and during emergency shortages of conventional cloth equipment and clothing.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACT

The Mayor has approved extension of the time limit on completion of the following contract:

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT.

Approval has been given for the extension of the time for the completion of the contract dated August 3, 1959 with Park Construction Company, for the erecting and completing of an off-street parking structure on Kilby and Central streets, Boston, to December 3, 1960, for the following reasons:

1. Excavations at the site were delayed due to interference with Boston Edison high tension lines in Central street.
2. Due to the steel strike the contractor requested a substitution of pipe piles in lieu of structural H beams as originally specified.
3. The brick masons were on strike from July 1, 1960 until August 16, 1960.

Approval has been given for the extension of the time for the completion of the contract dated August 3, 1959 with Park Construction Company, for the erecting and completing of an off-street parking structure on Kilby and Central streets, Boston, to March 3, 1961.

This extension is granted because of a change in electrical equipment requested by the Building Department. Six to eight weeks will be required to procure the necessary equipment.

LEAGUE OF MASS. CITIES AND TOWNS ENDORSED BY FIN. COM.

December 16, 1960.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

The Boston Finance Commission heartily endorses your recent proposal that a League of Municipalities be organized in Massachusetts. In brief, such a League would be an organization comprising most of the cities and towns in the State and serving as a clearinghouse of information on municipal problems and as a representative of municipal interests before the State Legislature.

The interest of the Finance Commission in this subject began some time ago when it was noted that the Municipal Year Book showed that 44 states enjoy such a League but that Massachusetts is not in that group. The Commission has gathered material on the organization and operation of typical state leagues of municipalities, or municipal leagues, as they are sometimes called, and submits pertinent data herewith.

History of League Activity in Other States

There is a long history of operation of such leagues, as the following figures indicate.

Five such State Municipal Leagues were organized before 1900; 2 between 1900 and 1909; 10 between 1910 and 1919; 6 between 1920 and 1929; 11 between 1930 and 1939; 4 between 1940 and 1949; 6 between 1950 and 1959.

Operation of Municipal Leagues in Other States

The Finance Commission, pursuing its interest in this matter, some months ago contacted the directors of many of these leagues which have made progress on this front.

This inquiry produced a substantial volume of literature on the organization and operation of many state leagues and examples of their publications. The following excerpts from the letters of the respective directors of some of these leagues, and the printed material are worth pondering.

New Jersey

From the New Jersey State League of Municipalities, which is forty-five years old:

"Possibly the most important phase of the League's work is its legislative program. The voice of our member municipalities is expressed through a 50-man Legislative Committee appointed by the Executive Board and consisting of municipal officials from all over the state.

"The Executive Committee meets regularly while the Legislature is in session, studies and analyzes all bills affecting municipal government. Through the legislative bulletins, the League keeps its membership currently advised of the status of every bill that is of interest to the municipalities. This Committee drafts and sponsors legislation for the League, it advises members and committees of the Legislature of its approval or opposition to each bill and the reason therefor. It has been quite effective in presenting the municipal viewpoint to the Legislature and to the Governor."

California

In California, the League reports that it has been responsible for the great measure of home rule that exists there. "In the legislative field, the League has been directly responsible for programs which give the municipalities an extra amount of dollar assistance."

"In addition, there have been hundreds of measures enacted by the Legislature which give municipalities the authority and tools with which to provide a high standard of municipal services."

Texas

The Texas Municipal League was organized in 1913 and has a membership of 580 of the 850 cities and towns in the State. The Director regards the "inquiry service, research program, magazine, etc. . . . as of greatest value to the smaller community;" and, "the legislative program is of more dollar and cents value to the larger cities."

"Prior to the biennial session of the Texas Legislature, our League Legislative Committee meets to formulate a program for our cities and towns.

. . . The Texas Municipal League offers member cities and towns 10 basic services: inquiry service, bulletins, a magazine, newsletter, legislative assistance, field consultation, legal counsel, technical data, training schools and conferences."

Similar organizational structures and benefits are described in the replies from several other states.

Mayor's Christmas Greeting To The City Employees

The Season of Joy is upon us. Peace on earth to men of good will is heard throughout our beloved city, state, and nation.

With hushed awe we shall behold again a miracle—God's Gift to His people—the Babe of Bethlehem.

Sharing with me as you do the care of this community, may we all of us as His servants and servants to His people always have good will.

May His blessings fall on us and our families, not only in this Christmas time but forever and ever.

This is my Christmas prayer for you—for all of us in our family of workers: A happy and holy Christmas to you and all your loved ones.

In all cases, the compelling reason for their existence is that "The common problems and the need for co-operative solutions, create common ground on which city and town officials can stand."

In addition to presenting the municipal viewpoint before the legislature, the variety of specialized services offered by many leagues is impressive. A few examples of matters on which leagues have provided expert assistance are the following: Ordinance codification; codification of special assessment problems; charter writing; consulting services on utility rate cases and water problems; financial consulting services; annexation, zoning; group insurance programs; recruitment and training personnel; legal opinions; model ordinances; procedural manuals, et al.

Many of these problems are facing Massachusetts municipalities today.

Important to Massachusetts

It is significant that only four states have failed to set up a state league of municipalities. Massachusetts is numbered among this group of four states which have failed to adopt what is an effective vehicle in meeting common problems and in bringing these problems to the attention of the Legislature for equitable solution.

Although previous efforts made several years ago to organize a Massachusetts League of Municipalities were unsuccessful, this is no reason for not reviving interest in this matter. The achievements made in other states through such a vehicle of organization demonstrates that the cities and towns of Massachusetts are "missing a good bet" in failing to take this step.

Review of Problems

A review of the problems common to so many municipalities in this State, many of which have been the subject of Finance Commission reports and legislative petitions provides ample reason for endorsing the establishment of such an organization in this State. These include the following:

1. A fairer basis of financial assistance in the construction of school building. (Urged by the Finance Commission in 1959 and 1960.)

2. Penalty to be added to interest rate charged by the City on unpaid taxes, to bring Massachusetts in line with other states, and as a realistic recognition of current interest rates on borrowing. (Bill filed by Finance Commission in 1959.)

3. Providing for the elimination of temporary borrowing by a municipality by establishing a 3-payment plan for paying property taxes and thereby providing funds for the municipality early in the year. (Report by the Finance Commission in 1959-1960.)

4. A change in the basic method of assessing the M.T.A. deficit. (Proposed by the Finance Commission in 1948, 1958, and 1960.)

5. Recognition of the fact that the municipality has no control over rising administrative costs for public welfare programs nor for increasing costs of categorical assistance. (Finance Commission reports in 1958 and 1960.)

6. Creation of an M.D.C. Advisory Council, and establishment of a Metropolitan Planning Board. (Proposed by the Finance Commission in 1954.)

7. Recognition of the loss of valuation in municipalities by reason of state highways. (Finance Commission report in 1959.)

8. Recognition of the fact that the present formula which forms the basis for state distribution of state-shared taxes to the cities and towns falls far short of recognizing the respective administrative burdens of these municipalities and cannot be said to be a fair distribution of assistance in sharing the burden of government which has been visited upon municipalities with varying degrees of impact. An entirely new philosophy is needed.

These are a few of many problems which urgently call for a clearinghouse of information and a united front before the legislature.

Indeed, many of the proposals on your current legislative program involve matters which affect many municipalities and which would carry a greater impact if agreed upon by a number of municipalities. A Massachusetts League of Cities, providing a clearinghouse of information and a united legislative front would offer a potent driving force.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX

Organization and Financing of a League of Massachusetts Cities and Towns

There is already in existence a proposed program for a League of Massachusetts Cities and Towns, prepared by the American Municipal Association in 1957. This could well serve as a basis or point of departure for considering an actual league in Massachusetts.

Significant points found in this proposal include the following:

I. "A League of Massachusetts Cities and Towns can be formed without disrupting or replacing existing organizations. The Massachusetts Mayors Association and the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association and other state organizations of municipal officials may continue to function and operate as independent units, in the same manner as they have in the past if they so desire."

The following sequence of steps would be taken:

a. Adoption of a constitution and election of officers and executive committee.

b. A schedule of membership and service fees. (The proposal suggested a basic rate of 3¢ per capita with a minimum payment of $25 and a maximum of $10,000 by any municipality.)

"In order to establish an adequate revenue base, a dues schedule yielding a gross potential income of $127,000 (for the entire State) was suggested in the proposal. The largest cities in 12 states pay from $5,000 to $25,000 annually."

c. Appointment of executive director and professional staff.

II. "The inquiry service and clearinghouse function should be established as quickly as possible. . . . To be of permanent and convincing value, this service must be a full-time activity.

"The primary function undertaken by any league of municipalities should be that of serving as a clearinghouse for information about what cities are doing, how they are doing it, how problems are being solved, and how they are planning for their future.

"Every municipal official must be encouraged . . . to turn to the league for answers. . . ."

III. "Periodic visits, special trips, personal contacts—all will bring home to the city and town officials that the league is a tangible service organization, not just an address in some distant place. New and developing problems can be discovered. New ideas, new concepts, new approaches to municipal problems will become available to other cities and towns. . . . The field service provides a means of finding officials willing and able to assume the obligations of leadership."

IV. "A state league of municipalities represents a viewpoint which is in the public interest, namely, good government. The prestige and influence necessary for legislative achievement are directly related to a year-round, full-time service program. The legislative program should be created as soon as a full-time staff becomes available.

"One of the most significant services rendered by any league of municipalities is to bring the municipal viewpoint and the facts about municipal needs to the attention of state legislators. . . . All legislation must be analyzed, interpreted and studied for its effect on municipalities.

"The position of the league on specific legislation is determined by its member cities. . . . With a full-time staff available, a municipal official or city council need only call attention to a legislative problem and action can be immediately commenced to investigate and to determine whether the problem is of state-wide concern and should be part of the league's legislative program. . . . Only through the continuous and persistent cooperation of all the municipalities in a spirit of nonpartisanship, integrity, sincerity and fair play will the respect and confidence of the state legislators be achieved. But the league must speak for all of the municipalities in the state—small, medium and large—in an effective presentation of the public interest in municipal affairs."

V. "Of first priority should be the development of a program whereby the schools of government of the state universities and private universities are actively engaged in doing research for the league and cities and towns."

Boston Logical Location

VI. Boston would probably be the logical location for the Massachusetts League office.

VII. Assuming finances permit, the office should not be a part of the university which derives its income from the State Legislature. However, all the technical services provided by the universities and colleges should be utilized as extensively as possible.

VIII. "It is recommended that a municipal newsletter be published and special bulletins as needed."

IX. "One of the dominant characteristics of the 44 state leagues is their once-a-year conference lasting from 2 to 4 days, at which a state-wide program is adopted."

X. "Regular (regional) meetings held on a geographical basis should be organized as soon as possible. A close-knit organization will result.

" . . . The organization and holding of regular regional meetings in addition to the annual conference has proved to be an effective way to facilitate the exchange of ideas among city officials on a geographical basis. The district organization makes it possible to keep information circulating among the cities and towns and to maintain close contact with the league officers and headquarters. Thus, a true grass roots organization is created."

XI. "These (state and federal government) contacts are essential to league operations and must be developed rapidly. In conjunction with other associations and levels of government, many administrative accomplishments are made feasible.

"Legislative representation is not the only relationship in which a league must specialize at the state and federal levels. A league staff establishes and maintains personal contacts with state departments and agencies with full responsibility in municipal matters."

XII. "After the basic league services outlined above have been set in operation, the next fertile field is in providing in-service training for municipal officials.

" . . . Practically all of the state leagues of municipalities conduct training schools for public officials. Besides enabling public officials to advance professionally, the citizens of every city and town benefit by better service for each tax dollar spent."

XIII. "Establish special services as need develops on a self-supporting basis."

XIV. "Thirty-two state leagues publish magazines. This might be found desirable at a later date for the Massachusetts League."

BOSTON CREDIT RATING RANKS HIGH IN NATION

Boston's credit rating ranks favorably with that of any large city in the nation.

That, in brief, was the report to the City Council recently by City Treasurer James E. Gildea and City Auditor Joseph P. Lally.

Not only is the credit standing good, the report stated, but it has "improved considerably" over the past two years.

In the Bond Buyers Index, a financial publication on municipal bonds, the net average market interest cost of the securities of 20 major cities was 3.53 per cent on October 21. Boston at that time secured a $4.2 million loan at a net interest cost of 3.37 per cent.

The report pointed out that a municipality's credit standing generally can be "evaluated on the basis of the willingness of investors to buy its bonds and the price it must pay in the way of interest costs.

"We experience no difficulty in getting bidders for our bonds and notes, and they, in turn, experience no difficulty in marketing our bonds to the general investing public," the report concluded.

FIN. COM. BIDS CITY TO REORGANIZE ON TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT

December 27, 1960.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

The Finance Commission wishes to offer some pertinent observations in relation to the comprehensive study of street and traffic management in Boston which is to start in a few weeks. Inasmuch as the scope of this proposed study is to include such subjects, among others, as the present responsibilities of the various city departments in street and traffic management, on- and off-street parking, and regulation of traffic, the Finance Commission desires to state certain relevant convictions on these matters and commend certain studies and findings to the attention of the Automotive Safety Foundation which is making this study.

Organization for Off-Street Parking

In the first place, changes in the responsibility of two departments, as they relate to the off-street parking program, are called for.

The Finance Commission believes there are two fundamental aspects of off-street parking which belong within the scope of two different city departments. One aspect is the "Real Estate" phase, which is concerned with the acquisition, leasing, or sale of property. Such functions clearly fall within the scope of the Real Property Department.

The other phase is the "Engineering" or "Technical" aspect which is concerned with site selection, accessibility, relation to traffic pattern, demand, design of the parking facility, schedule of fees, determination of size of facility (more smaller units), etc.

Such matters reach beyond the proper scope and competence of the Real Property Board, which was originally set up to dispose of foreclosed property but which is, in addition, charged with responsibility for administering off-street parking, under chapter 474, Acts of 1946, as amended. These matters are properly the function of the Traffic Commission, and should be transferred to that department.

Present Statute Inadequate

As the law now stands, the Traffic Department is not brought closely enough into the selection of specific sites for off-street parking facilities.

Chapter 474, Acts of 1946, provides that proposed locations of off-street parking garages shall have the "approval of the Planning Board and the Traffic Commission," but this has always been taken to mean the "general area of location."

This shortcoming has been well described in the 1950 annual report of the Planning Board, when the latter agency was called to approve a general "location."

"Pursuant to chapter 474, section 1, of the Acts of 1946, the Board of Real Estate Commissioners, under date of April 24, 1950, referred to the Planning Board for its consideration the following selected areas previously determined by the Real Estate Commission as being in need of public off-street parking facilities:

1. The area bounded by Arlington and Dartmouth streets, Columbus avenue, and Newbury street.

2. The area bounded by Park Drive, Boylston street, Bay State road, Charlesgate West, Blandford, and Sherborn streets.

3. The area bounded by Congress, Union, Sudbury, Cambridge, Bowdoin, Beacon, School, and Water streets.

4. The area bounded by Causeway, Nashua, and Leverett streets.

"After due consideration, it was unanimously voted by the Planning Board on May 2, 1950, that the locations described above were formally approved, and notice to that effect was given to the Real Estate Commission.

"The Planning Board was reminded by this referral of a problem of statutory construction. On June 19, 1950, the Board requested the Corporation Counsel to review an earlier decision by a previous Counsel in the matter of proper interpretation of the word 'locations' in chapter 474, Acts of 1946. The act provides that the Real Estate Commission shall have 'power to acquire . . . and hold . . . property . . . except a leasehold estate . . . in such locations in the city as the board, with the approval of the planning board and the traffic commission . . . shall have determined require public off-street parking facilities.'

"The Real Estate Commission had so interpreted the law as to submit to the planning board general localities needing parking facilities and comprising many city blocks in each case, while withholding the exact locus of the proposed parking facility itself.

"In concurring with this view, the Corporation Counsel, under date of July 31, 1950, said,

"The Legislature directed that the City of Boston, "acting by the board of real estate commissioners of the city, shall forthwith proceed with the establishment of such off-street parking facilities in the city as the board may deem necessary." If "locations" were construed to mean "specific sites," the autonomy of the Board of Real Estate Commissioners would be markedly circumscribed, for its power to determine the size as well as the precise boundaries of a public off-street parking facility would be subject to the approval of the Planning Board and the Traffic Commission. If the legislature had intended such detailed approval, it would seem that it would have used plainer language to say so"

In other words, the full technical knowledge of the Planning Board and Traffic Commission is not brought to bear, under this law.

If it is conceded that the Traffic Commission should assume responsibility for specific site selection, certain statutory changes will be necessary.

In addition, if the other technical aspects of the off-street parking program (relation to traffic pattern, accessibility, design of the parking structure, schedule of fees, et al.) are to be handled by the Traffic Commission, suitable legal provisions will have to be designed.

This was the position of the Finance Commission in 1950 when the Commission recommended a departmental reorganization. At that time the Commission stated:

"The Real Estate Commission does not appear to be the proper agency to administer such a (off-street parking) program. Although real estate judgment is an element in the off-street parking problem, the larger elements are traffic engineering and planning, technical in character and requiring technical competency. The Real Estate Commission has no such technical staff."

As for the Planning Board, the latter has now been absorbed by the Boston Redevelopment Authority and apparently the former approval function passes to that body.

Need for an Off-Street Parking Location Program

The most recent off-street parking program for the Central Business area was prepared by the Planning Board six years ago. In view of the radical changes in land use, and traffic pattern expected to result from the several urban renewal and Government Center projects now in prospect, a new program integrated with these changes will be called for. Since the former Planning Board has been absorbed by the Boston Redevelopment Authority—which is the agency now handling all this renewal—the Automotive Safety Foundation could work with that agency in projecting future off-street parking requirements, and in cooperation with the Traffic Commission.

Schedule of Fees for Off-Street Parking

Another vital aspect of an off-street parking program is the schedule of fees charged to patrons for the privilege of parking.

The whole aim and purpose of the public off-street parking program in Boston is to provide short-time parking for the greatest number of patrons. Indeed, this is also the purpose of metered curb parking.

When the City decided to undertake this multimillion-dollar program of off-street parking garages, the avowed purpose was to enable as many autoists as possible to park for a short time while they transacted their respective business in the City; rapid turnover of space use was the objective. This contribution to the economic life of the City was the only justification for spending the huge sums involved.

To the extent that the schedule of fees promotes a rapid turnover of garage space, the program will be successful. To the extent these schedules encourage long-time or all-day parking, the program is unsuccessful. This is particularly true of the downtown or "inner ring" of garages.

The proposed study by the Automotive Safety Foundation should review the fee schedule now in operation in off-street parking on garages leased by the City to determine a proper fee policy.

The following schedule of maximum rates in these garages appears to lack the desirable sharp rise in fee for long-time parking charges necessary to discourage the all-day parker and encourage the short-time parker.

The City of New York has recently reviewed its fee schedule policy to the end that short-time parking and frequent turnover in garage space use will be maximized.

The New York Traffic Commission in its plans for a dozen garages in mid-town Manhattan contemplates a fee schedule which doubles the rate per hour after the first four hours. The schedule calls for 25 cents per hour for the first four hours, and 50 cents per hour thereafter.

Metered Parking

Another area of the traffic and parking question which should fall within the scope of the proposed study is that of metered parking. The Finance Commission, in a report dated September 21, 1960, has considered various phases of this question and commends this report to the attention of the group making the study.

Planning Board Reports

In addition to the above observations on matters which fall within the scope of the proposed Traffic survey by the Automotive Safety Foundation, the Finance Commission wishes to call attention to the various reports of the City Planning Board, an agency which has done continuous thinking on many questions relating to traffic and parking over the years and whose thinking may be useful in the proposed study. The following list notes some of the subjects analyzed by the Planning Board in recent years which are pertinent. The subject of the study and the year in which it was done are given here:

1946—A basic study of off-street parking for downtown Boston was made which analyzed the elements of parking demand, accessibility and economics. (Weighing the costs of acquisition, development, and operation against anticipated revenue.)

1947—A report outlining the need and desirability of developing a union motor truck terminal as a means of eliminating, to a large degree, one of the factors contributing to the City's traffic congestion.

1947—Plans to improve traffic conditions at approximately 20 locations which had been bottlenecks for many years. (Some of these plans have been carried out; some have not.)

1947—Report on Worcester Turnpike Traffic.

1947—Report on study of Belgrade avenue and elimination of traffic congestion in Roslindale square.

1948—Report on MTA terminal parking.

1948—Report on Blue Hill Avenue and Morton Street Intersection.

1953—Boylston Street Underpass.

Timeliness of this Survey

This proposed survey by the Automotive Safety Foundation represents a supreme opportunity for the City to clarify many issues and make a concerted attack on the critical and many-sided area of traffic and parking. It is expected that the project will start in two or three weeks and will take approximately six months to complete. The City's expenditure of $5,000 amounts to a token payment toward the full dollar value of the study, which is reported to be 15 times that amount.

The related problems of traffic and street management, and parking, have received limited treatment by various agencies heretofore. Indeed, changes in the highway system and traffic pattern have rendered obsolete many former solutions of these problems.

What is needed is a blueprint for the future which will set out in clear perspective: proper organization in this area, relationships and goals, and the steps to reach these goals. No comprehensive program embracing all the elements in this picture has ever been spelled out. This is the opportunity to produce such a program.

TRAFFIC RULING

Temporary

The Traffic Commission has voted as follows:

That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, the following regulation is effective for a period of sixty (60) days from December 20, 1960:

Whenever the Traffic Commissioner has declared that an emergency exists due to the covering or partial covering of any of the streets in the City of Boston by snow, sleet, or freezing rain and until said emergency is declared terminated by the Traffic Commissioner, no driver shall stand or park a vehicle in any of the major streets of the City of Boston as shown on a map of the Public Improvement Commission marked "Boston's Major Streets as Designated by the Public Improvement Commission, Shown in Red," dated March 1, 1960, nor in any street upon which there is operated a trackless trolley, public transportation bus, or streetcar.

MEDICAL BILLS BOOST NOVEMBER WELFARE COSTS

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department report for November, 1960:

¶ A new program known as "Medical Assistance to the Aged" (M.A.A.) was enacted on November 23, retroactive to October 1. This program is especially designed to meet the medical needs of persons 65 years of age or older. It utilizes a more liberal means test and removes lengthy residence requirements. To cities and towns, a more advantageous Federal and State Reimbursement formula is in effect.

¶ Departmental expenditures amounted to $3,178,719 for the month of November. This was an increase of $50,515 from the previous month and was caused by increased costs for medical care. The caseload, as of the end of the month, was 25,198, a rise of 47. Of the 1,107 applications serviced 865 were approved and 242 rejected or withdrawn.

¶ Old Age Assistance: The caseload showed a drop of 2,820 from the October report. There were 139 applications approved and 164 closings, the difference being represented by transfers to Medical Assistance to the Aged. The number of persons receiving Old Age Assistance was 12,958. They received $1,194,911 or an average of $92.21 for November.

¶ Aid to Dependent Children: There were 160 applications approved and 98 cases closed, a net increase of 62 cases. This represents one of the sharpest increases experienced in this category in quite some time. The number of families receiving assistance was 4,887 for 4,312 grantee relatives and 12,178 children. Expenditures totaled $812,282, an increase of $11,871 compared to the previous month.

¶ Disability Assistance: Increased expenditures for medical care occurred in this category and brought the cost up to $432,140. Services were supplied to 3,206 clients resulting in an average cost of $134.79 of which $69.06 was direct grant and $65.73 was paid to vendors. Of the 142 applications processed, 79 were approved and 63 rejected. Of this latter figure, more than half did not have the required medical eligibility.

¶ Medical Assistance to the Aged: Since this program was retroactive to October 1, the required statistical reports were revised in accordance with State Department directives. Actually, all Old Age Assistance cases being aided in nursing homes, chronic hospitals, and public medical institutions were transferred to this new program. During November there were 2,824 persons on whose behalf $552,104 was paid to medical vendors. An additional $18,272 went directly to 1,286 clients for personal care. The balance, 1,538 persons, were permitted to keep the first $15 of their other income for their own use in accordance with the law.

¶ General Relief: Expenditures amounted to $169,010, an average of $89.99 for each of the 1,878 cases aided during the month. There were 436 cases added and 430 closed, a net increase of 6. Unemployment was the primary cause for opening with estrangement as the secondary factor. There were 131 cases closed because the client returned to work and 114 cases transferred to other categories of assistance.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

December 20.

General Order No. 836.

Detective John F. Hames, detailed for duty in Division 6, is hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

On Saturday, November 5, 1960, William Birmingham, part owner and general manager of the White Fuel Corporation, South Boston, reported to Captain Dailey that over a period of months the company had been experiencing the theft of thousands of gallons of fuel oil from the depot at East First street. Believing that employees would have to be involved, as the thefts were apparently being accomplished by means of manipulating the registering meters on the pumps, private detectives had been hired to investigate. No results having been obtained, Mr. Birmingham stated he now desired the assistance of the police.

Detective Hames, assigned to investigate, went to the fuel depot that afternoon, as arranged, where during the daylight hours he kept the plant under surveillance but noted nothing of an unusual nature. About 10.25 p.m., he entered the office of the company and without the knowledge of or being observed by the security guards or other employees went to a third floor private dining room of the plant from which he could observe the fuel depot, with a view of the oil racks and pumps.

About 12.10 a.m. on November 6, 1960, Detective Hames with the use of binoculars observed two men mount the No. 1 oil rack. These were later identified as employees of the corporation, namely Arthur White, 44 years, married, 74 Freeman avenue, Everett, and Walter Hitchcock, 33 years, married, 589 East Fifth street, South Boston. White had a wrench in hand and both men worked on the meter. On leaving the oil rack they were met by another man, later identified as Frank Lehan, 54 years, married, 51 Foster street, Everett, also an employee, who had been standing in front of the fuel office, apparently acting as a lookout.

At 1 a.m., a tank truck, which later investigation revealed was being operated by John F. O'Connell, 32 years, married, 271 Windsor street, Cambridge, was driven into the depot and up to the No. 1 rack. The driver had conversation with White, Hitchcock, and Lehan, then went to the oil rack and filled his truck until the oil spilled over. This was done without following the prescribed procedure as explained to the officer, namely, procuring an oil ticket at the office, placing it in the meter for registering the reading, filling the truck and then registering the new reading on the ticket, which process is effected by operation of the meter handle. The truck was then driven from the depot at 1.15 a.m. White got a shovel and covered the spilled oil. About ten minutes later another tank truck was driven up to the No. 1 oil rack. It was later found to be owned and operated by Joseph M. Pizziferri, 24 years, married, 26 Barry street, Dorchester. This man went to the oil office, procured a ticket, placed it in the meter, filled his truck and removed the ticket. However, he failed to operate the meter handle during the process. He then talked with White and Hitchcock and drove from the depot, after which the latter two returned to oil rack No. 1 and again worked on the meter for about five minutes. Later investigation disclosed that no entry of these deliveries had been made in the oil office log, as required.

Detective Hames maintained further surveillance until 5 A.M., during which time several trucks entered the depot and were filled with oil at racks other than the No. 1 rack, in the normal manner. Further watch throughout the day and night, into the early morning of Monday, November 7, 1960, revealed no unusual or suspicious activity at the depot.

About 12.55 A.M., on Tuesday, November 8, 1960, on continuance of investigation and with instructions to make an arrest should he note any further suspicious activities, Detective Hames observed White and Hitchcock go up on the No. 1 oil rack and again work on the meter for about five minutes. An hour later, the above-mentioned Pizziferri, driving the same truck, entered the yard and proceeded to fill his truck by means of the irregular method described above. At this point, Detective Hames went immediately to the oil office and identified himself to White and Hitchcock as a police officer. He then inspected the meter at the No. 1 oil rack, found the wrench under the meter and no reading on the oil ticket.

Pizziferri and White were arrested on suspicion of larceny and brought to Station 6. Hitchcock, who had left the fuel depot, was arrested later. The three were interrogated at length and as a result of their admissions and implications, Lehan and O'Connell were arrested and questioned.

On evidence compiled during further intensive investigation and questioning, complaints were made in South Boston Court on November 22, 1960, as follows: Lehan, 7 for larceny and 3 for conspiracy to steal; Hitchcock, larceny, 11, conspiracy to steal, 3; White, larceny, 8 and conspiracy to steal, 3; O'Connell, 1 each, larceny and conspiracy to steal. All were held for the Grand Jury. Pizziferri, arraigned on 2 complaints of larceny and 1 of conspiracy to steal, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 6 months, House of Correction, on each, suspended for two years, with a fine of $50 on each count and ordered to make restitution on the two complaints of larceny.

Involved in the above larcenies were a total of 33,600 gallons of fuel oil, at a value of $3,360.

The Commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty of Detective John F. Hames in this investigation, many hours of which were conducted on the officer's own time, resulting in a speedy and successful solution of the crimes once they had been reported to the department.

General Order No. 839.

The reassignment of the following-named police officer is hereby ordered effective Wednesday, December 28, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Patrolman Francis A. Hoyt, from Division 3 to Central Complaint and Records Bureau.

December 23.

General Order No. 840.

Detective Edward T. Weiler and Patrolmen Phillip M. Coyne, John T. Dolan, and Joseph R. Goldrick, Division 17, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 1.55 P.M., Tuesday, December 13, 1960, the above officers responded to a radio call of a holdup at 346 Spring street, West Roxbury. On arrival they were informed by Irving Echler, manager of the White Liquor Store, that a short time earlier a man had entered the store, ordered a half pint of whiskey for which he paid $1.15, left the store and went out to a waiting car occupied by another man. The No. 1 man then returned, accompanied by No. 2 man who was carrying under a blanket an object which was later found to be a rifle. Echler attempted to close the door but the two forced their way into the store. The manager was ordered to open the cash register by No. 1 man who then emptied it, putting the bills into his pocket and demanding a paper bag into which he put the coins. He then removed from a shelf two bottles of whiskey. During this time No. 2 man kept the rifle aimed at Echler, told him not to call the police and said, "I want the dough for Christmas." The two then left the store, entered a Chevrolet sedan, registration unknown at the time, and fled the scene.

Detective Weiler and Patrolmen Coyne, Dolan, and Goldrick, in possession of these facts and descriptions of the bandits and the car, gave thought to the conditions of the area in the aftermath of a blizzard of the previous day. Many streets were unplowed; those plowed were heavily congested with traffic, almost at a standstill; only the main arteries were open and these were in hazardous condition. The officers decided on a course of action designed to cut off the flight of the armed men and after a series of short cuts taken to avoid the congested arteries approached a car answering the description of the one in question, going north toward Centre street. The driver, evidently becoming aware of the police vehicle and in an effort to escape, accelerated to a high rate of speed, despite existing road conditions, cut out of a line of traffic and made a right turn into La Grange street. For more than four miles the officers stayed in close pursuit, along La Grange street, across Washington street into Turtle Pond Parkway and left into Bald Knob road. After about another mile and a half the fleeing vehicle attempted to turn into Gordon avenue but veered to one side of the slippery roadway and became lodged in a snowbank. The occupants then attempted to evade capture by abandoning the vehicle and fleeing on foot, at which point the officers arrived on the scene.

Arrested at gunpoint on suspicion of armed robbery were one Leo J. Walsh, 29 years, of 43 Osceola street, Mattapan, and Gerald Brink, 28 years, 34 Business street, Hyde Park. An immediate search of the suspects was made by Detective Weiler. Walsh had in his possession $121 in bills and $21 in coins. Patrolman Dolan, searching the car, found the 30-30 caliber Marlin rifle used in the holdup, loaded and in a cocked position, with one round of ammunition in the chamber and five rounds in the magazine; a leather belt with eight rounds of 30-30 caliber ammunition; two bottles of liquor taken from the store; and the paper bag used to carry the coins. The Chevrolet had been stolen that day on Division 18. The prisoners admitted their part in this armed robbery. Brink has a record of 19 previous arrests and Walsh in June of this year had robbed two liquor stores in Mattapan.

On December 15, 1960, the prisoners were arraigned in West Roxbury District Court before Justice Daniel W. Casey. After hearing the evidence presented, he ordered them held for the grand jury and set bail at $5,000 double surety.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the excellent work performed by the above-named officers in this case. Due to the perseverance and devotion to duty which they displayed, despite the almost impassable road conditions following the blizzard of the day previous, they were successful in apprehending two desperate criminals who if permitted to continue in their life of crime could have resulted in serious injury or the possible murder of one of their victims.

Heating System Repairs

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

It was reported to me today that the heating system at Police Division 14 (Brighton), became inoperative due to the failure of the boiler. Examination disclosed that the apparatus which had been in continuous operation from 1931 could not be repaired.

Due to the emergency character of the situation, an order was given forthwith to F. C. O'Denweller, 316 Broadway, South Boston, to install one (1) H. B. Smith, 11 Section Boiler for the price of $3,200, plus labor at $5 per man per hour.

As immediate installation of a heating system was required because of the season, it was not possible to obtain competitive bids. Your concurrence in dispensing with advertising, pursuant to section 30 of the City Charter, is requested.

Very truly yours,

LEO J. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

December 7, 1960.
